NEXT WEEKS MOVIES

As a result of hundreds of fan letters received by the studio, Sylvia Sidney and Henry Fonda, the screen sweethearts of "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," will be seen together again in "You Only Live One," the new Walter Wanger production which comes to the New Lyceum on Monday and Tuesday, March 22 and 23.

"You Only Live Once," Wanger's first production for release through United Artists, is the starkly human drama of a woman whose boundless faith of a woman whose boundless faith in the man she loved made her stick to him though the hand of every man was against him and he was hounded to the ends of the earth like a hunted animal.

GREAT CAST

Barton MacLane, Jeon Dixon, William Gargan and the late Charles "Chic" Sale are featured in the stars' support, while other important roles are played by Warren Hymer, Margarert Hamilton, Guinn Williams, Jerome Cowan and John Wray.

The story is an original from the pens of Gene Towne and Graham Baker and was directed by Fritz Lang, who directed the unforgettable "Furry," "M," "Metropolis," and other films which made film history.

Leon Shamroy is credited with the impressive photography and Alexander Toluboff designed the sets.

"Ready, Willing and Able," a comedy with music made by Warner Bros. from the Richard Macaulay story of the same name that ran in a national weekly magazine last year, will be presented as the feature attraction of the New Lyceum Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, March 24 and 25.

Co-starred are the twinkling-toed Ruby Keeler, and the famous young eccentric dancer Lee Dixon. The songs are by Johnny Mercer and Richard Whiting, and one especially —"Too Marvelous for Words"— promises to be a nation wide hit.

The delighful Louise Fazenda has an eccentric role well fitted to her talents as a comedienne and torch singerr, Winifred Shaw is cast as a British musical comedy star. Other notables in the cast are Allen Jenkins, Carol Hughes, Hugh O'Connell, Teddy Hart, Addison Richards, Ross Alexander, Shaw and Lee, the "piano movers" from vaudeville, E. E. Clive and Jane Wyman.

Something altogether new in the way of a "number" is a type-writer 30 feet high, on the keys of which dancing girls spell out a love-letter dictated to them by Alexander. The girls were direceted by Bobby Connelly. The story part of the picture was guided by Ray Enright.

"Ready, Willing and Able" is said to have a much more substantial and coherent story than most musical films have. It was adapted for the screen by Jerry Wald, Sig Herzig and Warren Duff, and is one of the Warner's most pretentious offerings for 1937.
