THE COMMUNITY has suffered a decided loss in the death of William H. Medders. His record in Kent County was an enviable one both as a citizen and business man. The sympathy of this entire section of the county goes to his bereaved parents and sisters who contributed so greatly to making him a good citizen and able lawyer.

The plan to reorganize the Kent County Chamber of Commerce promises to be a worthy one because an active organization looking to the interests of the entire county creates a healthy condition. Too often people expect an organization of this kind to solve all questions over-night and are unaware of the accomplishments brought about by public spirited citizens who donate their time and efforts to the betterment of the entire community. A lot has been and can be accomplished by an active Chamber of Commerce.

THE SEASON for shooting ducks and geese closes at 4 p. m. Christmas Day. Due to Federal regulations the waterfowl hunting season has been very unsatisfactory with few exceptions. Of the river ducks that are unprotected, practically all shooting in this section is confined to whifflers and blackheads and many hunters have had difficulty in getting these species to tole without using bait which is prohibited by law. The season is open on marsh ducks but the usual method of hunting this type is with live decoys and as live decoys are prohibited by law one going hunting must almost carry a law book with him to keep from violating the law.

WITH ONLY ONE more week of shopping before Christmas then we again call attention of shoppers to the advantages and necessities of shopping as far as possible in their local communities. It is not a question of sentiment but one of good sound business policy. The prosperity of the merchants has a direct effect upon the prosperity of the communities and the more prosperous a community is the more it can offer to those residing within and without the various towns. Merchants are liberal contributors to all worthy enterprises and can be depended on to always do their part. Is it then not reasonable for them to expect the public to patronize their stores, particularly when these stores can offer shoppers equal advantages with other communities. It is said that "Grass always looks greener on the other side of the fence" but too often when the effort of breaking down the fence is completed it is found to be an optical illusion.

FROM OBSERVATIONS at the dairy meeting in Kent County this week two things were very evident. First that Philadelphia milk dealers value this section as a source of milk supply and second that leaders of the Interstate Association believe more can be accomplished for producers by cooperating with the dealers than continually maintaining a hostile attitude. These leaders maintain that both the dealer and producer are interested in increasing the consumption of milk and that a better working agreements between the wholesale buyer and producer can be accomplished through friendly relations than through hostile methods. The relation between dealer and producer are merely relations between buyer and seller. Business has long since found out that buyer and seller relations most be friendly. This does not mean that each should not hold out for their rights but rights can be better seen by both parties if they are not too hostile to each other. Another evident fact that was brought out at the meeting is that local producers are ably represented by the Interstate and that that organziation should be held together and strengthened by the membership of all dairymen. The dairymen would be at the mercy of the dealer if he acted alone but by unified cooperation they can rest assured that their interests are ably cared for. The manager of the Interstate suggested that if Kent County is to take the place it should in the dairy industry some plan of rental should be worked out whereby both the landlord and tenant should share in the dairy industry. This a a delicate subject in Kent County as it is the subject of much discontent, but if it is holding back the progress and welfare of both parties the suggestion may be worth consideration. We, being neither landlord or tenant make no recommendations but leave the subject to those better acquainted to discuss it.

QUAKER NECK NEWS

Mrs. Lulu O'Meara entertained her nephew and wife last week end, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson, of Baltimore at her home in Quaker Neck Wharf.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper Elliott, of Baltimore, were guests of Mrs. Lulu E. Startt on Monday. The Elliotts were also guests of Mrs. Howard W. Hadaway in Fairlee over Sunday. Mr. Elliott is a retired fireman of Baltimore City. We are glad to know Mrs. Hadaway is convalencent at her home after an operation in the local hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stanley Goodman and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dickerson and mother and father spent Sunday with the latters daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Hilyard in Millington.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Watson visited friends near Rock Hall last Sunday.

Mr. Amos Crouch and son, Roy, of Baltimore, were Saturday and Sunday visitors of the formers daughter and family Mrs. Belle Dickerson.

Mr. Frank Stoops returned home on Sunday after a short stay in Baltimore.

The jointly meeting of Bond and Mowbray Epworth League's was held Sunday, Dec. 12 at Bond. George F. Walbert being the leader opened by singing "All Hail The Power of Jesus Name," reading and then song "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," prayer by pastor, Rev. Truitt. "The great new and old songs," Mrs. J. Frank Hadaway gave an interesting reading on the topic. Solo by Miss Emily Jewell, "The Holy City," which was followed by talks by Mr. George Carroll and Mr. Robert Goodman. Mrs. Elsie Walbert sang a solo, "It Was For Me," with Mrs. Mary Griffith at the piano. The offering was taken up by Doris Legg and Ruth Dickerson, Mrs. Griffith at the piano during the offering. Dr. and Mrs. Livingood gave a love by selection with violin and piano called "Slumber Song" which all enjoyed. We appreciate more than we can say the fine cooperation we have received from the Epworth League's and visiting help.

Pupils from Cliffs and Pomona Schools with their teachers as well as many other children from Quaker Neck enjoyed Monday afternoon seeing Santa Claus in Chestertown.

Among those who attended the Ladies Auxiliary of the Firemen in Chestertown on Friday night from Quaker Neck were Mrs. Frank Shinn, Mrs. Norman Lee, Mrs. Arthur Burris, Vickers Walbert.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Walbert and Calvin motored to Howard County to spend Sunday with their son and daughter in law, Mr. and Mrs. Royston Walbert and baby girl. Mrs. Walbert remained for the week and expects to be home tomorrow.

Doris Legg attended a group of girls and boys meeting, in which several ministers were present from the county, in Miss Schellingers office on Friday night. Daddy Jinks also was there to greet the boys and girls. He is from University of Maryland, College Park.

Mr. A. C. Loud in Wilkins' Lane has been quite sick. We are glad to report he's much better now.

We were sorry to learn of the death of Miss Fannie DeCorse in Chestertown. She was well known here, having lived here many years of her younger life with her parents.

An error last week in the item of the duck shooting was Dr. Tutter, it should have read Dr. Turner, of Chestertown, Sorry.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Crowding and children of Pomona, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crowding at Worton.

Mrs. D. W. Ingersoll has returned home after being in Chicago for several week's while there she painted sveeral minatures. Her son, Gilbert, who has been in Mass., is expected home probably this week end to enjoy the Chrismtas holidays. Mrs. Ingersol is expecting to have as holiday guests Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Jenkins, of College Park. He is better known to the county as Daddy Jenks.

Mowbray Chapel Christmas entertainment will be held on Dec. 23rd at the Church. Cliffs School with Miss Stoops as teacher will have theirs in the afternoon. Santa Claus will be present at both times.

Miss Martha Loud, a returned missionary formerly of Quaker Neck and Chestertown will talk in the morning services at 11 o'clock, Dec. 19, in Bond Church. Come out to hear her.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 168.
