RADIANT LIVING

How Do They Get That Way?

By Rev. C. M. Griffeth
Pastor Calvary M. E. Church
Sudlersville, Md.

It was a case of deliberate suicide. She had made careful plans, left specific instructions, and then turned on the gas.

When I heard of the tragedy of her life I thought of her as of years ago when as a little girl she wore a head of curls and a bright smile. I thought of her too when as approaching womanhood she possessed beauty and charm and had all the opportunities of life. And then to think, it all came to this—suicide!

My thoughts carried me farther afield. I thought of the change that comes in all life. I thought of those that I used to know. But now, how changed they are from what they used to be! And, undoubtedly, I too, am changing. Am I changing for the worse or for the better?

Shall still more years of battle against discouragements, disappointments and losses leave upon me such an effect as to lower my aspirations, narrow my love and incarcerate me into selfishness and bitterness that often attends age? Or shall I by spiritual victory mount above the effects of material change upon life and its happiness?

Is there not some way by which I ca nfind protcetion from a deteroratinc change in life?

Jesus Christ lived so fully for others that He thought not of His own sufferings. Perhaps here is the secret.

Let me today live more largely for others, and I shall be assured of a happy tomorrow!
