THE SOCIAL WANDERER

DEAR ROAMER:

Daffodils, new Easter bonnets, birds-a-singing, all enough for a poet to keep his pen active in a season that at last is upon us. How we've waited for that "Spring not far behind." But Spring is here, officially and otherwise and all in the same week cometh Easter. Therefore, let joy be unconfined. The solemn services of Good Friday are over, and on the morrow the girls will be bedecked anew, flowers on the shoulder, churches packed, bare altars for forty days, banked with lilies, all proclaiming the happiest season of the year.

At the Country Club to-morrow afternoon there will be the first of the Sunday afternoon teas. Mrs. S. Scott Beck will be the hostess, assisted by Mrs. H. Clay Brown and Mrs. Richard H. Collins, Jr. And then on Monday night will be the Easter dance I wrote you about last week, which will mark the opening of the Spring social season. Music will be furnished by the Philadelphia orchestra which played at the Christmas holiday dances.

Guests For Easter

All the regular home comers will be here in addition to the school crowd. Among these will be several from New York who includes: Mr. James L. Bacchus, who will visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bacchus, Mr. James Johns, Jr., to be a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Johns, Miss Margaret Atkinson and her brother, Mr. Robert Atkinson who will bring three guests with them and visit at Piney Grove, the home of their uncle and aunts, Captain Ned and the Misses Emory.

From Sag Harbor, L. I., came Miss Harriette Welch to visit her aunts, Mrs. Etta Fountain and Mrs. Herbert Skipper.

Miss Hester Stevens accompanied Miss Welch, and is her guest while here.

Miss Elizabeth Thibodeau, who is enrolled in the Special Course for College Women at the Katharine Gibbs School in New York City, is spending her spring vacation at home.

From Washington, will be Miss Helen Simpers, to be a guest of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Simpers.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Gilpin Brown, of Cynwyd, Pa., came Thursday to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. James G. Beck.

Mrs. Thomas Davis and her two children from Salisbury came on Wednesday to visit her father, Mr. Walter Lusby and Mrs. Lusby for the holidays.

I am sorry I failed to mention Eddie Johnson last week with the McDonogh boys, but I wasn't sure whether he would be in this section or not for Easter, but he is, and so welcome home, Eddie.

Mrs. Lewin W. Wickes will have a large family gathering for Easter which will include Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Atherton and children, of GKermantown, Pa., the Partridge family from Washington, Mrs. Berta Lutherland, Mrs. Wickes's sister from Riverton, N. J., and her son, Lewin Wickes, Jr., of Eastno, Pa.

There'll probably be lots more who will arrive that I do not know about now, so I will keep on my "specs" and tell you next week.

On Monday evening they will attend the opening performance of the Metropolitan Opera season in Baltimore at the Lyric at which time "Lohengrin" will be sung. Don't you envy them?

And now maidens fair, dear little old ladies too, young swains true and knights of old, one and all, may the skies be bright for you, and the joy and peace of Eastertide abide in your hearts.

Ever yours,

THE WANDERER
