RADIANT LIVING

God Found Within

By Rev. C. M. Griffeth
Pastor Calvary M. E. Church
Sudlersville, Md.

Are you hungry to know more of God? In your deep moments do you find within yourself a restlessness, a lonliness, a craving for something whch you can not just understand what it is that you what? It is the hunger of your heart to meet, to know, and to fellowship with God.

If you feel this hunger for God, be assured that God is likewise ahungerd for you. Perhaps this very hunger that you feel for Him is a sensitiveness of His hunger to fellowship with you, as when two souls in love feel mutually drawn to each other.

With this hunger for God in your heart, start forth upon the greatest quest that man can make, the quest for God. Seek to find God, whom to know aright is Life Eternal.

As the flowers turn toward the morning sun, so turn your heart toward God that you might receive the rays of His truth upon your soul. And then by discarding from your life everything that is of a discordant nature, bring your life into harmony with the will of God.

As you thus open your nature to the Spirit of God, you will find He comes in to sup with you, and you with Him. There shall come to you an experience that shall not be unlike that whcih came to those two disciples at Emmaus, who suddenly discovered that the Stranger whom they had invited in to supper was none other than the resurrected Christ Himself. They had to found the Christ whom they thought they had lost. He was there within their own home!

God is indeed truely found when we find Him within ourselves.

THOSE WHO REMAIN

When death visits a home, the first concern is to perform the last service to the loved one in a becoming manner. What ever is done must express all the reverance and affection that is felt at such a time. But in addition to this a further responsibilty rests upon the funeral director. It is his privilege and duty to lessen as far as lies with in his power, the burdens laid upon those who remain. By countless little acts of thoughtfulness he can make the way easier for them.

We consider this part of our work as important as any other. Our highest aim is to have our patrons look upon us as trusted friends, ready and anxious to render sympathetic assistance to those who remain behind.
