VOL. LXXV---NO. 24 CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND, SATURDAY AUGUST 21, 1937 $1.50 PER ANNUM

FIFTY FOUR DEATHS IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Majority Killed In Clear Dry Weather

The total number of fatal accidents for the State of Maryland for the first seven (7) months of 1937 has increased to 33½ percent over the corresponding period of 1936 as the tabulation by months will show. There was an increase of ten (10) for the month of July over the same month of 1936:

	1936	1937
January	26	67
February	28	37
April	40	29
May	31	36
June	50	51
TOTAL	239	319

Of the fifty-four (54) persons killed during the month of July, (18) or 30 percent were pedestrians, (24) or 22.5 percent were passengers, and (12) or 45 percent were drivers. From this report it is again evident that most of these deaths occurred in rural sections, as nine (9) deaths occurred in Baltimore City, and forty-five (45) deaths occurred in the Counties.

Attention is called by Walter R. Rudy, Commissioner, to all motorists to use the utmost caution in the operation fo their cars to help decrease this ever-amounting toll of accidents, which result in the death of some pedestrian, passenger and often themselves the drivers.

The July report of hte Commissioner of Motor Vehicles repeats what has been shown in reporst for the past five months, that the large majority of fatal automobile accidents occur on dry roads in clear weather. Of the 54 people killed during the month 49 were killed on straight dry roads, 24 were passengers in cars, 12 were drivers and 18 were pedestrians. During the month there were twice as many persons killed on Sunday as any other day in the week. 23 were killed at night and 20 in the daylight.

MARYLAND FIRST IN SOCIAL SECURITY

Aids Dependant Children, Aged And Blind

"The State of Maryland enjoys all three categories of Public Assistance plans approved by the Social Security Board, being, in fact, one of the first states to participate, its Old Age-Assistance law having been passed in April, 1935, that is prior to the passage of the Federal Act. Under these plans, aid is being extended to 14,300 needy old people, 18,650 dependent children, and 600 blind people. The total sums so far contributed jointly by the State and Federal Governments as of June 30, 1937, have been $5,793,503, of which $3,035,854 went to the aged, $2,608,951 to dependent children and $149,598 to the blind. While individual amounts have necessarily been small, the relief of acute distress has been enormous. The Maryland law is administered by the Board of State Aid and Charities, working through County Welfare Boards, and in the city of Baltimore, through the Department of Welfare.

"On December 31, 1935, the Social Security Board approved the Maryland Unemployment Compensation plan. While it is necessary to permit funds to accumulate until January 1, 1938, before payments are made, thereafter substantial assistance will be automatically provided for these temporarily out of work. As of July 31, 1937, the fund accumulated by Maryland exceed $4,500,000.

"To properly register and keep a wage record of eligible workers under the Federal Old-Age Benefits provision of the Act, nearly 32,000,000 account numbers have been issued. Of these, approximately 500,000 are in the State of Maryland. By this means a retirement income is assured these workers when they reach 65 after December 31, 1941, or a lump sum payment in the event of death or the attainment of age 65 prior to that date. Such lump sums are now being paid.

LARGE FRESHMAN CLASS FOR COLLEGE

Prospects Promise Record Enrollment

According to present indications the freshman class at Washington College in September promises to be even larger than that of last year which was a record for that Eastern Shore institution. The college is increasing in popularity among Eastern Shore high school graduates who find that its grade A rating places it on an equal standing with the larger universities and colleges. No longer it is possible for any boy or girl to enter Washington College as with the raising of college standards it has become an educational institution for only those who are hale and desire to get a college education.

The returning students will see a change on the hill in September as work is going forward on beautifying the triangle north of the college buildings which was recently purchased by the college.

The filling station at the corner has been torn down and preparations are being made for the removal of the remaining buildings on the site. Grading and planting work is going forward which is a great improvement to that entrance to Chestertown.

The program for freshman week which starts September 15th will be found on page 3 of this issue.

FARMERS SEE SOIL EROSION CONTROL

Kent Group Inspects Work In Anne Arundel County

On Wednesday, August 18, a party of Kent farmers went to Anne Arundel County to see the methods used by the Soil Conservation Service, using the labor of C. C. C. boys, in demonstrating conservation measures—especially gully control and sheet erosion prevention.

In spite of the heat, the tour was instructive, interesting, and stimulating. The Staff at the C. C. C. Camp was most helpful in making the trip a success. The members explained the reasons for the use of the measures employed and showed the application of the methods on four different types of farms. Naturally the staff and the C. C. C. boys with power equipment are doing more things more quickly than our farmers can expect to do them however, our men saw the possibilities of simple inexpensive, yet effective means of gully control and undoubtedly attention will be given to the very important and timely subject of sheet erosion and gully control. Demonstrations on one field per farm will be arranged and carried out as soon as possible.

Those on the tour were:—Wallace H. Ford, A. L. Beaston, Tom Cruikshank, Norman Ford, Herbert S. Ford, Harper Carter, Bill McCullough, W. R. Newnam, Charles Hemphrey, John Edwards, A. Woodall Durham, Lester Newnam, John Redding, R. D. Gosman, Norman C. Wright, Edward Greenwood, Roy Strong, Stanley B. Sutton, J. D. McVean.

Will Be Held On Nicholson Farm September 4th

At a meeting of the Kent County Horse Show Committee last Saturday evening the date for the annual Kent County Horse Show was set for Saturday, September 4th. This date comes in the Labor Day week-end holiday and will afford an opportunity to visitors to both enter and see the show.

A committee on location met this week and selected the Nicholson farm at Fancy School House corner on the Chestertown-Fairlee road.

The Kent County Horse Show Association, organized thirteen years ago for the purpose of encouraging the breeding of fine horses in Kent County, has accomplished much along this line.

As an out-growth of the activities of this association two other horse shows, the Horsemanship Show in Quaker Neck and the Lower Kent Horse Show near Rock Hall are held annually.

The officers of the Kent County Horse Show Association are Wilbur R. Hubbard, President; Stpehen R. Collins, Treasurer; William J. French, Edmond Hurtt, Grover Coleman Frank Coleman, William Toulson, and Harry Nichols.

ORGANIZE YACHT CLUB AT ROCK HALL

Officials Elected And Plans Made Last Saturday Night

A group of enthusiastic yachtsmen of the lower part of the county have organized a yacht club to be known as the Rock Hall Yacht Club. At a meeting this week they elected: Mr. G. Ellsworth Leary, President; Mr. Frank O. Puppe, vice-president; Mr. W. S. Brinsfield, secretary-treasurer.

The meeting authorized the president to proceed with papers of incorporation, and a drive for membership is underway.

A commodore and other club officers are to be elected at a later meeting.

A membership committee has been named and the club expects a charter membership of over a hundred and fifty members.

Plans are for an annual regatta and membership in the Chesapeake Bay Yacht Racing Association will be sought.

Quite a few members have signified their intention of building boats and the club hopes that they will be one recognized design as this would help the club to a considerable extent.

It is the hope of the organization to buy a piece of property and build a club house near the new breakwater and yacht basin which is to be constructed by the government.

This new yacht basin will make Rock Hall the most desirable harbor on the Chesapeake Bay as it is convenient to the large cities of the North and by boat a few minutes from ideal fishing grounds. It should draw many yachts and the need for yacht club is essential.

Tomatoes 15c Basket

Tomatoes on the open market have been bringing 15 cents a basket this week. Local tomatoes are reported to be in excellent condition and the price so far has been very disappointing.

Mr. H. N. Baldwin's foreign help reached here on Tuesday and he started to work on Wednesday of this week. It is reported that the season will be very short this year.
