Mrs. DuPuy Succumbs Following Short Illness

Mrs. Irene E. F. DuPuy, wife of Dr. H. Rolph DuPuy, Deputy Health Officer for Kent County, died at the local hospital Saturday evening of last week following an illness of two days.

Mrs. DuPuy was 23 years of age, came to Chestertown last July when her husband accepted the position as health officer for this county. She had made many friends here during her ten months residence here.

Funeral services were held at 2.30 P. M. on Monday in College Avenue Baptist Church, Annapolis, where the deceased's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard F. Basil reside. These, with her husband, three brothers and a sister are the survivors.

The bearers were Winton Tolles, Dr. Fred G. Livingood, Dr. Arthur L. Davis, Dr. Julian Corrington, W. L. Wilkins, all of Chestertown, and Vernon Tydings, of Annapolis.

Ralph H. Usilton was in charge of funeral arrangements.

CHESTERVILLE GIRL DIES FROM BURNS

Five Year Old Sister Acts In Heroine Roll

Tihrteen year old Mabel Wallace, of near Chestertown, died at the Kent and Queen Annes General Hospital here Tuesday afternoon as a result of burns rceived at her home that morning.

The little girl, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wallace, was left home to take care of her little seven year old sister and in attmepting to start a fire in the kitchen stove, her clothing caught fire and was practically burned from her body before extinguished. The little seven year old sister ran to the well, pumped some water and put out the fire which had caught to the house, helped dress her older sister, took her to the road gate and stopped the truck of Mr. Edgar Walls which happened along. Mr. Walls took the girls to Crumpton and being unable to find medical aid, returned to Chesterville where he met Mr. Oscar Hanson who had been repairing a tractor in that section. Mr. Hanson brought the girls to the local hospital.

ORGANIZE FOUR H GARDEN CLUBS

Seventeen Schools Cooperate In Movement

4-H Club Work

Seventeen schools in Kent have organized 4-H Garden Clubs to help wit ha hot lunch next winter. The enrollment is 386 Boys and Girls. Schools cooperating are:—Sassafras, Massey, Millington, Chesterville, Morgnec, Kennedyville, Galena, Still Pond, Betterton, Worton, Fairlee, Cliffs, Pomona, St. Pauls, Swan Creek, Piney Neck, Skinners Neck.

Each group has elected officers, Miss Schellinger, the Home Demonstration Agent visits the school every two weeks to check the garden work and give help. Every boy and girl is keeping a record of what is being done. Some schools hold meetings independent of the 4-H period in school.

Our 4-H Club Work

The Pomona School formed a 4-H Garden Club. We elected officers as follows: President, Richard Davis, Vice-President, Margaret Davis; Secretary, Anna Logan, Treasurer, Arthur Starr; Song Leader, Grace Starr; Publicity Agent, Gladys Crowding.

When Miss Schellinger came around last year we had all ready planted our gardens. In August of 1936, the children canned at the Pomona School. Out of our club we had 55 cans of mixed vegetables which lasted through the winter. We are thanking Mr. Sutton for the sealer. He also came and sealed the cans for us, too. This year we were ahead of Miss Schellinger again. We hope to get 100 cans this year instead of 55. This time we are to try to can some fruits. We also bought little beans and lima beans for our hot lunchs. Most every one helped to can. We canned cabbage, onions, carrots, beans, corn, tomatoes and string beans together. Thanks, Miss Schellinger and Mr. Sutton.
Gladys Crowding.

Our Meeting—Skinners Neck

Our 4-H Club met Thursday—opened with singing America. All repeated Lord's Prayer. A poem entitled "A Tract for Autos" by George Heinefield. We then had a speech by our President. We all joined in singing "The Singing Cowboy". Dues collected by the Secretary were 18 cents. There were one hundred percent present at our first meeting on April 8, 1937. A poem by Steward Boulter was read entitled "That Calf". We decided to meet on every Friday of each week. Our next meeting will be held on May 15, at 3 at the Skinners Neck School House.
Emily Reihl, Secretary.

POTATOES

I love to see the potatoes
A lying in a row
They look so nice and jolly
I hate to see them go.

But I know there are some children
Out in this world alone
Who haven't food or a place to sleep,
Not even a dear old home.

But you know we can help them
And make them happy too
And I'm going to give them food to eat
And some potatoes too.

TOLCHESTER SERVICE TO START JUNE SIXTEENTH WITH 3 TRIPS EACH DAY

Bond Holders Incorporate Under Name of Tolchester Lines Incorporated—Adequate Ferry Service Expected To Follow Opening Of Passenger Route

According to an announcement made yesterday by Mr. Henry C. Eliason, Tolchester will be opened June 16th with the steamer Tolchester running three round trips daily for passenger and excursion service. Ferry service for automobiles and trucks will start shortly after the above date according to Mr. Eliason's statement.

Definite action as to the opening date and the program of activities followed the incorporation this week of the Tolchester Lines Inc. The incorporation papers showed Henry C. Eliason, W. H. Kirkwood and W. Houston Naudain as incorporators. Although not named among the incorporators, B. B. Willis is president of the company and other officers are Henry C. Eliason, vice president and general manager; W. H. Kirkwood, vice president and chairman of the Board. The new corporation holds 88 of the 90 bond holdings of the old Tolchester Company which should assure discontinuance of legal fights which has retarded the re-establishing of the Tolchester service.

Mr. Wilbur Ross Hubbard, of Chestertown, is a member of the board of the new corporation.

Since last September, when the service from Tolchester to Baltimore was discontinued the control of the holdings of the old Tolchester company has been one Court battle after another and not until the new company was incorporated with control of practically all the bonds has assurance of the re-establishing of passenger and ferry service been made. It is understood that the amusement park at Tolchester will be re-opened at the time that the passenger service starts.

Since last September the bay has been a barrier to traffic to and from Baltimore and those who do not own or have the use of an automobile have found it impossible to get to and from that city inexpensively. Kent County in the meantime has had practically no transportation service to the Western Shore which has driven trade from this section to shopping centers in other States.

OLD HOMES OPEN TO PUBLIC ON OLD CHESTERTOWN DAY

First Annual Affair Being Sponsored For Benefit Of Chestertown Public Library

Under the direction of the Woman's Literary Club, the first annual "Old Chestertown Day" will be held next Saturday, May 22nd at which time the entire town will be decorated for the occasion according to present plans.

The program includes the opening to the public of many old homes and institutions in and around Chestertown. Some of the more modern homes will also be open for the purpose of displaying old relics and articles of general interest.

The managers of the Chestertown Public Library have planned an interesting day, to procure funds for larger quarters to accommodate the rapidly increasing collection of books.

All places to be visited will be plainly marked.

Boy scouts will render every possible assistance.

Bureaus of Information will be at Washington College and in the Public Square.

The history of Chestertown dates back to the early settlement of this country and many of the old landmarks remain intact.

Kent County, made a province of Maryland in 1642, grew out of a settlement founded as early as 1630 by William Claiborne.

Chestertown, originally called New Town, was laid out by authority of an act of Maryland in 1706. Its charter was revised in 1732 and the name Chester Town given to it.

A colonial port of entry. In 1756, during the French and Indian War, a number of Chestertown gentlemen fitted out a ship called the Sharpe, manned by two hundred men, carrying twenty-six guns and twenty swivels. It did valiant service against the French. On May 13, 1774, her citizens staged a tea party. When the brigantine Geddes arrived from England with a small lot of dutiable tea an indignation meeting was held and the tea thrown overboard.

Chestertown was the one town in Maryland to send several vessels loaded with provisions to the distressed patriots of Boston and Charlestown, Massachusetts.

Private capital aided by the government of Maryland conducted a large armory in Chestertown during the Revolutionary War.

Visitors will feel repaid if they visit old Shrewsbury Church, near the concrete road close to Kennedyville. The graveyard nearby is the oldest in Kent County. This parish was established in 1692, a Church built shortly afterward. A second Church was built on this site in 1729. The present structure dates from 1832.

Lotus Inn, one of the land marks of lower Kent County, one half mile from the Tolchester resort will also be open. St. Paul's Church is nearby, open to visitors. Built in 1713, the oldest building in the State used continuously as a place of worship. The Vestry Hall, (1766) is one of two original Vestry Halls in Maryland. There are none in Virginia.

All fo the homes will contain displays in addition to the beauty and charm of the homes themselves.

Another thing of historic interest will be the old schooner Australia which will be tied to the wharf at the foot of High Street. Captured in the war of 1812, this boat is No. 1 in the United States registry. A number of ship models will be on display aboard the schooner.

A list of the points of interest to visit in Chestertown will be found on page two.

George Maxwell Accepts Position

Mr. George Maxwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse D. Maxwell, has accepted a position in the export department of the Chevrolet motor company at Tarreytown, N. Y. He will leave his home here next week to take up his new duties.

The Tarreytown plant was built by Mr. George Maxwell's grandfather, Mr. Jonathan D. Maxwell for the construction of the Maxwell automobiles several years ago.

Fire Endangers Chestertown Garage

Fire endangered the garage of The Main Highway Motors Thursday evening when an oil heating furnace caught fire. The garage was closed at the time and Mr. Fred Robinson, who operates a nearby service station, seeing the flames in the garage broke a window, crawled in and extinguished the fire with water through a car washing hose before the firemen arrived. Mr. and Mrs. Willima J. Smith occupy an apartment over the garage.

FRATERNITY GETS NATIONAL CHARTER

College Group Made Member of Lambda Chi Alpha

Chestertown, Md., May 7, 1937.—Lambda Chi Alpha, general college social fraternity, has approved a petition for establishment of a chapter at Washington College, according to announcement made here this week by Lawrence K. Yourtee, president of Phi Sigma Tau, the successful local fraternity.

Washington College is the eleventh oldest college in the United States, is the oldest institution of college grade in Maryland, and is the only college which received direct permission from President Washington to use his name.

Lambda Chi Alpha will be the largest of the general fraternities represented on the Washington campus, having 80 chapters in the United States and Canada. It is represented at one other Maryland institution, the University of Maryland. Other nearby chapters are three in Virginia, Washington and Lee, William and Mary and University of Richmond; and five in eastern Pennsylvania, University of Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania State College, Lehigh University, Franklin and Marshall and Bucknell.

Among Lambda Chis frequently mentioned in the public press at this time are Governor James V. Allred of Texas; Dr. Henry F. Grady, recently named to the U. S. Tariff Commission; Federal Judge A. P. Murrah of Oklahoma, the youngest Federal Judge in the Nation and the first appointed by President Roosevelt following his recommendation for sweeping Supreme and Federal Court changes; Chester Gould, creator of one of the oustanding newspaper comic strips, Dick Tracy; Manager Mickey Cochrane, of the Detroit Tigers; Pitcher Odal Hildebrand, of the Philadelphia Athletics; Jay Allen, noted Spanish War correspondent; William R. White, banking commissioner of New York, who was appointed at the age of 32 by Governor Lehman; and Le Roy Prinz, prominent motion picture dance director.

HOSPITAL CALLS FOR OLD NEWSPAPERS

Weekly Collections To Be Made

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Kent and Queen Anne's Hospital have issued a call for old newspapers which will be stored and sold for the benefit of that institution.

Weekly collections will be made by Hubert Dent, colored, and all housewives are requested to save their papers for this cause.

Only newspapers are wanted. Old magazines will not be included in the collections.

State D. A. R.'s To Meet

On May 21st, Friday afternoon, from four until six, at the Baltimore Country Club, the Maryland State Society, D. A. R. will give a reception an dtea for Mrs. Frank Madison Dick, the newly elected National Vice-President General from Maryland and for Mrs. Wilbur B. Blakeslee, the new State Regent. Miss Adelphine Hall is Chairman of the Reception Committee. Mrs. E. Ernest Woollen is Vice-Chairman.

Mrs. Henry M. Robert, Jr., Treasurer General of the National Society and recently endorsed Candidate for President General will receive with Mrs. Dick and Mrs. Blakeslee as well as Honorary State Officers and State Officers. All Maryland Daughters are cordially invited.

The two Kent County Chapters, The Old Kent Chapter and the London Bridge Chapter, are planning to be represented at the reception.

PLAN SCHOOL GOLF TOURNAMENT HERE

First Annual All-Maryland School Tournament To Be Held May 29

The Chester River Yacht and Country Club at Chestertown will be the scene of the first annual All-Maryland School Men's Golf Tournament which will be held here Saturday, April 29th.

This idea was worked out by Professor W. J. Stenger who is making plans for the tournament. It promises to be an annual affair and marks the first get-to-gether of the school men of the State for purely recreational purposes.

For those who do not play golf, other amusements have been planned. Following the golf tournament which starts at 1 p. m., there will be a dinner at the club house.

Among those expected to be in attendance will be Dr. Cook, State Superintendent of Schools.

REGATTA RACE EVENTS ANNOUNCED

Sailing and Power Boat Races Scheduled

A meeting of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club Regatta committees and others interested has been called by Commodore I. Price Ewing for Thursday night, May 20th, at the club house.

The regatta, which will be held July 30th and 31st, will be sanctioned by the American Power Boat Association, as in the past two years, and the Chesapeake Bay Yacht Racing Assocation, a sailing organization. The dates set do not conflict with that of any other recognized Chesapeake Bay regatta.

A tentative schedule of events has already been submitted to prominent boating magazines. The schedule includes classes as follows:

Friday, July 30th—Chesapeake log sailing canoes, sail boats over 20 ft. L. O. A., stars, sailboats 20 ft. L. O. A. and under, Barnegat sneak boxes, comets, dusters, moths, scows, snipes, albatross, prams, frost bites, scrappy cats, Jersey Crickets, Canadian-decked canoes, free-for-all unlimited over 20 ft., free-for-all 20 ft. or under, free-for-all 15½ ft. or under, boys and girls under 15 years of ago.

Saturday, July 31st—Free-for-all sail boats over 20 ft. L. O. A., free-fall-all boats 20 ft. and under L. O. A., free-for-all sail boats 15½ ft. and under.

Power boat events, July 31st—Maryland Yacht Club to Chestertown Cruiser race; class A outboards; class B; class C; class M; unlimited outboards; 135 cu. in. hydroplane; 225 cu. in. hydroplane; class C and D, 201 cu. in.; class H, Maryland State championship; Class E, 230 cu. in.; class H and I, 825 cu. in.; speed boats unlimited; chance cruiser race; free-for-all Chester River Power Boat Handicap (Friday)

College Glee Clubs To Hold Concert

Miss Virginia Sellers of the Columbia Opera Company will be the guest soloist at the spring concert of the combined glee clubs, of Washington College to be held in William Smith Hall Friday night, May 21 at 8.15.

Miss Sellers who had the role of Michaela in the opera "Carmen" presented in Baltimore last week, delighted her audience with the excellent quality of her voice. Besides a group of solos, Miss Sellers will take the solo role of the cantata "I hear America Singing" in which the Women's Chorus and the Men's Glee Club will combine for this part of the program.

The lyric of the Cantata is a poem by Walt Whitman, the music by Harvey Gaul. Miss Sellers is a graduate of the Peabody Conservatory of Music.

There will be also a group of solos by Mr. Raymond Moffett, director of the Glee Clubs, a group of selections by the Women's Chorus, a group by the Men's Glee Club, and a group by the combined glee clubs. The Men's Glee Club has recently given successful programs at Cambridge, and Millville, Delaware.

Miss Louise Russell will be the accompanist and in the double piano accompaniment of the cantata will be assisted by Mrs. Mary E. Griffith of Chestertown.

Library Closed May 22

The Chestertown Public Library will be closed all day, Saturday, May 22, on account of Old Chestertown Day which will be sponsored by the Literary Society in order to procure funds for larger quarters for the library.

HIGH SPOTS FROM THE HIGH SCHOOL

By EMORY M. HINES, JR.

Seniors in the economics class of Miss Riches will have an excellent chance to discuss world problems when they write their minimum 1500 word thesis to be completed by the beginning of June. The phase of the year's work will enable the students to secure abundant practice in English composition and prepare them at the same time for similar college assignment.

The use of three by five inch index cards to take notes on was suggested by Miss Riches. With proper classification of each part of the subject on separate cards, the composer, when ready to write the finished paper, need only to take the cards in order, telling his story paragraph by paragraph.

The subjects discussed are to be the pupils' ideas only, as conceived after studying the situation thoroughly. "The Business Cycle", "Government Regulation of Business", "The Influence of the Press in Forming Public Opinion", "Urban Poverty", and "The Evils of Direct Relief" are but a few of the topics that present students and perhaps future economists will write upon.

The May issue of the Reflector, the last to be issued by the present staff, made its appearance to its readers last Thursday, May 13. Although the staff had planned originally to put out a June issue, the inadequate time cancelled the hope. Laurels to Charlotte Russell for the really grand piece of work and improvement that she has done for our monthly high school publication. And congratulations to the new staff—may their work be enjoyable as the present's staff.

The Honor Roll for April carries a list of approximately forty-one students, more than usual. Spring fever must not be so prevalent after all.

Freshmn: James Bringman, James Crouch, Rosalie Bonnett, Louise Baxter ,John B. Robinson, Dorothy Hilyard, Mary Louise Truslow, Wilford Payne, Elsie May Ireland, George Ruppert, Francis Hadaway, Catherine Magrogan, Hope Marie Jones, Walter Pardee, Natalie Goodman, Eleanor Jones.

Sophomores: Elizabeth Wheatley, Betty Beck, Naomi Russell, Helen Culver, Margaret Dukes, Shirley Dorf Anne Ford, Charles Dulin.

Juniors: Anna Lucat, Mary Liz Humphreys, Arlene Rodney, Virginia Primrose, Mary Landon Russell, Catherine Newton, Ruth MacVean.

Seniors: Catherine Lusby, Mildred Thrift, Martha Wessell, Harry Hendrickson, Kathryn Bringman, Charlotte Russell, Emory Hines, Wayne Pote, Anne Turner, Nellie Bexley, Joe Weer, Gerson Bonnett.

Because all the teachers of high school convened this last Thursday, May 13, at Chestertown High, a one-session day holding classes from nine till one was given to all students. The meeting is to discuss the various work plans used by teachers, with verbal intercourse on both merits and demerits of each.

A dinner was held last Friday night at the local high school being followed by a dance at the Chester River Yacht and Country Club for the convention of school faculty members.

A correction on last week's column that I want to make now before I forget it—the baccalaureate sermon will be held at the Methodist Protestant Church rather than the one I mentioned. The date of June 6 still remains unchanged.

The final proofs for the 1937 Dragon came this past week and immediately went into the hands of the editor and his associates. From looks alone, the publication promises to be neat, while the photography turned out well. The final issuance of the annual is expected to be in June Week, probably the seventh.

The first "licking" of the year was given to the Chestertown High sluggers when they met Beacom College or their own field last week. The score was close, but still a victory for the local boy's opponents. However, since this was not a P. A. L. game, the cherry and white still remain unbeaten in diamond games for the county championship.

Interesting films in "Accounting as a Profession" and the "Private Secretary" were shown to Seniors by representatives from Goldey College last Monday in the auditorium of the school. They were sound pictures, and unbiased discussion was given on all the topics shown. Following the above was a short film on the activities of the Goldey Spelling Bee that was attended by six members of Chestertown High.

In the spotlight this week are: every one of the enthusiasts who is limbering up for Field Day events on the athletic field—the wonderful weather we have been having this week—and, oh yes, that "can't wait" feeling till when the eight to twelve sessions start—Kemp Bordley, Mary Liz Humphreys, Francis Mead, Frances Kreeger, and others that were the first to inaugurate the 1937 swimming season—the pre-thought of trouble as final exams are announced for the week following this coming one—and the Press Club picnic to be on May 28 near Tolchester.

Dr. Frank B. Hines Buys Carvel Farm

The Carvel Farm located near Chestertown on the main highway to Fairlee was purchased this week by Dr. Frank B. Hines. This property is one of Kent's old land marks and contains an old brick home. All of the windows and doors in the old home are of black walnut.

The sale of the Nichols Marsh and Orchard Point farms to New York interests is expected to be completed today, Saturday.

The Stafford property on Cross Street, selected as the site for the new fire house was officially purchased by the Mayor and Council this week.
