CIRCUIT COURT TO MEET EIGHTEENTH

Ten Appeal Cases On Criminal Docket

The Circuit Court for Kent County will convene on October 18th with prospects of an average criminal docket. The recently enacted State law, which gives Police Magistrates jurisdiction over petit larceny cases has again relieved the Circuit Court of much of the criminal work which used to load the docket. Included in the crmiinal docket to date are ten cases appealed from the Magistrate's Courts and include assault, disorderly conduct and automobile trials. Included in the cases to be presented to the Grand Jury are 1 rape, 1 bigamy and 1 manslaughter case. The manslaughter case is the result of an automboile accident last week in which two colored people were killed.

Among the cases due to come up on the criminal docket is the Hyland Crew will case in which the will of the late Hyland Crew is being contested.

FUNDS FOR CATTLE TEST AVAILABLE

State Appropriation For Bangs Disease Test Effective Oct. 1st

The State appropriation for aid in the testing of cattle in Maryland for bangs disease became effective October first and preparations are now being made to start the work in the State.

State and Federal funds to help compensate farmers for cattle which go down under the test are similar to those effective under the tuberculine test and are for the purpose of encouraging farmers to rid their herds of this disease. The test is optional with the individual farmers.

At a meeting held in Centreville last week between State agricultural authoritis and dairy interests the price to be paid farmers for the infected cattle was $180 for purebreds and $90 for grade. Under the Federal regulations $20 is available from Federal funds for each cow infected; the meat is then sold and the difference between these two incomes and the above agreed price coms from the State appropriation.

The price paid for grade cattle was called to the attention of Senator Arthur Brice who was one of the backers of the Legislation that made the tests available. A careful study on his part revealed the fact that the large majority of the herds in Kent County are made up of grade cattle and the double value of purebreds made most of the State appropriation available to large dairying interests at the expense of the smaller herd owners. He immediately got in touch with agricultural officials of the State and had the price of grades raised to $100 which means a great deal of assistance to the average Kent County farmer. The increased, it is said, is possible under the appropriation due to the present high price of meat which will make the State's cost per cow less than was originally anticipated.

The purpose of the bangs disease test is to place the herds of Maryland ahead of the present requirements of the various health boards as it is generally understood that the freedom of this disease in cattle will soon be a requirement.

All appraisals, as to the value of the infected animals, qualities, and current beef prices, will be made by the State and Federal veterinarians of the Live Stock Sanitary Service.

Dr. Mark Welsh, director of the University of Maryland Todd Laboratories, and State Veterinarian who has already reduced beef tuberculosis to less than 1½ per cent in the State, will conduct all Bang's disease work.

THREE WAY RACE FOR DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR OF MD.

Herbert O'Conor Announces This Week Making Three Way Fight With Jackson And Sasscer Already In Field

The announcement this week by Herbert R. O'Conor as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Maryland makes a three way fight for that office, Mayor Howard Jackson and Senator Langsdale Sasscer having previously announced their candidacies.

In making his announcement Mr. O'Connor stated the platform on which he will make his fight which is the first definite platform that has been announced by any one of the three candidates.

It is as follows:

1. Eliminate politics from the State Roads Commission, the largest spending agency of the State. Restore Maryland to its place as a State of Good Roads through a system of arterial and lateral roads that will return to gasoline-taxpayers a different type of roads than some while now are a disgrace to the State.

2. Return the handling of county roads to the Counties where a better knowledge of and closer contact with needs will make possible a more satisfactory system. Recognizing that this proposed change presents a difficult problem because of the neeessity of determining a fair apportionment of road funds for county use, I would designate a group of experienced and capable citizens to make a survey of this situation so as to recommend the best method to effect the change, having regard to the interests of both the State and the counties.

3. Use the gasoline tax funds on roads for their improvement and maintenance and put a stop to diversions which constitute a breach of faith with motorists. In expending his adhere to the cardinal principle that favoritism and waste be avoided absolutely and thus stretch the funds as far as they will go.

4. Enact legislation, suggested by the Budget Amendment to the Constitution bu which has never been proposed in he 20 years since intervening which lgislation would prescribe definite statutory requirements in the preparation and submission of a Governor's budget and which would prevent disregard of the purpose of the Budget Amendment through indfinite appropriations and establishment of large "cushion" funds.

5. Concentrate upon the important question to Maryland of Conservation; adopt a well-considered program for restoration of natural resources of the State; encourage people in the tidewater counties to work for return of Maryland to its former position in oyster and crab production by improving their position as the virtual backbone of the industries.

6. Eliminate politics from the magistrates system of the State. By this I mean unqualifiedly, that political influence should not operate in the selection of the men and women who are to preside in the magistrates courts, which are an integral part of the entire judicial system. Happily in Maryland the hand of politics does not guide the administration of the higher courts. However, a personal experience of almost two decades has convinced me that thousands of our citizens are vitally affected by the administration of justice in the inferior courts and they are entitled to have them elevated to the highest possible plane.

7. Remodel the tax structure, adjusting conflicting measures where present hodge-podge exists; equalize tax burdens so as to remove dangers of corporations being driven from the State because of discriminatory taxation.

8. Inaugurate program dealing with shore erosion so as to safeguard interests of residents of waterfront properties whose large interests are menaced by the continuously damaging force of the elements.

9. Extend provisions of unemployment compensation law so as to give fullest measure of protection to all entitled to such protection. Employ use of interstate compacts and agreements for administration of Act in cases where workers or employers are engaged in more than one State.

10. Give a "breathing spell" to the taxpayer. Encourage business, large or small to carry on by not thwarting their every effort through mounting taxation. Convince the home owner that the State wants to assist him in retaining and incrasing his holdings rather than to exact levies at every turn.

11. The appealing needs of the unfortunate groups among our citizenry who are suffering from mental diseases, feeblemindedness or tuberculosis justify the adoption of a policy by the State whereby their condition can be further improved. In three respects particularly, it would seem that the State should extend its treatment of the mentally diseased. Larger staffs of doctors and nurses not only are needed, but according to authoritative reports might eventually prove economical in reducing the numbr of persons confined in these State institutions. A second requirement is for an enlarged program of occupational therapy, and thirdly, additional space is needed. There is need for attention to the colored feebleminded in addition to that now provided. The situation of the tubercular makes an appeal which warrants the State in extending every reasonable effort to afford the best of hospitalization and curaitve treatment to those of our fellow-citizens so afflicted.

Mayor Jackson, the first candidate for office, has made an active campaign throughout the State and in his campaign speeches has pointed out his stand on various campaign issues of State-wide importance among which was his opposition to increasing Baltimore City's representation in the Maryland Legislature, but his main campaign issue is based upon his record and administrative experience as Mayor of Baltimore City.

Senator Sasscr so far has based his campaign upon his record and experience as a Senator and president of the Maryland Senate for the past four years. His the only county man among the candidates Messrs. Jackson and O'Conor both being from Baltimore City.

With the primary yet a year off there is plenty of time for consideration of the three candidates. The question also arises as to whether each of the candidates will carry a full ticket into the field.

NEW WATER MAIN FOR COURT STREET

Six Inch Pipe To Replace Three Inch

The Chestertown Water Board this week laid a new six inch pipe on Court Street from High to Church Alley. The new pipe line will replace the three inch line which has been serving that section for years and will terminate at the fire plug at Church Alley. This fire plug will be moved from in front of the Transcript office across the street to the Court House yard due to the fact that it is being continually damaged by automobiles turning at that point.

The new six inch fire plug will afford additional fire protection for that section of Chestertown and will be one the main sources of water supply in Chestertown in case of fire.

H. N. BALDWIN SELLS LOCAL CANNERY

Tilghman Packing Company Named As Purchasers

Announcement was made this week of the sale of the Chestertown cannery, owned and operated by Mr. H. N. Baldwin, to the Tilghman Packing Company. This company purchased the Rock Hall cannery last year and operated it during the recent tomato canning season. It is understood that the new owners of the Rock Hall and Chestertown plants are planning to can corn, asparagus and possibly other vegetable crops although it has not been definately decided as to which plant will be used for this increased activity.

The owners and operators of the Tilghman Packing Company is the Harrison family of Tilghman who have many years of experience in the canning industry and are actively engaged in operations in other parts of the Shore.

Mr. Howard Baldwin will retire from the canning business after 48 years of activity, 30 of which have been spent as proprietor of the Chestertown cannery. He will divide his time between Kent County, Florida and Hartford County.

KENT BOASTS NEW MOTORIZED CLINIC

Will Provide Headquarters For Clinics Throughout County

Kent County Health Department now boasts a motorized clinic which is being used in all parts of the county for holding the various clinics. The new equipment is a small hospital on wheels which was designed by Dr. H. R. DuPuy, local health officer and very closely resembles the State Healthmobile. It includes all necessary facilities for holding clinics.

The machine is being used principally for the venerial clinics in the various parts of the county which heretofore have ben held in rented offices. Departmnt heads claim the machine will not only save the office rent but is better equipped for the work. Miss Dorothy Vickers is chauffer and assistant to Dr. DuPuy at the clinics.

Miss Ellen Fisher Died In California

Word was received here on Thursday of the death of Miss Ellen Fisher, daughter of the late Doctor and Mrs. Samuel G. Fisher, of Kent County.

Born in the Fifth District, Miss Fisher spent the early part of her life there and moved to Chestertown with her parents when her father was elected Clerk of the Circuit Court for this county.

She continued to live here until four years ago when she moved to Palo Alto, Calif., where her brother, Dr. Groome Fisher lives. The letter received this week by Mrs. Alan Harris stated that Miss Fisher died in a hospital although there were no details.

Named Dog Constable

Mr. Frank Cranor, of Quaker Neck, was named Dog Constable for the First District by the County Commissioners at the regular session on Tuesday of this week. No Dog Constable for this district was appointed previously due to the lack of applications for the office.

The 400-foot Central Tower of the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition will tower higher than the summit of nearby Yerba Buena Island.

Jack The Hugger Still At Large

With a large group of volunteer amateur Sherlocks nightly laying for "Jack the Hugger," he is still at large although he has apparently ceased his activity here. Included in the group of detectives have been large groups of college and Chestertown youths who have tried all kinds of disguises including dressing as girls but the net results to-date have been these so-called detectives chasing each other.

The search has become State-wide as Chief of Police Samuel E. Cooper received a telegram from Sykesville saying a Carroll County youth resembling the description vanished from that section September 25th.

The situation is apparently well in hand as there has been no un-authorized hugging on Washington Avenue this week.

T. R. STARR SHOP BURNS AT POMONA

Plans Being Made To Rebuild

The T. R. Starr blacksmith shop at Pomona was destroyed by fire on Friday evening of last week and threatened to spread to nearby homes in that village.

The fire is thought to have started when a spark from the forge fell into shavings. Mr. Starr shod a horse that afternoon when the spark fell into the shavings. Seeing the smoke he poured a bucket of water on the shavings and thought the fire was out. When the fire was discovered later that evening the entire shop was in flames. A quantity of oil and acetylene tanks, used in welding, added to the conflagration and the Chestertown Fire Company devoted their efforts to saving nearby homes which were threatened by the heat. Fortunately there was no wind blowing at the time.

This is one of the few remaining rural blacksmith shops in the county and enjoyed an active business from that section. It is undersotod that there was no insurance on the building.

Mr. Starr stated on Thursday of this week that he is making preparations to rebuild his shop and his son, Mr. Sherman Starr will be associated in business.

COUNCIL PASSES PARKING LAWS

One Way Parking On Maple Avenue

The Mayor and Council at the regular meeting on Monday passed an ordinance limiting parking to the north side of Maple Avenue between Queen and Front streets. This action was taken due to the fact that when cars are parked on both sides of the street only one line of traffic is able to travel on this street which is one of the main boulevards through Chestertown. It was considered that the condition was a traffic hazard.

Permission was granted Mr. Eben F. Perkins to erect no parking signs in a twelve foot space in front of his home on Front street. Front street is very narrow at that point and when cars are parked in that particular twelve foot space it is difficult to get cars out of a driveway adjoining the home of Mr. E. Clark Fontaine which supplies right-of-way to two garages. No parking in that particular spot is gnerally observed by residents of that section of town who are familar with the condition.

SAFE STOLEN FROM MILLINGTON STORE

Thieves Carry American Store Safe To Corn Field and Loot It

Local authorities are looking for thieves who last Sunday night stole the safe from the American Stores at Millington. In addition to the safe the thieves took a quantity of cigarettes and other merchandise. The safe contained approximately $39.00.

On Tuesday the safe was found in a cornfield near that town with the door broken open and its contents missing. A sledge hammer was apparently used to break open the door although no tools of any kind could be found.

Several years ago a similar theft occured at the railroad station at thieves was traced through the purchase of a sledge hammer.

The thieves at Millington apparently left no clues and local authorities at present have been unable to make an arrest.

The following officials of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club were named this week by Commodore P. G. Wilmer.

E. W. Emory, Honorary Commodore.
I. Price Ewing, Vice Commodore.
W. S. Collins, Rear Commodore.

FIRE HOUSE SOLD TO LOCAL LODGE

Daughters Of America Buys Building This Week

The Chestertown Fire House on Cross Street was sold this week by the Fire Company officials to the Chestertown Lodge of the Daughters of America. The agreement of sale was arrived at by officials of the two organizations.

While possession of the building will not be given until the fire company is able to move into their new quarters, probably the early part of next year, the purchasers will have the use of the meeting room on the second floor in the meantime.

The Daughters of America, a fraternal organization, have been using the lodge rooms of the Junior Order United American Mechanics in the Old Transcript Building for several years, and just recently purchased the lot on Cannon Street, the site of the former pants factory, with the idea of building a lodge home. It is understood that the purchasers of the fire house will use the upstairs for a lodge hall and rent the first floor.

The officers of the organization are:
Councilor, Mrs. Howard Pennington.
Assoc. Councilor, Mrs. Virginia Cushing.
Vice Councilor, Mrs. Gladys Reed.
Secretary, Miss Elizabeth Starkey.
Treasurer, Mrs. Harry Fowler.
The price agreed for the purchase of the fire house was $4,000.
