ON THE SCREEN AT THE NEW LYCEUM

Ronald Colman and Madeleine Carroll in "The Prisoner of Zenda"

Ronald Colman and Madeleine Carroll as Rassendyll and Princess Flavia, the charming lovers of "The Prisoner of Zenda," David O. Selznick's lavish production of the famous Anthony Hope romance which comes to the New Lyceum on Monday and Tuesday, October 25 and 26. Colman plays a dual role in the film in which Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., is also importantly cast as the dashing Rupert of Hentzau.

Right on the heels of his sensational hit, "A Star Is Born," David O. Selznick has ushered in another magnificent piece of entertainment.

The picture is "The Prisoner of Zenda," Anthony Hope's swashbuckling tale of love, intrigue and adventure in the courts of Europe, with Ronald Colman, Madeleine Carroll and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., in the leading roles, and it will show at the New Lyceum Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, October 25 and 26.

Colman is at his charming best in the difficult dual role of the adventurous Rudolf Rassendyll and as the roistering King Rudolf V, whom he resembled so closely.

When the agents of the Kings' brother, Black Micheal (Raymond Massey), who is plotting to seize the throne, render the King incapable of attending his own Coronation by drugging his drinks, Colonel Zapt. (C. Aubrey Smith) and young Captain von Tarlenheim (David Niven) enlist Rassendyll to impersonate the King at the Coronation.

Clever Deception

Rassendyll does so well that he even deceives the lovely Princess Flavia (Madeleine Carroll), betrothed of the King, who proceeds to fall madly in love with him. Rassendyll loves her, too, and is about to reveal the deception when it is discovered that the King has been kidnapped by Black Micheal and his henchman, the dashing Rupert of Hentzau (Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.) and imprisoned in Zenda Castle. It thus becomes necessary to keep Rassendyll on the throne.

The beautiful Antoinette de Mauban, (Mary Astor) jealous sweetheart of Black Micheal, goes to Rassendyll and offers to help him rescue the King. She lures Rupert to her room to get him out of the way. Black Michael discovers her in Rupert's arm and Rupert kills him.

Rassendyll invades the castle singlehanded and opens the way for the attacking party. In one of the most thrilling duels in the memory of this reviewer, Rupert is bested. The King is rescued and restored to the throne And, as for the lovers, Flavia realizes her duty as a Princess and sends Rassendyll away.

Lavishly mounted with some sixty-odd breath-taking sets, including a cathedral, a castle and the sumptuous castle ballroom, designed by Lyle Wheeler, "The Prisoner of Zenda" offers some of the most impressive and beautiful scenes ever filmed, notably the Coronation ceremony and the Coronation ball.

John L. Balderston and Wells Root have made a grand screen play, based on Edward Rose's dramatization of the Anthony Hope novel, and all the members of the imposing cast turn in uniformly fine performances under the expert direction of John Cromwell.

The eye-filling costumes were designd by Ernst Dryden and the splendid photography is credited to James Wong Howe.

ARTISTS AND MODELS

Who can blame Jack Benny for getting confused—with two such gorgeous girls as Ida Lupino and Gail Patrick to choose from? It happens in "Artists and Models," new girl-gag-and-music-filled comedy which comes on Wednesday and Thursday, October 27 and 28 to the New Lyceum Theatre, with Richard Arlen and a host of screen, stage and radio favorites featured.

Mad, merry and mirthful—tuneful, toe tickling and tantalizing- gorgeous, girl-filled nad glamorous— that's "Artists and Models," the new Jack Benny girl-gag-and-music romance which comes on Wednesday and Thursday, October 27 and 28 to the New Lyceum Theatre.

Headed by a cast of supreme funmakers, hundreds of georgeous girls and featuring specialities by half a doz. of the most popular acts of radio, screen and stage, "Artists and Models" has everything to make an unforgettable picture. The ace comedy cast is headed by Jack Benny, Ida Lupino, Gail Patrick, Richard Arlen, Ben Blue, Judy Canova, the Yacht Club Boys and Louis Armstrong's Swing Orchestra—and features specialty numbers by Martha Raye; Andre Kostelanetz and his Orchestra; Judy, Anne and Zeke; Connie Boswell; England's most beautiful model, Sandra Storme; and the six greatest living artists: Peter Arno, McClelland Barclay, Arthur William Brown, Rube Goldberg, John La Gatta and Russell Patterson, whose famous "Personettes," carved miniature figures, also play an important part.

The story opens with Jack Benney, head of the dizziest advertising agency in the world, torn between the fires of approaching bigamy and a breach-of-promise suit. He has promised to marry Ida Lupino, beautiful model whom he has "sold" to Richard Arlen for use in Dicks' advertising campaign. But in the meantime, Jack has fallen in love with Gail Patrick, Dick's fiance! And just to give him a few additional headaches,, Jack remembers that he has promised both Ida and Gail that he will have each of them elected Queen of the Artists and Models Ball, of which he is chairman.

Arlen, who is now in love with Miss Lupino, is hurt by what he considers a lie from her, and goes to Europe to try to forget. He cannot, however, and returns just before the Ball.

The night of the Ball arrives—and all four —Jack, Ida, Gail and Dick—join the festivities. Jack decides to spend his itme ducking away and hiding from the two girls—but to his great surprise, finds that it won't be necessary, because Gail, by clever maneuvering has straightened out the tangled mess—and each of the boys winds up with the right girl, while the show—the most tuneful, most spectacular production ever brought to the screen—goes on merrily.

The pictures introduced six new songs—"Whispers in the Dark," "Public Melody Number One," "Pop Goes the Bubble," "Stop! You're Breaking My Heart," "Sasha Pasha" and "Mr. Esquire." The dances were staged by LeRoy Prinz, and the picture directed by Raoul Walsh.

Signal for Man Wanted

When a maiden in Syria desires to marry, she hangs a doll in the window of her home.

Dog's-Head Butterfly

The dog's-head butterfly has an almost exact likeness of a dog on each front wing.

First New World Civilization

Central America was the home of the first native civilization in the New World.

Excuses for Others

Make excuses for others but not for oneself.

MILLINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF

Mr. and Mrs. John Gleave, Mrs. Sara Taylor, Master Bobby Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Link, of Norristown, Pa., were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Belle Higman on South Crane St.

Mrs. John Slaughter celebrated her birthday on Sunday last with all her children and their wives present with hre.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Smith were guests of her nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Galloway, of Chestertown, Md., on Sunday.

Mr. Roland Porter was given a surprise birthday party on Tuesday evening and enjoyed the company of about thirty guests a very delightful-evening was spent at his home.

The Queen Esthers of Asbury Church were pleasantly entertained at the home of Miss Elizabeth Bottomley on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Wellen, Mr. Earle Powell, Mrs. Mamie Gale, left on Monday for Pittsburgh, Pa., where they will spend a few days this week with friends in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carmine had as their guests on Sunday his father, and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Carmine all of whom were visitors of the formers sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Enos Millighan in Wiimington, Del.

Mrs. Sara Taylor is visiting Mr. and Mrs. JohnW. Higman.

Mr. Walter Woodall and family of New York, is visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. John E. Woodall.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Higman, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Taylor returned home on Monday evening after spending a week seeing the beauties of the mountain scenery of Virginia, and visiting places of interest in that state.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace, of WestGrove, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Ben Redmond, of Rockland, Del., Mr. William Rolph and family, of Betterton, Md., and Miss Margaret Wallace, of Chesterville, Md., were visitors of Mrs. Clara Rolph on Sunday last.

Roland Miller who was burned seriously while kindling a fire in the stove with coal oil is somewhat improved but he will be handicapped somewhat this fall in his work by his accident.

Mrs. Lambert D. Bowers passed away peacefully and quietly at her home on Sunday evening last, October 17th at 10.30 o'clock suffering a stroke of apoplexy. Mr. Bowers retired ahead of her on Sunday evening and she followed later, in about one hour, after writing and addressing four letters to friends. He awakened about 10 o'clock and heard her snoring heavily tried to waken her but could not. He called Dr. Merritt Brice who after seeing her symptons asked Mr. Bowers if he would like him to call his daughter, Miss Margaret Bowers, of Elkton, Md., High School Faculty, Elkton, Md., which he did and without a struggle of any kind. Besides her husband she is survived by the one daughter, Miss Margaret Bowers. Funeral services were held in Holy Cross P. E. Chapel on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Harry J. Garner and interment was made in Crumpton cemetery. W. H. Good, of Church Hill, Md,. was the undertaker.

The remains of Dr. Thomas McWhorter were brought here from Philadelphia for interment in their family lot in Millington cemetery on Monday, October 18th, 1937.

Doctor McWhorter was the son of Thomas Jefferson McWhorter and Martha Cook McWhorter formerly, of Millington and for the past forty five years they have lived in Philadelphia, where Mr. McWhorter engaged in the Grain business, was very successful. Dr. Tom, attended the university of Pennsylvania and studied medicine, after graduating he practiced medicine in Atlantic City, N. J., and Carlisle, Pa., returning to Philadelphia where he died. The father, Thomas J. McWhorter started in the merchantile business when a young man and for year conducted business on the corner where the store building and residence of Leonard Wilson now stands. He was very successful and added to his general line of merchandise farm implements, lime and coal, and began the purchase of grains. Fortune smiled upon him again and he decided to move his family to Philadelphia and engage in the grain business in a still larger way, he was successful again and did a thriving business for years where he died and his remains were brought to his home community and intered in Millington cemetery. Doctor Tom is survived by his mother and one sister, Emma McWhorter who married a Mr. Wright at whose home in Philadelphia Dr. Tom McWhorter died.

Sunday, October 31st will be observed at Asbury M. E. Church as World Temperance Sunday. At the evening service Rev. Ivanhoe Willis Supt., of the Anti-Saloon League of the Wilmington Conference will be the speaker.

On Sunday, November 7th Rev. Wm. M. Parker has arranged for an Old Home Coming day at Asbury M. E. Church. Both morning and afternoon. Special music will be rendered by the Price sisters, better known as Mrs. Rolph Geary and Mrs. Howard Tolson, of Still Pond, Md. The Rev. J. C. Hopkins, of Bridgeville, Del., will be the speaker for the afternoon services. The Sudlersville Quartette will also be present and will sing in the afternoon service. The Rev. Dr. W. C. Gunby, Supt. of the Wilmington, Dist. will be the speaker of the evening.

Dr. Gunby will also preach at Delaney's Church in the afternoon at 3 p. m. on November 7th.

The ALL TIME Tribute

Impressive in character, expressive in beauty, perfect in every detail—these essentials are assured when you avail of the facilities of selection from our displays. Let this family duty become our responsibility by consulting us today regarding the type of memorial you may have in mind.

J. W. KIRBY

CROSS STREET

CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND

"For Colds - - Salicylate Alkaline Medication"

That's what modern doctors say. That's what Alka-Seltzer is. Instead of being administered in two disagreeable doses, Alka-Seltzer furnishes this medication in one pleasant drink.

If you ever used anything more effective then Alka-Seltzer for Acid Indigestion, Headache, Muscular, Rheumatic and Sciatic Pains, we will refund the money you paid for your first package.

Your druggist sells Alka-Seltzer.

BE WISE - ALKALIZE!

THOSE WHO REMAIN

When death visits a home, the first concern is to perform the last service to the loved one in a becoming manner. What ever is done must express all the reverance and affection that is felt at such a time. But in addition to this a further responsibility rests upon the funeral director. It is his privilege and duty to lessen as far as lies with in his power, the burdens laid upon those who remain. By countless little acts of thoughtfulness he can make the way easier for them.

We consider this part of our work as important as any other. Our highest aim is to have our patrons look upon us as trusted friends, ready and anxious to render sympathetic assistance to those who remain behind.

B. R. FELLOWS,
Funeral Director.
Still Pond, Md.

ar27
Phone 3

These Cars Must Be Sold!

ELIASON MOTORS

Chestertown, Maryland

SNOODLES — By Cy Hungerford

"MICKY" AND HIS GANG — By Sam Iger

DOROTHY DARNIT — By Charles McManus

