RADIANT LIVING

The Divine Response

By Rev. C. M. Griffeth
Pastor Calvary M. E. Church
Sudlersville, Md.

Peter, exhausted by the long night's battle gaainst that vicious storm on Galilee's lake, recognized Jesus hastening across the water toward his tossing vessel. Immediately he boldly cried out, as though by inspired prayer, "Lord, bid me come unto thee upon the waters!"

Jesus shouted back to him, "Come!"

O how I thank God for that one word! What must it have meant to Peter! It was an invitation to step out upon the heaving waves. It challenged the depth of Peter's faith. It implied a promise to sustain him by divine power!

To us it means that the cry of faith always pierces through the storm to the ear of God. To us it means that there is always a divine response to human aspirations.

Do you not remember that woman, sick for twelve years, who pushed through the throng to touch the hem of His garment? Did not He respond to her faith when He said to her: "Daughter, be of good cheer, thy faith hath made thee whole!"

Let us not hesitate then to aspire to ask largely. The larger we ask in faith the more pleased is the Divine Mind. The greater our aspiration, the greater will be the divine response.

"Come unto me," Jesus invites us all, "Come unto me all ye that are heavily laden, and I will give you rest."

KEEPING FIT THRU WINTER MONTHS

Health Head Says Diet Is Important

One of the most effective ways of keeping fit throughout the winter months and of developing the powers of resistance of disease, according to Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Pepartment of Health, is through the habitual use of a well balanced diet. We are only beginning to realize, he said, the part the diet plays in the defense mechanism of the system.

"In days gone by", he continued, " a certain amount of ill health was expected as a matter of course, during the winter months. After a few months of snow and cold every one felt run down. This was probably due to the fact that the winter diet had very little variety and contained few fresh or green foods. It was natural that by spring everyone complained of that tired feeling and there was a great demand for spring tonics. Wonderful results were claimed for such tonics. Few of those who used them realized that the increased vitality they enjoyed came from sunshine, new spring greens, and plenty of eggs and milk.

"There is no excuse now for getting run-down in the winter because of the lack of a balanced diet. Vegetables and fruits are on the market now all hte year round, or if we cannot get all of them fresh there are canned products which are an excellent substitute for fresh foods. Cod liver oil is available also to give us most of the benefits of sunshine.

"The dietary dangers to be especially guarded against in the winter are lack of iron which is necessary for blood building and lack of vitamins which are required for vigorous health and for resistance to disease. Foods that are rich in iron are: Green leafy vegetables (such as kale, spinach, mustard greens, beet greens), lean meat, especially liver and kidney, egg-yolk, oysters, dried fruits, and whole wheat grains. Foods that are especially rich in vitamins are: Milk, eggs, green leafy vegetables, fruits, whole grain cereals, and organ meats (such as liver, kidneys, heart) and cod liver oil. Since one of the important vitamins, vitamin C, is easily destroyed by ordinary cooking it is wise to use some raw fruits or vegetables each day.

THOSE WHO REMAIN

When death visits a home, the first concern is to perform the last service to the loved one in a becoming manner. What ever is done must express all the reverance and affection that is felt at such a time. But in addition to this a further responsibilty rests upon the funeral director. It is his privilege and duty to lessen as far as lies with in his power, the burdens laid upon those who remain. By countless little acts of thoughtfulness he can make the way easier for them.

We consider this part of our work as important as any other. Our highest aim is to have our patrons look upon us as trusted friends, ready and anxious to render sympathetic assistance to those who remain behind.
