Sarah E. Rawleigh
vs.
Charles Albert Rawleigh

In the Circuit Court for Kent County
In Equity No. 3075

The object of the Bill filed in the above entitled case is to procure a Decree for divorce a vinculo matrimonii.

The Bill states:

1. That on March 3rd, 1904, Sarah E. Rawleigh was married to a certain Charles Albert Rawleigh of Kent County in the State of Maryland, with whom she has been living until the 14th day of November, 1934.

2. That though the conduct of your Oratrix towards her husband, the said Charles Albert Rawleigh, has always been kind, affectionate and above reproach, the said Charles Albert Rawleigh had, without any just cause or reason, abandoned and deserted her, and has declared his intention to live with her no longre, and that such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for at least three years, and is deliberate and final and beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation.

3. That there has been born to said parties nine children, three of whom are living as follows: Walter Rawleigh, aged 28, born February 1st, 1909; Charles Albert, Jr., aged 25, born Jan. 18th, 1912; and Robert Hope Rawleigh, aged 13 years, born Aug. 13th, 1923, and that said Complainant requests the custody of said child. Your Complainant does not desire to cause any estrangement between the infant child and his father and is willing for said child to see and visit his father for a reasonable time each year.

4. That since said separation the said Charles Albert Rawleigh has not contributed to the support of herself or their children.

5. That for some years past the said Charles Albert Rawleigh, her husband, has treated her with great cruelty, harshness and brutality, at times striking and beating her and on or about November 14th, 1934, his conduct became so intolorable that she was obliged to leave his house.

6. That he has ever since by threats and violence prevented her from returning to his said house and has refused to permit her to live with him and will not contribute anything to her support.

7. That ever since the said marriage your Oratrix has behaved herself as a faithful, affectionate and chaste wife towards the said Charles Albert Rawleigh and her entire conduct has always been beyond reproach.

8. That your Oratrix is wholly destitute of means of supporting herself during the pendency of this suit, or of defraying the costs and expenses attending the presecution of the same.

It is thereupon, this 18th day of December, 1937, ordered by the Circuit Court for Kent County in Equity, that the Plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Kent County, once in each of four successive weeks before the 17th day of January next, give notice to the said Charles Albert Rawleigh, non-resident defendant, warning him to appear in this Court in person, or by Solicitor, on or before the 1st day of February next, to show cause, if any he has, why a Decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

ON THE SCREEN AT THE NEW LYCEUM

Reproducing the picturesque campus and many of the imposing buildings of America's famous West Point played an important part in the filming of "Rosalie", the super-lavish new musical which brings Nelson Eddy and Eleanor Powell to the New Lyceum on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, January 17, 18 and 19 in a co-starring vehicle which is described as outshining even "The Great Ziegfeld" in its spectacular brilliance of cast and production values.

W. S. Van Dyke II, who directed "Rosalie," is famed for his insistence on accuracy in reproducing famous landmarks. Accordingly, even the chorus boys in the musical were drilled for weeks in the regulation West Point maneuvers.

Nelson Eddy, himself, took special military training from a veteran army officer in order that his acting as a West Point football hero and cadet might be authentic. For a period of four months the famous baritone in practice drill. Alternating this with hours of singing, Eddy had little time left for social activities.

On the shoulders of Miss Powell and Ray Bolger, two of the country's finest tap dancers, fell the privilege of distorting the military precision taught in West Point. Bolger gives an exhibition of his brilliant comic dancing. Miss Powell, disguised as a cadet, teaches the amazed troopers some new and very fancy maneuvers while drums are thumping and trumpets blaring.

Many West Point campus scenes were reproduced in fullest detail for the picture. Studio experts made the trek across the country to photograph and measure important settings. Hence, when Eddy and Miss Powell are seen talking to each other at the top of a knoll, it is shown as a faithful copy of the famous Flirtation Walk. Other scenes are similarly authentic.

"Rosalie" comes to the screen written and produced by William Anthony McQuire who coolaborated with Guy Bolton in writing the original Broadway version. The supporting cast includes Frank Morgan, Edna May Oliver, Ilona Massey, Billy Gilbert and Reginald Owen. Nine new Cole Porter songs are heard in the eye-dazzling production.

Quite appropriate just now, with Washington, D. C., as a seething news center, is a comedy picture dealing with a phase of the capital's life that hasn't been presented on the screen before—namely, a story of the "parlor politics" played by the wives of governmental office holders.

Just such a thing is "First Lady," which comes on Thursday and Friday, January 20 and 21 to the New Lyceum Theatre, with Kay Francis in the leading role. She portrays an ambitious wife, who wants her husband Preston Foster to be President so she can enjoy all the social privileges of being Mistress of the White House.

But manipulating a man into the nominating for the Presidency is no easy matter, as Kay finds when she runs athwart Verree Teasdale, who has the same ambitions and tries to push her husband forward for the job—Walter Connolly.

The sly maneuverings of Kay and Verree—plus a young romance between Victor Jory and Anita Louise—make up the story, which was based, of course, on the successful Broadway stage play of the same name.

"First Lady" was directed excellently by Stanley Logan, from a screenplay devised by Rowland Leigh. Besides those named, the cast includes such notables as Marjorie Rambeau, Louise Fazenda, Henry O'Neil, and Grant Mitchell.

BORN TO THE WEST

Handsome John Wayne rides to adventure and romance in "Born to the West," the one Grey romance with Marsha Hunt, John Mack Brown and many others, showing on Saturday, January 22 at the New Lyceum.

GLAMOROUS FIRST LADY of the screen, Kay Francis, plays the title role in the screen adaptation of the Katharine Dayton-George S. Kaufman stage success, "First Lady," coming to the New Lyceum on Thursday, Friday, January 20 and 21.

GLIMPES FROM SHORE COUNTIES

Bang's Disease Suit

Frederick—A verdict for $450 was awarded Paul M. Gaver in his suit for $5,000 against Charles M. King, Carroll county stock dealer, on the ground King had sold him cattle falsely represented as sound that had infected his herd with Bang's disease. The jury deliberated five hours. The defense contended King acted in good faith and that eighteen months elapsed before Gaver discovered his herd was infected.

Entertained At White House

The Women's Eastern Shore Society of Baltimore were entertained at a 4 o'clock tea Friday, January 7th by Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt at the White House.

A number of former residents of this section, members of the Society, attended.

Heads Pocomoke Ball Club

Base ball fandom at Pocomoke seems to be pretty well satisfied with the announcement of the managerial appointment made by Mr. Arthur H. Ehlers, owner of the Pocomoke City Club. He has selected Max Bishop as leader of the local ball tossers for the season of 1938.

During the 1937 season, Max appeared in Pocomoke as a scout for the Detroit team, of the American League and there was some talk then of a hook-up with that club; but then, as now, there is no information which will verify such a situation.

Mr. Ehlers says that Max will go into training immediately and try to work himself into playing condition. If Bishop is able to get into shape he may become a playing manager. According to Ehlers, this angle of the business remains to be determined.

Cost Of Schools In Somerset

The annual financial statement for the schools of Semerset county has just been issued by Superintendent W. Stewart Fitzgerald and the Board of Education. The financial report covers the period from July 31, 1936, to July 31, 1937 and shows a total expenditure for all school purposes of $220,953.66.

Little Demand For Bay Oysters

Harold White, oyster packer of Chance-Deals Island said this week a post holiday slump in the demand had cut pre-holiday prices of 80 cents a bushel in half.

The present price of 40 cents may not be maintained, he added, because so many oysters are being taken and orders are so light. Oysters during the week were reported selling for 30 cents per bushel in Annapolis.

Phoebus Seeks Governorship

Harry T. Phoebus. former State Senator from Somerset county, now State Labor Commissioner, on Monday, announced his candidacy for the Republican Gubernatorial nomination.

The announcement was made 40 days earlier than he had planned as a result of charges filed against him with Governor Nice by State Senator Robert B Kimble (Rep. Allegany), who demanded that Senator Phoebus be ousted as labor commissioner.

Hits Jack Pot—Weds

Among the couples who obtained marriage licenses at Elkton last week, one of the bridegroom, when called upon to pay the $2, the price of the marriage license, pulled out of his pockets forty nickels and handed them over for the necessary legal permit to wed, remarking "You don't mnid taking this kind of money, do you?" He further explained that he had hit a jack-pot in a slot machine.

Belair Bank Closes

The Harford Bank of Belair, closed its doors last Friday, but fortunately there will be a very small loss to its depositors on account of the Federal Depositors Insurance Company. The amount of deposits in the bank are reported to approximate $846,000. All depositors will be piad in full up to $5,000.
