THE SOCIAL WANDERER

DEAR ROAMER:

Another week gone and where, I don't know. Most of mine and a great many others' have been sowing "Wild Oats". But now that's over and we turn our thoughts and directions toward Chestertown Day, on May 22. Please start digging in your old trunks and don your grandmother's, great uncle's or some ancestor's finery to wear that day. The committee is anxious to have as many dressed in colonial garb as possible, not just hostesses in the open homes, but everyone. So, if you go shopping that day, or out of the house even, be dressed in the spirit of the day.

Over last week-end, there was much informal entertaining, specially among those who have country places. On Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Miller entertained a number of friends in the late afternoon at their home, Hinchingham, and on Sunday afternoon Mrs. Frances M. Young, and Mrs. William T. Dixon were hostesses at their respective homes to friends.

The monthly meeting of "Our Garden Club" will be held on Tuesday afternoon at which time Mrs. Morris K .Barroll will be the hostess. Mr. A. E. Nichols, of Iris Farms, Frazier, Pa., is scheduled to talk on iris.

Little Connie Mae LeCates celebrated her 4th birthday on Tuesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland LeCates, by having a party for a number of her little friends. After games, refreshments were served.

Birthdays are plentiful in May, and another such celebration was given on Wednesday evening by Dr. and Mrs. Julian Corrington, who entertained at a dinner party in honor of Dr. Gilbert W. Mead's (?) birthday. Dr. and Mrs. Mead left on Thursday for Washington, D. C., where they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mead until Sunday. Dr. Mead will attend the American Council on Education being the Representative of the Association of American Colleges on the Council, having been elected their representative for a term of three years at their recent meeting. On Saturday afternoon Dr. Mead will preside at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Kappa Phi Kappa Professional Educational Fraternity of which he is national president.

Mr. George Maxwell is visiting at Tarrytown, N. Y., over the week-end. On Friday, he attended a reunion of the former members of the testing and experimental departments of the old Maxwell Motor Company. On this occasion he represented his father, Mr. Jessie D. Maxwell who is undergoing treatment at the local hospital. His grandfather, the late Mr. Jonathan D. Maxwell, organized and managed the Maxwell company before coming to Kent County.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Eliason and family left yesterday to attend the Wilson College May Day celebration over the week-end. Their daughter, Miss Mary Margaret Eliason will graduate at Wilson in June.

Mayor Philip G. Wilmer flew to Detroit yesterday and will return with a new Lincoln Zephyr today. This was necessary due to the popular demand being greater than the accommodation from Philadelphia could supply.

Miss Dorothy Woodall, Worthy Matron of Chestertown Chapter No. 86 O. E. S. was a delegate from her Chapter to the Grand Chapter Session of Md. which was held in the Lord Baltimore Hotel, April 26, 27 and 28th. Mrs. Laurence Brown also attended the convention from Tuesday until Thursday.

Mrs. Louise B. Dutcher was called to New York on Tuesday due to the death of her father. Her shop will be closed until May 10th.

Mrs. Barber R. Bartley, with her young daughter, Elaine, returned to her home this week from the Kent and Queen Anne's Hospital.

Mr. Henry A. Kratzer, of Pomona, has entered a sanitarium near Baltimore for treatment. During his absence, Mrs. Kratzer will conduct his insurance business.

Mrs. Rolph Townshend is ill at the Union Memorial Hospital, Baltimore, and will undergo an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Hynson Rogers, Miss Harriette Louisa Rogers, and Mrs. James G. Metcalfe returned from a motor trip to South Carolina, on Wednesday night.

Mrs. H. Clay Brown and Miss Elizabeth Brown were guests this week in Baltimore of Mrs. Olive Gilpin. While there they attended a performance of Jane Cowl's "First Lady."

Mrs. Charles Drayton, of Washington, D. C., came on Thursday to spend several days as the guest of Miss Adelaide Glascock.

Mrs. W. D. Hines and her daughter, Mrs. Edwin Herzog, of Baltimore, were guests from Sunday until Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Hines.

Miss Mary Crisfield, of New York, and Mr. Bill Dixon, of Princeton University will be guests for the week-end of Mrs. Wm. T. Dixon at Green Point Farm.

Mrs. Ninrod Hobbs, of Baltimore, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Waddell, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Usilton, 3rd, will spend this week-end in Baltimore.

Mrs. Charles Perkins will come next Wednesday to be the guest of Mrs. R. H. Collins, Sr. for some time.

But as for me, I'll be right here, watching the old river to see that he keeps away from my door.

Yours at home,

THE WANDERER

FLOWER SHOW TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK AT CENTREVILLE

Open To Kent County Exhibitors

Forty-five classes will feature the second annual Queen Anne's Garden Club Flower Show, which will be held at the Little Theatre in Centreville, Thursday and Friday, May 13 and 14. Mrs. Howard Wood, of "Eversley" is general chairman of the affair.

Judges from the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society and "The Weeders Garden Club" of Philadelphia, will rate the exhibits. The scale of points in judging the Specimen blooms will be—Size, 25; Form, 30; Color, 20; Stem, 25. In judging the collection of blooms the score will be size, 30; color, 15; form, 30; stem, 15; foliage, 10.

The following rules will be observed: Exhibits will be received only on Thursday, May 13th from 8:30 A. M. to 12 M. Doors will be open to the public from 3 P. M. to 9:30 P. M. Thursday, and 10 A. M. to 9:30 P. M., Friday. All specimen blooms must be grown by exhibitors. Seals and Sweepstakes prizes are offered with prizes in two classes for children. No award will be made in any class where judges deem the entries of insufficient merit.

Entries in competitive exhibits not made according to the schedule will be disqualified. When the number of flowers in any class is fixed the exhibition of a larger or smaller number disqualifies. Buds will not be allowed on specimen roses and peonies. Containers for specimens will be furnished by the Club; arrangement containers by exhibitors. The term "Collection" means only one of each variety. It does not signify merely the greatest number but quality, variety and rarity will be considered.

The decision of the judges is final. No entry may be removed before the close of the show. Entries may be made by any resident of Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot counties.

The classes will be:

Corn in Fifteenth Century

In the Fifteenth century corn as a cultivated crop was grown over the two continents almost from the southern tip of Chile to the Arctic circle. Its culture was familiar to the North American Indians well into Canada. There were numerous varieties, some as good as any which have been developed since. Two or three great civilizations had been built up around the cereal—comparable to the civilizations of Egypt and Southern Europe and to the rice civilization of China—and had already started to decline. It was largely because of this grain that Europeans were able to colonize the New World.

Less Than Two Feet High

Lavinia Warren, the famous dwarf, was born about 1841 at Middleboro, Mass. She was less than two feet high and her name was originally Mercy Lavinia Bumpus, but was changed after she joined Barnum's show. She was married to Charles S. Stratton, better known as Tom Thumb. After her husband's death in 1883 she married an Italian dwarf, Count Primo Magri. She died in 1888.

Hobbies Important

The cultivation of an outside interest or hobby, says Hygeia, the Health Magazine, is just as important if not more important to a person's well being than the mere acquisition of knowledge.

Advisers of Washington

Geroge Washington's first concern as President was to secure the services of four men to assist and advise him as to foreign affairs, in finance, in army organization and in law.

Valencia's Famous Cathedral

Valencia's famous cathedral was built on the site of a Moorish mosque, which had been erected on the site of a Roman temple to Diana.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, Daisy Watson who passed away April 11, 1934.

A wonderful mother, woman and aid,
One who was better, God never made;
A wonderful worker, so loyal and true,
One in a million—that, mother, was you.

Just in your judgment, always right;
Honest and liberal ever upright;
Loved by your friends and all you knew,
Wonderful mother—that mother was you.

What is home without a mother?
All things this world may send,
But when I lost my darling Mother,
I lost my dearest friend.

By her loving daughter and son-in-law, Helen and Allen Ashley.

The Short Nose

The short nose shows an obstinate nature and, like the pug nose, an impulsive temperament, says a writer in Pearson's London Weekly. It also denotes physical strength and physical courage. Once these people make a decision, right or wrong, it is very hard to turn them from their purpose and they will face danger to carry out their desires.

Where Gullah Negroes Live

St. Helena island, off the coast of South Carolina, is held in its entirety by Gullah negroes who speak a shortened form of language all their own.

U. S. Supreme Court Building

The U. S. Supreme court building is patterned after a temple to Artemis, ancient Greece's virgin mother of all life.

Shakespeare Acted

Although all the Shakespeare theaters are gone, visitors in London are shown the Hall of the Middle Temple, which was built in 1572 and has the finest Elizabethan roof in the city. In this hall "Twelfth Night" was given February 22, 1602, and it is commonly stated that Shakespeare was one of the actors in that play.
