THE SOCIAL WANDERER

DEAR ROAMER:

The principal topic of the week, aside from the inauguration has been RAIN. All day, every day, until we've almost forgotten just what the sun does look like. Similar to the continual downpour, luncheons, dinners, suppers, bridge parties, egg nogg parties, teas, and even showers, have had no cessation. On with the dance, is a subconscious thought as February 10 creeps nearer and nearer.

On Sunday afternoon, one of the most delightful parties of the winter season was held in Sudlersville, when Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stokes were hosts at an egg nogg party, which really christened their new game room, recently completed in the cellar of their home. And then on Monday the luncheons of the week, commenced. Mrs. Frank B. Hines entertained a few friends at luncheon in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Hal Curry, who is her house guest That same evening. Mrs. Curry was the guest of honor at a movie party, given by Miss Anne Smith and Miss Grace Wilkins.

Hospital Auxilliary Meets

Tuesday passed off with the hospital auxilliary meeting, at which time the ladies decided on a rummage sale to be held on Friday and Saturday, Jan. 29 and 30 at the old post-office building. All things will be received on Thursday, Jan. 28. I am putting this in right here, so that the boys may have a chance to lock up their treasured old hats and sweaters, before friend wife comes a-gathering. But fear ye not, for the sale will include furniture, all sorts of odds and ends besides clothes, so that it may be only your knife, or old pipe, or foot stool that may be for sale, and not the tie that you've worn too long for her eyes to gaze upon another day, nor that hat which to you is so perfect, nor ducking outfit so old and worn. But on the other hand, we wives must clear out, and it will help the hospital so much, that I for one, have in the solitude hours, made a nice pile heaping high.

Bridge Luncheons

But to continue with our luncheon dates. On Tuesday, Mrs. H. A. Grine entertained at a bridge luncheon at her home on Kent Circle. On Wednesday, again in pouring rain, a little band of twelve or more, treked over drenched highways once more to Sudlersville to a beautifully appointed luncheon, given by Mrs. Dudley G. Roe. The house and the 9 small tables at which luncheon was served, were decorated with yellow flowers, and amidst the warmth, cheer and many friends, the drizzle outside was temporarily forgotten.

On Friday, Mrs. Philip G. Wilmer was to have entertained at a bridge luncheon but was forced to postpone it owing to illness.

Supper Parties

On Friday, another party was held, but this was a bridge-supper, given by Mrs. Clarence Newcomb and Mrs. John E. Barnes at the home of Mrs. Newcomb on Front St.

On Saturday, today, Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Collins, Jr., will entertain a few friends at supper, prior to the basket-ball game. To-night's game promises to be another thriller, when Washington College and Loyola meet. If it's any more exciting than last Saturday though, I'm afraid they'll have to carry me home.

Shower For Newly Weds.

Last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bonwill were surprised when about fifty of their friends called at their home near Still Pond and showered them with gifts of various sorts. Takes us back to the old days, don't you think, and a custom that might well be revised.

Engagement Announced

June has been set as the wedding month of Miss Rose Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gordon, whose engagement to Mr. Benjamin Hyman, of Chicago has been made. Mr. Hyman is connected with the Northwestern Railroad.

Visiting Elsewhere

Mrs. Catherine Beck Jones has been the guest several days this week of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Higgins at their home in Wilmington. Mrs. Higgins was the former Miss Kitty Gundry.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Scott Beck will spend this week-end in Lansdowne, Pa., where they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson. Several parties have been planned in their honor.

Mr. Charles A. Wilson and Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Biltz were among those who attended the Pennsylvania Farm Products Show this week in Harrisburg, Pa.

Messrs. William S. Collins, W. B. Usilton, III, and Ridgley T. Brown spent last week-end in New York City.

Mr. H. T. Jewell visited his son and daughter in Philadelphia and Palmyra, N. J., respectively, last week-end.

Mr. Marion Dixon and Miss Genevieve Dixon who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nesbit Trenchard in Baltimore for a week, have returned to their home here.

Among those who attended the Inauguration in Washington were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee and Tommy Massey, son of Mrs. Thomas Massey, the latter, being a guest of his cousin, Miss Dorothy Massey.

Dr. and Mrs. J. S. William Jones attended the annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges which was held in Washington, at the Mayflower Hotel, January 14th and 15th. While in the city they were guests of the Washington Alumni Chapter at a luncheon given by the chapter at Hotel Washington.

Week-End Guests

Last week-end, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Beck, fo Baltimore, were guests of Mr. Horace Beck and Mrs Catharine Beck Jones.

Those away at school, returning to spend the week-end with their parents included Jimmy Metcalfe and Eddie Johnson from McDonough, and Charles Dole, of Drexel Institute Philadelphia.

Miss Willa Newnam, a teacher at Felton, Del., was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Newnam on Washington Ave.

Mr. Charles Hopper, of Baltimore, has been the guest this week at the home of Mrs. R. H. Collins, Sr.

Anniversaries Celebrated

On Tuesday of this week, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Reiche celebrated the 49th anniversary of their marriage, while on the same day, Mr. and Mrs. Earle A. Barnes were congratulated on their 30th wedding anniversary.

Culp Home Rented

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. MacGregor and family, of Worton Point, have leased for the winter months the house of Mrs. Frances Culp, on Washing Ave.

Illness Continues

Accidents seem to be stalking in the path of the little children, as the dreaded grippe plays havoc with the adults.

Little Jean Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Heighe Hill, fell from a pony last Saturday afternoon with a result of several broken teeth.

Little David Massey, son of Mr. Thomas Massey, has his right arm in splints resulting from a break received while playing last Saturday.

Little Jane Kibler is a patient at the Kent and Queen Anne's Hospital where her injuries, resulting from her fall from an automobile two weeks ago, are being cared for. Mrs. Thomas Kibler is also a patient at the hospital suffering a slight attack of erysipelas. Jack Kibler is recovering from an attack of grippe.

Mr. Browne Metcalfe who has been confined to his home this week with grippe is recovering rapidly.

Mrs. Philip G. Wilmer is suffering with the same malady which attacked her on Thursday morning.

Miss Margaret Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Cooper, was taken on Monday to the Church Home and Infirmary, Baltimore, for observation and treatment.

Mrs. Alice Deringer who has been quite ill at her home here, is greatly improved at this writing.

Misses Margaret and Hannah Bell are both confined to their homes with grippe and tonsilitis.

Once again, I'm wishing the speedy recovery in the near future of all our friends, and in the meantime it behooves the rest of us to watch our Ps and Qs.

Yours for vigilance,

THE WANDERER

Moffett—Horner Wedding

Miss Christine Moffett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Moffett, of Rock Hall, was married to Mr. D. W. Horner, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Horner, of Cambridge, last Thursday evening. The ceremony took place at the Baptist parsonage in Cambridge with the Rev. James O. Reynolds officiating.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horner, the groom's parents.

The bride is a registered nurse, having graduated with highest honors at the Easton Emergency Hospital a year ago. She has been engaged in work at the hospital since that time. Mr. Horner is in the produce business in Easton and there the young couple will reside.

Single Wool Fiber Can Be Extended 70 Per Cent

Wool is a perfectly elastic material. It is unique in this characteristic. No matter how much it is stretched without breaking it will, under ordinary circumstances, return to its original length, reveals an authority in the Philadelphia Inquirer. A single wool fiber, if kept wet and stretched slowly, can be extended by 70 per cent of its original length without breaking and when the stretching force is released it will return exactly to its former length.

Wool fibers are fine and light in weight. The diameter of a fine wool fiber of 90s quality is about one two-thousandth of an inch. The weight of such a fiber, six inches long, would be less than a millionth of an ounce. In fact, if 90s quality fibers were placed end to end for one mile the total weight would only be a hundredth of an ounce. Therefore, one ounce of wool fiber of 90s quality would measure 100 miles in length.

The heat retaining power of clothing is a factor of great importance in every climate. Wool has the lowest conductivity of any fabric, and therefore will retain heat in a warm body which it covers for the longest time. Wool is a bad conductor of heat. As wool prevents the body warmth from escaping, it obviously will not allow the cold to penetrate the body. Wool is twice as slow as cotton in increasing its conductivity due to moisture and will retain heat better even when getting wet.

When Romans Used Taxis and Measured the Miles

When Pertinax, on December 31, A. D. 192, succeeded Commodus as emperor of Rome, he held an auction of the effects of his murdered predecessor.

In an inventory of the goods we read—"Carriages which have contrivances to measure the distance over which they are driven to count the hours spent in the journey"—the first mention of taximeters, says a writer in Answers Magazine.

What the contrivance was we can't tell, for the next mention of anything of the kind is in 1652, attributed to a member of the Royal society and known as a "chariot way-wiser" — waywiser, from the German wegweiser, guide or indicator. It is described as having "three circles, one pointing to the number of rods, another to the miles —very pretty and useful."

Later, in 1846, an engineer at Putney, Von Uster, patented a meter which, though crude, was very similar in principle to our own.

Anyhow, the fact remains that 2,000 years ago the poor passenger felt the need for the protection of a taximeter.

The Curves mean so much in the GRUEN
CURVEX

A radically new principle in watch construction is used in the Gruen CURVEX. Its handsome case is curved to fit your wrist, but more important, its 17 jewel Precision movement is actually curved to fit the case. This permits of full size, sturdy working parts . . . makes possible a sleek, wrist-form watch of uncanny accuracy. The CURVEX principle is exclusively Gruen.

To be sure of obtaining the genuine CURVEX, look for the name "GRUEN" on the dial.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.
