CHURCH NOTES

RADIANT LIVING

Man's Greatest Friend

By Rev. C. M. Griffeth
Pastor Calvary M. E. Church
Sudlersville, Md.

Many a lonely heart when discouraged by disappointment, or disturbed by perplexity, or distracted by sorrow has wished for a real friend upon whom to lean for support.

And, thank God, you can have just such a friend, one whose friendship will make you life really radiant with joy. Like a child upon his mother's bossom, you may rest in Him.

This friend, the greatest that a Love! 'He is one with whom you have a continuous fellowship. You may not always be conscious of His presence, but you can be conscious of this—that you are in fellowship with Infinite Love.'

To have the friendship of God is to have all the blessedness that attends that friendship.

Unlike many so-called friendsairs man can have, is the God of Infinite that vanish when trouble assails, God's friendship becomes more and more manifest as your trouble becomes intensified. Should you be plunged into the raging furnace, as were the three Hebrew youths, He walks by your side. Should you be thrown into the lions, as was Daniel, behold. He has proceeded you and locked the lions' mouths.

What a blessed hour it is for that soul, who, learning the folly of trusting earthly friends, turns unreservedly to the Infinite God.

To know God aright is to walk in Infinite Light. To know Him as is our privilege to know Him is to bask in Infinite Love. To know Him as He would have us know Him is to thrill in Infinite Life!
