THE LADIES OF the Literary Club are to be congratulated upon the success of Old Chestertown Day. It was not only a financial success in raising funds for the Public Library but it proved to be a success from a community standpoint. It brought out one of the outstanding attractions in this town which interests visitors, the old colonial homes and historic background. In past years large sums have been spent to attract visitors here. The town has been decorated for the occasions and great efforts made to impress upon visitors the fact that this is a progressive community. The success of last Saturday's affair leads us to believe that the main charm and beauty has been overlooked in our effort to become a modern community. Up-to-date communities can be built almost over-night but colonial charm that Chestertown is rich in can only come through years of historic background and heritage.

THE QUESTION OF roads and Kent County's share of the gasoline tax is always brought to mind at this time when the levy for the coming year is worked out by the Commissioners. Under the Democratic administration Kent County's share of the gasoline tax more than adequately provided for the payment of the $80,000 road debt bonds, but under the present administration with the gasoline tax steadily increasing this share has been reduced to $61,000. A large proportion of the tax receipts are spent at the discretion of the State Roads Commission and this discretion is entirely in favor of boulevards on the Western Shore at the present time. It is apparently a question of politics with this county on the disfavored list. As long as men are appointed to high positions in the State based on their political qualifications rather than their qualifications as to their knowledge of the departments which they head, little improvement can be expected. Too many citizens are more susceptable to tumbling for minor favors, rather than care what becomes of the big things in State administration.

Hospital Wants Old Newspapers

Beginning Monday, May 31, all persons kind enough to contribute their papers towards the Hospital Auxiliary Fund, will please tie their weekly pile of papers with string, and place out in front with the trash, they cannot be used unless tied.

All residents South of Spring Ave., (Voshell House) put them out on Monday mornings.

All north of Spring Ave., (Voshell House) Tuesday mornings, each week and the trash man will collect them.

Herman Crouse Crushes Leg

Mr. Herman Crouse, of Rock Hall, is in the Kent and Queen Annes General Hospital suffering from an injured leg received when the fly-wheel of a tiling machine fell on him. A report of the accident stated that the fly-wheel flew off the machine and hit him breaking his leg below the knee and crushing the bone above the knee.

BETTERTON

Betterton is prepared to open its summer season today. All of the hotels and cottages are opened and most of them have reservations for the Memorial Day vacation.

The Childrens Day service will be held in the Methodist Church tomorrow evening at eight o'clock. Every one is cordially invited to attend. There will be no service in the afternoon.

A large congregation attended the Epworth League service last Sunday evening. The service was in charge of the Grant family, from California, who were guests at the Ferncliffe Hotel. Mr. Grant, Jr., a former Director of Religious Education in California and now a secretary of Recreations, covering eleven western states was the speaker. Colonel Grant, his father, a pioneer of the west and the oldest broadcaster in radio, in years of service, played a number of musical instruments and sang the religious songs of the cowboys. One member of this interesting family, an internationally known artist, has recently bought a farm in Still Pond Creek.

The Interparochial meeting of the Womens Auxiliary was held at the Episcopal Chapel on Wednesday. Miss Sally Dean was the speaker in the afternoon.

The C & P Telephone Company is planning to come to Betterton for the day on June 19th. Four hundred members are expected and they will be entertained at the Rigbie Hotel and The Royal Swan Hotel.

Mr. Henry Plant has sold his house formerly belonging to Mrs. Rotan Crew to a family from New York. Mr. Howard Layman has also sold his houses and bungalows on Bayside to Dr. Johnson, of Chester, Pa. Both Mr. Layman and Dr. Johnson are building more bungalows that will be ready to be rented by summer.

The Ladies Aid Society will have its "Sunshine Box" opening next Thursday evening, June 3rd, in the Sunday School room. Every one is invited to attend and a silver offering will be received from those who do not have a box. An interesting program is being planned and refreshments will be served.

The Epworth League is planning a cranival, that will be held the second week in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nicholson have moved into Mr. James Brice's house on Wheelers Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. William Turner, of Philadelphia were the week end guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Crew and Mr. Paul Crew, all of Philadelphai were also at their parents home for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sykes have moved from the Belmont Hotel to the Wiltshire. They will manage it this summer under the new name of Sykes Cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Kettlewell of Baltimore spent the past week at their home near town.

Pickerel, Leopard Frog

The pickerel frog and the leopard frog have much in common, both in appearance and habits, though the members of the leopard frog clan are probably more numerous. Possessed of a long, slender body, long head, large eyes and smooth skin with prominent lateral folds and a number of smaller longitudinal folds between them, this frog may have a body coloring of either green, brown or gray above and yellowish white beneath. It takes its name from the mottled apearance of its body, the marking on the back being dark brown outlined in a lighter shade. Both this frog and the pickerel frog wander away from their native lakes and streams in search for food, but the leopard frog is most given to traveling on land and therefore most often seen. The greater wariness and quicker leap of the pickerel frog may have something to do with this, however.

Tailless Manx Cats Are Engima of Cat Kingdom

The enigma of the cat kingdom is the Manx. Tailless and with a disposition distinctly different from the long - haired Persian or the smooth - coated Tabby, they are viewed with curiosity, observes a writer in the Los Angeles Times.

The pure Manx does not even have a stump. There is only a fluffy pompon where the tail should exist, and there are other physical variations that the first glance may miss. Nature seems to have made up for the lack of a rudder by increasing the power in the hindquarters. The body is shorter and stumpier, and rising higher in the rear gives the effect of being out of balance. This is not true for although they have a peculiar gait, they are exceptionally quick on their feet. The coat is short and smooth but thicker and longer than other short-haired varieties.

The Isle of Man is given as their native home and it is there they received their name. However, this breed of cats is not confined to the one location; visitors in Russia, China, Japan, and the Malay countries report seeing them. Some are only second cousins, having a short stump or a tightly curled tail, others with odd kinks resembling a bulldog's tail.
