FOOTBALL GAME HERE TODAY

Mt. St. Mary's To Be Visitors

Washington College will play its first home foot ball game of the season to-day when Mt. St. Mary's will be the visitors. The visitors are considered to be a little stronger than Washington although the success of the local eleven in the past two games shows additional strength of the local eleven. Playing on the home grounds also helps to even the strength of the two teams.

The annual meeting of these two teams is always an interesting game and the game today brings together two teams that started the season with losses but that recently have moved into a winning streak.

Boy Scouts To Be Guests

The day will be the annual fall homecoming for alumni and the Boy Scouts of the Eastern Shore will be guests of the college on this occasion. In addition to the game, Dr. Gilbert W. Mead will welcome the Scouts at a Court of Honor over which Mr. Wallace Williams will preside. Comptroller William S. Gordy will invest the new tenderfoot scouts.

Included in the day's program will be unveiling of tablets to Dr. James W. Cain and the late Dr. Charles W. Reid, former presidents of the college.

ART WEEK TO BE OBSERVED HERE

Local Artists To Display Work

"American Art Week to be celebrated here, is a significant movement throughout the United States under the leadership of American artists' Professional League, Inc., with the object of arousing wide spread interest in contemporary visual art by showing the people in each locality every year, thruoghout the first week in November what their own artists and art students are doing."

Kent County with one or more artists from Queen Anne's is going to join this movement for the first time under the direction of Mrs. Hohman, of Baltimore. Every county in Maryland is having an exhibition of its local art. Through the kindness of Miss Margaret Jefferson, Mr. A. L. Sparks, Mr. W. M. Culp, Mr. B. L. Bonnett, Mr. J. S. Kreeger, and Mr. J. M. Todd, (manager of Nathan's) their store windows will show paintings and craft work done by artists living in Kent County. Several in the list are summer residents only.

A room at the Armory will have an exhibit in conection with the Country Fair, November 4-5-6. Some things are to be loaned; others, will be for sale, and all exhibitions are free to the public. Many sketches made in this locality will be of interest to the community. Those exhibiing are: Miss Johanna Boericke, Caccaway Point; Mrs. M. J. Callahan, Quaker Neck; Mrs. Olive Bailey, Quaker Neck; Mrs. J. Corrington, Chestertown; Mrs. Thos. Eliason, Chestertown; Dr. Esther Dole, Chestertown; Mr. Harold Hallett, Fairlee; Mrs. D. W. Ingersoll, Quaker Neck; Mrs. Stewart Moore, Quaker Neck; Mrs. Laurence Ford, Chestertown; Mr. Geo. Hall Chester, Queen Anne's; Mr. Charles West, Jr., Centreville; Mrs. G. Kratzer Wood, Chestertown; Miss Joan Kellogg Smith, Quaker Neck; Miss Patsy Branham, Chestertown; Mr. Neal Truslow, Chestertown; Miss Mary Stokes, Still Pond; Mrs. Lulu Walker, Rock Hall; Mr. Ammel, Rock Hall; Alan Eliason, Chestertown.

Others may join this group at the last minute. A jury of three will judge the exhibits and the best work will be sent to Baltimore on an exhibiion of the winners work from each county. Prizes are to be awarded.

STATF ROAD GROUP HERE WEDNESDAY

Maps Road Program For Coming Year

Members of the State Roads Commission met with the Kent County Commissioners on Wednesday and discussed maintenance of the secondary road system of the county.

The Roads Commission was represented by Dr. Homer E. Tabler, chairman of the State Roads Commission; Frank F. Luthardt and C. Nice Wilkinson, members of the Commission; Nathan L. Smith, chief engineer of the Commission; Robert M. Reindollar, assistant chief engineer; William A. Codd, auditor and Rolph Townshend, district engineer. They were met by Messrs. G. Ellsworth Leary, Andrew W. Wilson and George T. Williams.

One of the facts brought out at the meeting was that the Commission is planning to spend approximately $2,500 a month for the maintenance of the secondary road system in the county making a total expenditure of $36,000. It will be remembered that the Commissioners levied $30,000 for this work last year which will mean an even expenditure of funds.

This action on the part of the State Commission, however, places the expenditure for dirt roads on a definite foundation as here-to-fore the county has been billed for whatever expenditure was made. The necessity of levying for dirt road maintenance was caused by the large reduction in Kent's share of the gasoline tax thereby being one of the causes for the increase in the tax rate in this county.

The question of wages was also discussed and it was intimated by the Commission that efforts are being made to stnadardise the hourly rates at 30c for labor, 35c for chauffers, and 40c for foremen with a fourty hour week.

The visit to the counties by the State Commission is thought to be for the purpose of counteracting any effort to bring county roads back under the control of the County Commissioners of the various counties.

SIX PUBLIC LECTURE COURSES TO BE HELD AT WASHINTON COLLEGE

Affords Opportunity To Public Without Cost

Program Includes Three Arts and Three Science Lectures

Washington College has announced a series of public addresses to be given by members of the faculty that promise an intellectual treat for those within driving distance of the Chestertown institution.

The general theme of the series is "The World of Today," and each speaker will describe recent developments in a particular field and so tie the various subjects together as to present the latest summary of our complex modern civilization.

The natural sciences, social sciences, humanities and arts will all be represented so that no matter the nature of one's interest, there should be one or more of the lectures that will prove attractive. The speakers will present their subjects in popular language, avoiding professional jargon and technicalities, and as far as possible each address will be illustrated by experiments, lantern slides or other visual material.

Present plans call for a series of six lectures to be presented during the late fall and early winter months. There will be followed by a second series in the late winter and early spring should attendance at the first six indicate that the program is being well received. In other words, according to a spokesman of the College, it is up to the Kent and Queen Anne's communities to demonstrate by their attendance whether or not this service is appreciated and a continuation desired. Doubtless such lectures will become a permanent feature of Chestertown social life if they receive such support.

Th first speaker of the initial series will be Dr. Jesse J. Coop, head of the Physics Department, who will describe and demonstrate with apparatus how the photo-electric cell works and how it is being used in the many recent applications that have been so widely featured in the metropolitan press. His address will also include remarks and demonstrations on several other modern devices in the field of physics, and is scheduled for 8 P. M., Monday, November 8, in the Assembly Room of William Smith Hall.

Other speakers will follow on successive Monday evenings, with an occasional interruption due to a holiday or presence of an out-of-town lecturer visiting the Washington College campus.

Dr. Buxton will present numerous recent developments in chemistry, while Dr. Corrington will sum up the latest findings in human biology, with especial reference to genetics and eugenics.

In the social sciences, Dr. Davis plans a talk on present-day social conditions in Germany, Prof. Dumschott will contrast the several newer schools of government and political theory, Prof. Goodwin will discuss the rise of the individual in modern society and Dr. Livingood the applicatons of psychology to every day life in busines, the school and other fields.

For the humanities and arts, President Mead will speak on certain trends in English literature, Dr. Ingalls the detective story theme, Prof. Solandt the renaissance of the classics, Dr. Dole various movements in art, Prof. Toles the drama, Prof. Ford the opera, while Mr. Moffett and Miss Russell will unite to discuss and interpret instrumentally selected topics in the realm of music.

Addiional announcements will appear in advance of each of these evenings of entertainment. The public is cordially invited to all of these lectures and there is to be no admission charge. Those interested in keeping in touch with the world of today are urged to tell their friends of this series and to plan to attend as many as possible.

COURT TERM ENDED HERE WEDNESDAY

Crew Will Case Settled

The October term of the Circuit Court for Kent County adjourned on Wednesday upon the completion of the criminal and civil docket.

Among the cases tried this week were:

Joseph Farr, colored, plead guilty to the larceny of the automobile of Mr. W. O. Draper and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

Katie Chester, colored was found guilty of bigamy and sentenced to 18 months in the penitentiary.

Edward Price, colored, was found guilty of man-slaughter and sentenced to 18 months. Price was the driver of an automobile near Millington in which two colored people were killed.

Charles Quigley received a verdict of $459 as a result of a suit against Miss Mary McKee.

An application for grounds for establishing oyster planting near the Eastern Neck Island bridge was denied to Mr. J. Walter Scoone. The hearing was before a jury and the application was protested by watermen living in that section.

The case of Alfred A. Crew, et al, vs. Annie Copper in which the former was endeavoring to upset the will of the late Hyland Crew was settled out of Court.

Betty Lewis Named Hallowe'en Queen

Miss Betty Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lewis of Chestertown and a student at Temple Business School in Washington, D. C., has been selected at Hallowe'en Queen of that city during activities tonight. The selection was made from 27 contestants by The Greater National Committee.

Miss Lewis and her attendants will review the parade from a Court of Honor to be located on Constitution Avenue.

Attacked On Chester River Bridge

Miss Maude Duyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Duyer, was attacked by a white man while walking across Chester River bridge early Wednesday evening. She beat her assailant with a package which she had in her hand and the approach of an automobile frightened him away. The attack occured near the Chestertown end of the bridge.

Lack of lights on the bridge makes it dangerous for ladies at night. The small settlement across the bridge makes its necessary as a walk way.

The attack is a reminder of the attacks on Washington Avenue recently.

Fire Destroys Barn

Fire destroyed the barn on the Oldfield Point Farm near Galena last Monday. Stored in the barn were 1000 bushels of apples, 500 of which were destroyed.

The Millington Fire Company, with the assistance of neighbors, prevented the fire from spreading to other buildings.

This property is owned by Mr. Harry B. Cannon, formerly of York, Pa.
