FERRY SERVICE AT TOLCHESTER EXPECTED SOON

Work Started This Week On Conditioning Grounds

Mr. Frank Wheatley with a crew of men started work at Tolchester on Monday conditioning the grounds and wharf in preparation for an expected ferry service to start soon.

The sale of the Tolchester property to the Wilson Line last fall by a bond holders committee was protested by a group of the bond holders. The case was heard in the Baltimore City Courts and the sale was up held. The case was then taken to the Maryland Court of Appeals who reversed the lower Court, thereby turning the property back to the bond holders. It is understood that the bond holders expect to start ferry service across the bay at an early date. It was further understood that the Wilson Line, had it been successful in purchasing the property, were planning to use it for excursion purposes only and did not plan a ferry service.

FISHERMEN URGED TO ORGANIZE AT MEETING HERE

$1,000,000 Federal Appropriation Made To Stabalize Price of Fish

Since the Agricultural Adjustment Act first went into effect for the purpos of stabilizing the price of Agricultural products, fishermen have been wondering why some Federal program was not put into effect to aid in stabilizing their industry.

A recent act of Congress appropriated $1,000,000 for the purpose of buying surplus fish for use of those families on relief which should materially aid in preventing the seasonal glutted fish markets. Unlike the agricultural grain products which can be kept over a period of time the fresh fish products must be consumed within a comparatively few hours from the time they are caught unless they are packed or salted down. It is understood that the government will pack or salt the product to be used for relief purposes which should materially relieve the seasonal surplus.

The lack of organization on the part of watermen is said to be largely responsible for the delay in Federal Aid to that industry.

A report of a meeting of the Rock Hall Waterman's Protective Association held in that town last Saturday night brought out this fact as follows:

Harold F. Turner, chairman of the Eastern Fisheries Association, told Kent county watermen at a meeting in Firemen's Hall here that if they expected their industry to make real progress they must learn to organize.

Turner said that the fishing industry long had appeared to him as a lot of detached groups lacking anything E. Hungerford, State director for the general good. He told of recent moves toward organization and cited work being done by Dr. Vadim Vladykov at the Chesapeake Biological Laboratory at Solomons Island as one of the results.

Dr. Vladykov, Dr. R. V. Truitt, director of the laboratory, and Arthur E. Hungerford, Sttae director for the National Emergency Council, also addressed the County Watermen's Association.

"You will recall," Turner said, "the conference in Baltimore on January 17, 1935, that produced a unanimous agreement among all factions to put a bill through your Legislature appropriating funds for research tending toward the reestablishment of active spawning areas for rock and shad. Now the very presence here of Dr. Vladykov attests to the effective work that was done. You came from behind your curtain of isolation and joined forces with others and you got results."

"If every man will cooperate with every other man, if your organization will make earnest effort to cooperate with other organizations in the Maryland fisheries, and the Maryland groups will cooperate with the other States through the national association, you will have let loose a force which can work wonders for the fishing business well inside of the next three years."

As another sample of what united effort will do, Turner pointed to a Congressional act appropriating $1,000,000 for the purchase of fish by the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation.

CAST SELECTED FOR FIRE COMPANY MUSICAL COMEDY

Wheeler Production To Be Staged May 5, 6, 7

Rehearsals for "Wild Oats", Chestertown's big local show, which is to be presented in the old Lyceum Theatre on May 5, 6, 7 as a benefit for the local fire company, started on Tuesday evening. The show is being sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary and the active firemen, and is being coached by the well known and popular Wheeler Producing Company, who have staged many successful shows here in past years. Mrs. Wheeler is to have personal charge of activities which guarantees another high class and artistic performance.

At the organization meeting on Tuesday night Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler were present, explained the show in detail and selected the people for the numerous parts, dance and chorus numbers who are to take part in the big fun and novelty show. The cast will include over 100 people selected from among the best talent in Chestertown and vicinity.

"Wild Oats", the Wheeler's offering this year, is one of the latest musical comedy successes in three fast action and hilariously funny acts, the action being interspersed with a variety of attractively costumed and artistically staged singing and dancing chorus numbers, solos, duets, and ensembles, the music being of the latest popular variety.

The children, who are always a feature with the Wheeler shows, are again to have a prominent part, a large number of the youngsters taking part in a beautifully costumed pageant which is to preceed the regular performance as an added attraction, and "Wild Oats" gives promise of being the most pretentious of any of the previous shows presented here by these deans of the amateur producing field.

A partial list of the cast includes: Messrs. John Martin, Allan Stradley, Vernon Kirby, Conlyn Noland, Philip Sewell, John Farr, Miss Marie Bryan, Miss Emily Jewell, Miss Lucille Rasin, Mrs. John Speicher and Mrs. Richard H. Collins, Jr.

Included in the production will be a pageant for the Kiddies and a Shirley Temple contest.

A Tribute To A Former Kent Woman

Our departed sister, Jane Lula (Copper) Hagen, daughter of John and Rachel Copper, was born in Hanesville, Kent County, Maryland, on January 25th, 1869, and was united in marriage with Rev. Ernest Smyser Hagen at Lynch, Maryland, on June 27th, 1889. The fruit of this union was, two sons and two daughters, all of whom with her husband survive as, well as seven grandchildren. After a prolonged illness, accompanied with much suffering, she was permitted to enter into the rest that remaineth for the children of God on Thursday, April 15th, 1937, age 68 years, 2 months and 20 days. With her husband she served with exemplary conscientiousness, in a number of pastorates requiring unusual self-sacrifice.

Her husband was elected President of the Executive Board of the Eastern District of the Northern Province of the Moravian Church in America, of which he has been a member since 1917, and by virtue of that office he became a member of the Provincial Elders Conference, the Executive Board of the Northern Province of the Morarian Church, which necessitated his relinquishing his pastorate and removing to Bethlehem, Pa., where Rev. and Mrs. Hagen have lived ever since.

It will hardly be in order to speak of Mrs. Hague's personal virtues beyond mentioning her outstanding devotion and love as, wife and mother, Her natural kindheartedness led her to be ever ready to help and minister unto those who needed her sympathy and support which she did to countless members of the various parishes.

A short service was held at her home in Bethlehem, Pa., at 9 a. m. with the funeral rites at the Moravian Church, Lititz, Pa., 3 p. m., April 20, interment in Lititz Moravian cemetery.

Also surviving Mrs. Hagen are one brother, J. William Copper, of Wilmington, Del., and three nieces, Mrs. Rachel E. Crowding, Mrs. Wm. T. Northamer, of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. Ralph P. Williams, of Worton, Kent County, Md.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK AT MEETING

Was Guest Speaker At Galena And Still Pond This Week

The Rev. Floyd Shacklock, missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church to Japan, where he is the missionary head of the noted To-O-Gi-Juku, a Methodist boys' school in Hirosaki, was the guest-speaker in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Galena, on Thursday evening, April 22, Rev. Walter G. Barlow, pastor. On Friday evening, April 23, he spoke in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Still Pond, Rev. R. W. Hallman pastor, and on Monday evening, April 26, he will be at the Methodist Episcopal Church Rock Hall, Rev. Charles Louhoff, Jr., pastor. Mr. Shacklock is now on a year's furlough in America, expecting soon to return to his service in Japan.

He first went to Japan in 1920, and was in charge of the Methodist Publishing House in Tokyo. After mastering the language, he was assigned as a teacher to To-O-Gi-Juku in Hirosaki, North Japan.

After a stay of three years in the United Stats, as one of the secretaries of the Student Volunteer Movement, he returned to the Hirosaki school in 1929. Of this famous institution, established in 1797 as a military school by the feudal lord of Hirosaki, Mr. Shacklock says:

"After Japan opened her doors to western nations, there arose a demand for western learning, and a new depratment opened in the old school. Western geography and history, mathematics and science, and English language were taught. Four years later John Ing, a Methodist missionary, was invited to teach in the school. After six months he had organized a Sunday School, and within a year a church was organized with a score of students as charter members.

A real treat will be given to the congregation of Calvary M. E. Church in Sudlersville on Sunday morning when Dr. Floyd Shacklock, who has charge of a large school in the northern part of Japan will deliver the message of the hour.

Dr. Shacklock is one of the most interesting missionaries of the Methodist Church. He is spending a little vacation in the United States preparatory to returning to Japan within two or three months. He is bringing with him some articles of interest which we shall all be delighted to see. Dr. Shacklock has a very winning personality and is never forgotten by those who once meet him.

We are indebted to Dr. H. C. Hallman, District Superintendent of the Dover District for this privilege of a visit by Dr. Shacklock. Dr. Hallman holds a very important position on the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Mr. Shacklock will also be at the Chestertown M. E. Church, Sunday evening, April 25th and at the Fairlee M. E. Church on Tuesday evening, April 27th.

Washington College Wins Four Ball Games—Hopkins Here Today

With four straight wins to their credit the Washington College base ball team is showing great promise for a very successful season.

With most of last year's murder's row lost by graduation, Coach J. T. Kibler has developed a very creditable nine. Junietta College was an easy victim on Tuesday with Ed Evans on the mound and on Thursday, Copple, a freshman, held Loyola to one run while his team scored 13 runs in seven innings when the game was called.

Hopkins will play here today, Saturday and home games next week include West Chester Teachers on Wednesday and Mt. St. Mary's on Saturday.

Will Sell Personalty

Mr. Wayne Johnson, who recently purchased the Catlin estate will sell at public sale on Monday 32 cows and 12 horses together with other farm personalty. Mr. Johnson will establish a new herd of cattle and large work horses.

The sale will be held on the Arnold Willis farm near Worton at 1 p. m.

Another Waterfront Farm Sold Here

The sale of "Forest Dean", located on Comegy's Bight on Chester River was reported this week. This property, owned by Mr. Cornelius Brown, was sold to Mr. Frederick Keller Brown, of Annapolis. Mr. Brown is a member of the faculty of St. Johns College. The sale was made by Mr. Clark Grieb, local realtor.

GRAND JURY URGES BAN ON SUNDAY LIQUOR SALES

C. N. Satterfield Named Jury Foreman

Judge Thomas Keating

Judge Owen Knotts

The Grand Jury, of which Mr. C. N. Satterfield was foreman finished their investigations Tuesday afternoon and among their recommendations were more rigid enforcement of the liquor laws particularly in reference to the sale in unlicnsed places and the sale to minors. The Grand Jury also recommended that propr legislation be passed that would prohibit the sale of all intoxicating liquors on Sunday. The present law permits the sale of beer on Sundays in beer taverns and restaurants.

The members of the Grand Jury are:

Charles N. Satterfield, foreman, Harry S. Dempsey, Ralph E. Miller, Harvey E. Smith, L. Bates Russell, Jr., Preston J. Shallcross, Charles H. Skirven, I. Price Ewing, Robert M. Logan, Harry D. Hendrickson, George E. Bramble, A. Sydney Turner, Charles H. Hudson, Albert B. Groves, Edward M. Wilkins, Norman E. Ford, Edgar R. Pennington, Clarence Newsome, Thomas W. Eliason, Joseph D. Hynson, Clifford M. Newsome, Elwood P. Vansant, W. Holt Woodall.

The report of the Grand Jury follows:

Chestertown, Maryland
April, 1937

To the Honorable Judges of the Circuit Court for Kent County State of Maryland, April Term 1937.

We, the Grand Jurors of Kent County have solemnly considered all cases brought before us from the magistrates and officers of Kent county. We have diligently considered the evidences as presented by 43 witnesses, and, on the face of this testimony have found 16 presentments and 16 true bills.

In addition to these cases submitted from the Magistrates and officers, we have interviewed the Sheriff and Deputies of Kent County and the various town officers regarding the state of the county in reference to general law and order. Our investigations have disclosed that there is much disorder in the various sections of the county in places where beer and liquors are dispensed. It is reported there are placs in Kent county where intoxicating liquor is being sold by places that do not have a proper license. We are informed that beer is being sold by some dispensers to prsons of both sexes not of legal age. The attention of some of the proprietors of these places has been called to this practice by some of the officers of the law. We recommend the enforcement of the present laws affecting the selling of all intoxicating liquors.

We recommend the proper legislation that would close all places dispensing intoxicating liquors on Sundays.

Our investigations show there is much larceny of poultry and farm products and we recommend the cooperation of our ciitzens with the officers of the law in trying to bring to justice those who are guilty.

We call further attention to the continued practice of some dealers in buying these stolen goods. We recommend htat the officers of the law use all means at their command to end this traffic.

In our examination of the jail we notice that improvements recommended by former grand inquest have not been made. We heartily concur in the recommendation previously made for repairs at the pjail and urge that the wooden floor be replaced at once with concrete and that an inexpensive shower bath be installed on the first floor.

We wish to express our appreciation to the Court, Clerk of the Circuit Court and his deputy, Sheriff, State's Attorney and all other officers for their courtesy in assisting us in our duty.

Charles N. Satterfield, Foreman.
L. Bates Russell, Jr., Secretary.
A. Sydney Turner, Jr., Ass't Secretary

LOCAL MERCHANTS PROTEST SALES AND RECEIPTS TAX

Legislature Considering Additional Tax For State Relief Funds

Kent County merchants, together with merchants from all parts of the State, assembled at Annapolis on Thursday in protest against any effort being made to pass a sales or gross receipts tax bill at the special session of the Legislature which convened at Annapolis that day. They are supported by Senator Arthur Brice and Delegates Roy Strong and Wilbur R. Hubbard who stated that they are opposed to any form of sales tax or an increase in the State ta on real estate.

At the opening of the session it was very apparent that the first action would be to determine definitely the amount of money needed for relief. On this subject the county representatives were apparently determined to fix this amount at between five and five and a half million with the Baltimore City delegation determined to increase this amount by one million. A probable additional tax that was being considered at the opening of the session was a tax on utilities. Numerous luxury taxes were also being considered.

Indictments were brought against Ernest Flemor for breaking into a store house; Robert Penn for breaking into a dwelling; Hulbert Townsend for keeping a gambling table; William Johnson for forgery, three counts; Godfrey Ricketts for forgery, three counts; Bernard Smith for bastardy; Thomas Mogul for non-support of children; Micael Ianneo for non-support for wife and child; Roosevelt Maith for murder; Coronaus Holland for bigamy; Raymond Wilmore for forgery; Walter Renfro for forgery.

The Petit Jury was discharged on Monday until Thursday during which time the Grand Jury finished its investigation.

Petit jurymen are: G. Lloyd Kennedy, Harvey B. Moore, James G. Metcalfe, William C. Francis, J. Frank Leaverton, A. Leon Brown, Emory H. Camp, James H. Groves, W. Sutton Tarbutton, R. H. Collins, Jr., J. Abner Bryden, William M. Shriley, William H. Toulson, James F. Hurtt, Nicholas V. Walters, Ernest D. Briscoe, David B. Ford, Percy M. Hepbron, W. Leo Gale, Howard Toulson, William B. Usilton, 3rd, A. Carroll Willson, William D. LeCates, Roy Mitchell, Arnold Bryden.

The first case taken up Thursday morning was State vs. Frederick Hoffman, charged with driving under the influence of liquor, no driver's license and reckless driving. This case was appealed from Judge Hicks' Court in Galena and was the result on an automobile accident near that town last October. The verdict in the lower court was guilty and sentence was six months. The trial Thursday was before the Jury and verdict was guilty of driving under the influence of liquor, guilty of driving without driver's license, not guilty of reckless driving. Sentence had not been imposed at the time of going to press.

The case of State vs. Raymond Shaffer charged with the same offense as Hoffman. Shaffer was in the car with Hoffman and drove the car into Galena following the accident. The verdict in Judge Hicks' Court was guilty and sentence was 6 months. Verdict in the Circuit Court was not guilty on all three counts. Stephen R. Collins represented the State in both cases and William Medders the defendants.

Ernest Comegys, colored, was found guilty of assault upon Officer Bennett and sentenced to 12 months in the House of Correction. Comegys has a record of a number of convictions for disorderly conduct. He appealed the case from Judge Jewell's Court where he was given the same sentence. Thomas Lee, colored, charged with assault upon Officer White was also given the same sentence. Lee also had a criminal record. Neither of the men were represented by Counsel. Trial was before the Court.

Clara Lindsey, colored, was sentenced to 4 months in the House of Correction for assault upon Officer White. Appeal was made from Judge Jewell's Court where she was sentenced to 3 months.

Raymond Wilmore, 18 year old colored boy plead guilty to forgery in which he raised a check from $4 to $14 and cashed it at the store of Earl Thompson at Still Pond. The check was signed by Mr. James Plant of the Ericsson Transfer Company. Both Mr. Henry Plant and Mr. James Plant stated that they would be reemply the boy and recommended that he be parolled in their custody. Sentence had not been imposed at the time of going to press. Stephn R. Collins for State and Harrison W. Vickers for Wilmore.
