MYSTERY—

From the Skies

A piece of mysterious apparatus flying through the skies on a parachute picked out the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Dill at Hainesville, Kent County, as its final resting place... Mrs. Dill found it in her yard Friday, November 6.

The mysterious object is an octagon shaped cylinder about a foot high and 6 inches across, painted white with the number 119 painted in black letters... A piece of metal combing about an inch high protects a delicate piece of mechanism on the bottom. The cylinder contained two radio tubes and battery and the mechanism ticks similar to a clock.

It evidently was suspended from a white rubber ballon as a rim with white rubber is attached and when the balloon burst it came riding gently to earth on a red silk parachute.

A phone call to the Aberdeen Proving Grounds revealed that the object did not come from there and they had no idea what it could be unless it was sent up by the Weather Bureau... However, they appreciated the call and if any of their equipment gets loose they would like to be informed.

Any information as to what the mysterious object is, would be appreciated.

COMMUNITY TREE PLANTING NOW ON

Fifty Trees Planted This Week

Work started this week on the fall planting of trees along the streets of Chestertown and highways leading into town.

The method by which these trees are secured and planted, which was worked out by the Rotary Club under the direction of Mr. Robert Nicholson, is that property owners purchase the trees at the cost of approximately $1 and Mayor and Council and State Roads Commission furnish the labor for the planting.

The fifty trees planted this week included those purchased by individuals, a number for the parks purchased by Our Garden Club and replacements on the Quaker Neck road purchased by the Rotary Club.

This tree planting program, which years has been a wonderful improvehas been underway for the past four ment to the town and promises to bring back the beautiful shaded streets for which this town was noted before concrete street and sidewalk improvements destroyed the trees.

FIRST POULTRY SCHOOL HELD HERE

All Day Session Attracts Many Poultrymen

The Maryland Poultry Department, of the University of Maryland, held their first School at the Truslow Poultry Farm, Chestertown, on Tuesday of this week with approximately 125 leading poultry raisers attending. The School started promptly at 9 A. M. and lasted all day. Dr. Jull, formerly Head of the U. S. Poultry Department and now Head of the State Poultry Department, was in charge.

Following an address by Dr. Jull, outlining the purpose of the School, which included the selection of breeding stock, hatching eggs, baby chicks, and its effect on improving the already high quality stock of this section, Dr. Byerly discussed nutrition and its value to breeding stock, emphasizing the importance and economy of green feed in a poultry ration.

Mr. W. H. Rice followed this discussion with a demonstration of the essential standard qualifications of the Barred Rock, White Leghorn, and New Hampshire Red. Mr. Charles Williams then gave the class a lot of valuable information on how to select birds for production and how and when to eliminate hens that are not profitable to keep.

The entire class was then required to demonstrate their culling and selecting ability. The Truslow Brothers had arranged a display of birds in their large hatchery building. This display consisted of eight cockerels, eight hens, and eight pullets of three different breeds; namely, Barred Rocks, White Leghorns, and New Hampshires. Everyone in the class was given score cards on which they were obliged to approve or reject each bird and give the reason.

This School proved to be so successful that Dr. Jull is planning to hold similar schools at convenient points throughout the state once or twice a year. This is a new feature, the purpose of which is to improve the poultry of the state of Maryland. Undoubtedly, this plan, which was originated by Dr. Jull and the Truslow Brothers, who have the oldest breeding plant in America, will be adopted by many other states.

DUCKS PLENTIFUL IN THE UPPERBAY

Seven sportsmen from Kent County attended a dinner meeting of Ducks Unlimited in Baltimore on Wednesday evening of this week.

Included in the local were Philip G. Wilmer, chairman for the Eastern Shore, Col. Hiram S. Brown, J. Brown Metcalfe, Senator Arthur Brice, Dr. A. C. Dick, Carlton Kelsey and Deputy Game Warden, Joseph Watson.

The national organization has adopted a budget with which to reclaim a large area in Canada for duck breeding purposes and has set the quota for Maryland at $20,000, half of which has already been subscribed.

Among the speakers at the meeting was Mr. Philip Wilmer who told of the work accomplished in the Eastern Shore Counties.

Mr. E. Lee LeCompt, State Game Warden, stated that there are more ducks in Chesapeake Bay than for many years, sixty per cent of which are above Poole Island and include large numbers of canvas back and red heads. He attributed the large supply to an abundance of water in the Canadian breeding areas.

A drive for funds to complete the budget of this State will start next Monday and continue for two weeks.

FIRE DAMAGE HOME OF JOHN R. DIERKER

Rock Hall and Chestertown Answer Alarm

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Dierker, near Tolchester, was damaged by fire Tuesday morning. The fire started in a basket of wood near the kitchen stove at a time when both Mr. or Mrs. Dierker were out of the house. When descovered the entire kitchen was in flames and the heat and smoke in the living room prevented them from getting to the telephone necessitating sending to a neighbor in order to phone for help. In the mean time with the help of the farm labor and neighbors a bucket brigade did excellent work in controling and finally extinguishing the fire before three fire trucks, two from Rock Hall and one from Chestertown arrived on the scene.

This property is owned by the Tolchester Estates Company.

E. B. Dukes Gets Service Award

On Friday, Nov. 5, Mr. E. Bonwill Dukes completed his 20th year service with The Prudential Insurance Company of America and became a Class D members of the Prudential Old Guard, an organization composed of employees having served the company honorably and efficiently for 5 years or more.

In honor of the event, Mr. A. A. Hearn, Supt. of the Dover, Del., District, visited the Chestertown office Saturday morning and held a very interesting meeting after which, in behalf of the company, he presented Mr. Dukes with a beautiful watch charm emblematical of the 20 years service.

Mr. Dukes entered the service of the company on Nov. 5, 1917, then enlisted in the Marine Corps June, 1918, spent three months in training at Paris Island, S. C., and Quantico, Va., and embarked for overseas service on the U. S. S. De Kalb from the Philadelphia Navy Yard. He was honorably discharged from the service on August 11, 1919, and resumed his connections with the Prudential on September 1, 1919, in the Chester, Pa., District where worked until Dec., 1920, when upon his request he was transferred back to the Chestertown office and his old Debit No. 1 of which he has had charge since that time.

His thorough knowledge of the business, honesty, courtesy, and service to his policy-holders has enabled Mr. Dukes to make a record year after year that has made him an outsanding Life Insurance Underwriter not only in the eyes of his company, but the community in which he operates as well, and must be listed among our self made young men.

Mr. Dukes was congrautlate upon his splendid service record and achievements during that time, and heartily wished many more y ears of success and happiness.

NEWS OF ROCK HALL HIGH SCHOOL

For the first time in many years both the boy's soccer team and the girls fieldball team of Rock Hall have won their first intercounty games.

The soccer game was played on Chestertown field, Tuesday 9th, and provided many thrills for the spectators. In the first five minutes of the game, Robert Tucker scored for Rock Hall and gave them a 2-0 lead. They immediately fell back on the defence and played that way for most of the game. When a penalty shot brought the score to 2-1, it was a question of whether the boys could keep the ball out of their goal for the remaining few minutes. For a few tense moments the ball almost slipped through, but due to the commendable work of E. Nordoff, goalkeeper, the ball was forced safely away from the goal. The score remained 2-1 and the boys are ready for their next game at Chesapeake City on Monday 15th.

Skinned knees and sore muscles are to be seen on eleven happy girls this week as the after-effects of the fieldball game with Centreville. The game was very one-sided, but several breaks made by the Centreville girls toward Rock Hall goal kept the game interesting. The final score was 22-2 (first goal against our team this season) and goals by Nita Lussier, Mae Mench, Blanche Dowling, Ida Whaland, and Betty Lussier brought about this lop-sided score.

Their next game is gaainst North East on 15th at Chestertown H. S.

Everybody was in a jubilant mood for the Junior social held Tuesday night at the high school auditorium. A record crowd attended and enjoyed the games, prizes, and refreshments offered. About thirty dollars was taken in and will go into the bank for future use of the Junior class. We wish to extend our thanks to all those who attended.

Thursday morning was made doubly interesting by the moving pictures shown in the auditorium. A short comedy from Esops Fables brought much laughter. The new feature was the entire film of "a Girl of the Timber lost." Very few details were amitted and although it ran for almost 1½ hours, everybody enjoyed it. Our next picture will be "Black Beauty" and we hope it is just as enjoyable.
