KENT RECEIVES NO FEDERAL ROAD FUND

States Share Of Federal Moneys Spent Elsewhere

Maryland's share of the Federal road funds may be spent on roads in the State but Kent County is certainly out of the picture.

In past years Federal funds have figured very strongly in Kent's road program but for the past few years local authorties have been unable to secure for this county any share of the Federal funds, either for farm-to-market roads or for highway construction.

The following letter and reply bears out these facts:

(LETTER TO SECRETARY ICKES)

Mr. Ickes,
U. S. Dept. Agriculture,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

Please advise me, from your records, what amount and for what projects Federal funds have been spent in Kent County, Maryland, during the past year. I refer to the Federal road appropriations and also to the funds derived from the Federal gasoline and oil tax.

I am writing as a resident of Kent County and also as a motorist.

Thanking you for an early reply, I am,

(REPLY)

Dear Sir:

Your letter of August 24 addressed to Mr. Ickes has been referred to this Bureau for attention.

During the past year no work administered by this Bureau has been under construction in Kent County, Maryland.

Funds derived from the Federal tax on oil and gasoline go into the general fund of the Treasury and it is not possible to trace their disposition.

Very truly yours,
H. S. FAIRBANK, Chief,
Division of Information, U. S. Dept. Agriculture.

NEW ASSESSMENT STARTS THIS WEEK

Assessors Took Oath Of Office Tuesday

Kent County's new assessment got under way this week and is expected to be completed before Christmas. The fourteen assessors, two for each district qualified for office on Tuesday at a meeting of the County Commissioners and Mr. Lindsay, of the State Tax Commission.

The assessment will include all real estate and personal property in the county and is the first to be made since 1927.

A change was made in the Sixth District following the resignation of Mr. William H. Barnes on Tuesday morning and Mr. Frank Skirven was named in his place. Mr. Skirven qualified with the other assesors on Tuesday.

It has been estimated that the new assessment will not make a difference of more than $500,000 in the assessable basis of the county. It is expected that farm land and buildings will be reduced in some sections but that it will partly be made up by new construction and improvements of farm buildings in other sections.

This policy has been carried out by the town for the past few years and has resulted in the planting of hundreds of trees along the streets of the towns. The cost of the trees vary according to size and species although the Oriental Plain which has been extensively used here have cost approximately 90 cents each.

An oil truck, engaged in oiling the highway near Galena caught fire and was practically destroyed at a Kennedyville siding Thursday afternoon.

Workmen were filling the tank on the truck with oil from a tank car at the siding and allowed it to run over. When the overflowing oil came in contact with the burner under the truck it caught fire and set the vehicle with its 800 gallons of oil ablaze.

The Chestertown fire company responded to the call and with the booster system succeeded in extinguishing the flame although the truck and equipment was badly damaged.

KENT ROAD DEBT SQUARED TO DATE

Estimated Debt October 1st Is Only $9,025.78

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following article which appeared in this paper last week contained a typegraphical error which left out the prominent part Senator Arthur Brice played in the accomplishment of this road debt clearance.

The Commissioners of Kent County received a statement from the State Roads Commission this week showing the indebetness of this county to be estimated at $9,025.28. This indebetness represents work on the county road system whcih is paid by the county periodically.

This statement shows the county to be in the healthiest condition that it has been for several years as far as its account with the State Roads Commission is concerned.

Previous statements showed Kent's debt to be approximately $192,000 covering a period of eight years and accompanying the statement were requeststhat the debt be settled. At the last session of the Maryland Legislature Senator Arthur Brice introduced a bill and engineered it through the Legislature with the assistance of Delegates Wilbur R. Hubbard and Roy Strong which cancelled the obligation through an intricate distribution of State road funds. This bill brought to an end a controversey between the Commission and the County Commissioners which had been going on for several years. The Commissioners claimed the debt was not a legal one and the Commission not only continually requested settlement but hampered the county in getting certain State and Federal road funds.

The Commissioners of Kent County found it necessary this year to increase the county tax rate to provide for the payment of interest and bonds of Kent's Million Dollar road bond issue and the maintenance of County roads due to this counties share of the gasoline tax fund being continually reduced. The payment each year of these obligations will prevent a recurrance of building up an indebtedness to the road commission. The road bond issue will be paid in full in 1942.

POLITICS BUZZ AT PARTY LAST SUNDAY

Dr. Cooke Entertains In Honor Of Mayor Jackson

A large group of men from all sections of the Eastern Shore were guests Sunday of Dr. Theodore Cooke at his lodge on Kent Island last Sunday. The party was in honor of Mayor Howard W. Jackson of Baltimore, Governatorial candidate and among the guests were Senator Millard E. Tydings, Congressman T. Alan Goldsborough and many of the State Senators and members of the House from the Eastern Shore counties.

The affair was purely social, there being no speaking, but politics was the chief topic of discussion.

From individual expression at the gathering there is being developed considerable sentiment for Congressman T. Alan Goldsborough for the United States Senate and this sentiment is apparently very pleasing to the Congressman, in fact so pleasing that the Congressman is considering it very seriously. While the Congressman's political activities have been confined to the Eastern Shore, some of his supporters believe that he would run well all over the State.

The presence of Senator Tydings at the gathering brought up the queston as to whether he will be on the ticket with Mayor Jackson. Todate the Mayor has made no public statement as to who will be his running mates.

As to Mayor Jackson, there is no queston but that he is gaining strength although this strength cannot be concrete until, or if, an opposing candidate in the primaries is developed. The Mayor's activities have been confined to greetings with his genial smile, speech making and being a general all-round good fellow. He stated to a party of friends on Sunday that he is opposed to increasing Baltimore City's representation in the Maryland Legislature which has been fought by the counties for a number of years. The Mayor impresses one as being well pleased with his progress so far and possessing a lot of fight that he cannot bring out because he don't know who to fight. He is, however, getting around and making his presence felt all over the State. A. Tawes for Comptroller voice was being making itself heard by a Somerset cohort but if there was any other mention of the State ticket it was in whispers.

Plenty of good food made the party a jovial success and in fact a Mayor Jackson but it remains to be seen what reaction will take place when the pangs of hunger start getting in their inning.
