THE SOCIAL WANDERER

DEAR ROAMER:

Happy New Year all over again, and I'll say this for 1938, it was ushered in in grand style. Many were the guests, loud was the noise, merry were the minds and numerous were the activities. This week we are all trying to settle down and lead a normal life once more. However, it's kinda hard after two strenuous weeks of dashing hither and yon to open the work basket piled high, to strip the house of decorations, to put the glittering balls and reins of tinsels back in their cubby holes, find places for the Christmas presents you'll never use, decide whether to keep or throw away your cards and first or last, write all those thank you notes, to Uncle John, Aunt Maria, Cousin Sue and the rest. Well, that's been the life in the first week of every New Year, so don't blame 1938 for that anyway.

As they say at the business meetings "Any old business?" Yes, two or three items, before I start on the "new business."

Going back to last Thursday before New Year's Miss Laura Whitworth entertained the Junior set at a supper dance given at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Whitworth, on Club Road. On New Year's Eve, Phil M. Brooks, Jr., entertained the crowd, more of the college age, at a dinner party before the dance at the club.

On New Year's night, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Metcalfe were hosts at a dinner bridge in honor of their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hooven, of Lansdowne.

So much for last week's social doings that I have not previously mentioned. I might add that we all did have an elegant time up at the Woodalls "open house" and it was a great party.

Additional guests here during the holidays included Mr. and Mrs. Morton Coale, of Philadelphia, guests of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Beck.

Miss Gloria V. Eck, of Baltimore, returned home Sunday, after spending the Christmas holidays at "Fairview Farm", with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. Weldon Waldon Walbert. Miss Eck greatly enjoyed the fox hunting of the week.

Mr. Frank English, of Salisbury, N. C., has been the guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kreeger, here.

Miss Nancy Quillen, of Annapolis, was a guest of her aunt, Mrs. Louis Robinson, during Christmas week.

Misses Dora McIntire, of East Orange, N. J., and Madge Wilkinson of Philadelphia, were week end guests of Mrs. Maggie R. McIntire.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Moyer, of Baltimore, were guests over the week end at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Wheatley.

Miss Betty Thibodeau, who is employed in Baltimore, spent the week-end at home. She was accompanied by her father, Mr. Louis J. Thibodeau of Waterbury, Conn.

Mrs. Ella P. Robinson had as Christmas week-end guests her son, William A. Robinson, of Pittsburgh, and Miss Mary Wright, of Philadelphia. Mrs. Robinson and her son entertained informally at their home Christmas night.

As for the travellers, some go North, some go South, some go East and some go West.

Miss Virginia Jones left Sunday for a visit of a month with friends in Gallup, New Mexico, having leave from her position in Baltimore for that period of time.

Mr. W. S. Collins left Tuesday for St. Petersburg, Fla., where he expects to remain for the balance of the winter season.

Miss Lottie P. Peacock, spent the Christmas holidays with relatives and friends in Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. James G. Metcalfe, Mrs. Karl Melamet and Mr. James L. Bacchus motored to New York on Tuesday, where Mrs. Melamet will remain with her brother throughout the week. Mrs. Metcalfe is now in Bronxville, as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Louis Skinner. There she will remain until next week during the recuperation of Miss Ellen Skinner from an automobile accident which occurred a few days before Christmas.

Mrs. Browne Metcalfe is out after having been confined to her bed for two weeks with an abscess.

Mrs. H. Clay Brown has been confined to her bed this past week due to a sudden illness.

On Sunday, Mrs. Robert Jefferds, of Charlestown, W. Va., came to visit her sister, Mrs. Browne Metcalfe. During her visit she has been entertained much informally.

Mrs. J. Thos. Kibler was hostess at a small luncheon on Wednesday and Mrs. Rolph Townshend entertained at luncheon on Friday in Mrs. Jefferd's honor.

The largest and most unusual party of the week was given on Thursday ngiht by Mrs. William A. Jackson and her son, Mr. Harold Hallett at their home, Jackstead. T'was a Twelfth night party, given in the spirit of days of old. The guests were donned in masquerade as ordered by the unique invitations mailed some days ago. The Wassail bowl, the King of Bean, the Queen of Pease held sway, and their court assembled.

Burning of the greens followed. The sup offered as its main dish the traditional veal and kidney pie, but for those who disdained, all the glorious food of the Eastern Sho was in abundance. The Epiphany cake towered as ye entered, games were played, photographers from Life flashed their cameras, and the Christmas season was brought to an end as in France, England and Rome in by-gone days. Yes, it was a wonderful party.

Congratulations are being received at the present time by Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hill of near Kennedyville, upon the birth of their granddaughter, Sylvia Kay Wandell. The new arrival was born in The Harrisburg Hospital, at Harrisburg, Penna., 11.30 p. m. on the night of December 26th. Mrs. Wandel, who will be remembered as the former Miss M. Kathleen Hill is now residing at 221 Schuylkill St., Harrisburg, Pa., where her husband, J. G. Wandell is now stationed by the United States Treasury Department at the present time. Both mother and daughter are in the best of health, and desire to return thanks to the hosts of old friends from Kent County who are wishing them well.

It seems as if no week passes without an engagement being announced that is of interest here. Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Ebsworth have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elsie Ebsworth to Dr. Robert W. Farr, of Chestertown.

Miss Ebsworth, a graduate of Western Maryland College, is a teacher in the Baltimore school system. Dr. Farr, is a graduate of Washington College and the University of Maryland is a practicing physician here. No date has been set for the wedding.

The date, hour and dead line for me to stop has been set and I'm running overtime now so "that's all folks" this time.

Yours, merely yours,

THE WANDERER

BASKET BALL AT ARMORY TONIGHT

Western Maryland To Be Visitors

Washington College will play its first home State League game tonight, Saturday, when Western Maryland will be the visitors. Western Maryland always proves to be a worthy opponent on the basket ball floor and the game will no doubt, draw a large number of fans.

Defeated Hopkins Thursday

Washington added to one State game to its credit Thursday night by defeating Hopkins 38 to 32.

The Shoremen, guarding carefully on defense, controlling the rebounds on attack and exhibiting somewhat sharper marksmanship, led practically throughout the game. Leon Horowitz, with 17 points, was high scorer, but Billy Smith and Goop Zebrowski played fine supporting ball, and Mike Kardash, newcomer to the quintet, displayed a lot of speed and ability, though his shots refused to drop.

Washington was playing within its strength, however, and was constantly able to pierce the Jays' defense, which was quite ineffective at times. The Shoremen held a margin of leadership and with 10 minutes remaining had possession of the same four points advantage, this time at 32 to 28.

Horowitz widened this with a one-handed shot that connected, and Kardash put in a rebound to make it 36 to 28, with 6 minutes remaining.

McLain, who graduated at Washington College last June, and was a member of the basket ball team, was in the Hopkins lineup.
