RADIANT LIVING

Out On Noman's Light

By Rev. C. M. Griffeth
Pastor Calvary M. E. Church
Sudlersville, Md.

"Dad, she's clogged agin!" shouted the young man to his father who had just stepped into the light room of Noman's Shoals Light.

"Start 'er by hand, boy, don't lose a second!" exclaimed the elderly man, the veteran keeper of Noman's Light, as he sprang across the room and began to manipulate the cogs.

A ninety-mile gale was hurling itself with an insane violence against the tall slim structure of Noman's Light. The structure swayed under the rush of the gale. It shuddered under the terrific blows of the monstrous waves as they pounded in fury against the lower parts of the structure, and slashing the spindrift against the lantern as if to quench once for all the faithful beacon.

All through the night they toiled. It was three o'clock when the old man faltered, and sank exhausted. Pushing him gently aside with his foot, the youth, draining upon his reserve, kept on, and on, and on—

Thank God for those men who are faithful with their Light. The fury of hell may roar against such men but their faithfulness saves many a soul drifting reefward toward disaster.

When the supply ship came out on her next trip to Noman's Light she brought a letter. It was from a captain driven by that storm. "We had but one hope," it read, "and that was of picking up Noman's Light. We were about to conclude that we had been driven from our course when, lifted by a high wave, we caught the full rays of your light. It was but for a moment, but it was sufficient!"

ACTIVITIES AT THE LOCAL HI SCHOOL

By Margaret A. Dukes

The 3A Literature Class is preparing to give a play of the preface from "The House of Seven Gables". The directors are Frances Harris and Miss Bryan. The players are:

Clifford	William Baldwin
Margaret	Harriett Gill
Hepizibah	Margaret A. Dukes
Lucy	Eleanor White
Patience	Dian Hubbard
Mr. Jaffrey	William King
Jaffrey	Jesse Smith
Thomas	Robert Livingston
Robert	James Anderson
Uncle Venner	Robert Dempsey
Sarah	Mary Bette Sweetman

On the afternoon of February 4, the whole school was entertained by two movies. The first was called "Faster, Farther, Safer". The second was "Beneficent Reprobate." Two prizes are being offered by the Women's Christian Temperance Union for the best essay written on it. The essays are to be judged by our English teachers.

The Junior-Senior Dramatic Club gave a play called, "I am Shot". Robert Livingston, Mary L. Russell, and Milton Dorf took part.

The Camera Club is getting the developing room all fixed up. The members of the club have already started developing pictures. It will make it a lot cheaper, quicker and more fun to develop your own pictures. They have decided to develop other pupils' pictures. The charge for doing this will be much cheaper than sending them away.

As you know, the boys are having basketball games. The Juniors are the only undefeated team. There were two games at the College gym. last Friday night. First the Juniors vs. the Freshmen. The score was 22-6 in favor of the Juniors. The next game was between the Seniors and Sophomores. This was won by the Seniors with a score of 20 to 8.

Sudlersville Boy Honored At Maryland Univ.

Calvin Skinner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Skinner, of Sudlersville, and a senior in the college of Agriculture at the University of Maryland, was recently awarded membership in the Alpha Zeta Fraternity, a national honorary agriculture club for students who have distinguished themselves by high grades and exceptional ability and interest in Agricultural sciences.

He was one of ten who were honored with membership at the end of the first semester at the University.

Mr. Skinner, also a member of the collegiate chapter of Future Farmers of America, Student Grange, The Livestock Club, the Episcopal Club, Alpha Gamma Rho national social Fraternity, and the Rossbourg Club of the University, expects to make scientific farm management the field in which he will teach after finishing his course at the University this spring.

Left-over Rice Makes Excellent Griddle Cakes

Left over rice makes excellent hot cakes and waffles for breakfast and it is commonly known that a good breakfast is the proper start for a successful day.

RICE AND CORNMEAL GRIDDLE CAKES

1 cup cold boiled rice
½ cup cornmeal
½ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1½ or 2 cups sour milk
½ teaspoon soda
2 eggs
2 tablespoons melted butter
1 tablespoon salt

Mix the dry ingredients together. Mix sour milk, beaten egg yolks and flour. Combine and add sitfly beaten eg whites. Blend and bake as griddle cakes or caffles.

Chocolate Cookies

2½ cups sifted cake flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ cup butter or other shortening
3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
1-3 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon soda
2 eggs, well beaten
1 tablespoon cream

Sift flour once, measure, add cinnamon, baking powder, and soda, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, chocolate and cream, and beat well. Add flour, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Roll into thin sheet on slightly floured board. Cut with floured cooky cutter and dredge with sugar. Place on ungreased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 9 minutes. Makes 2½ dozen 3-inch cookies.

Pennsylvania Scrapple In Simple Form

In hte state of Pennsylvania—the standing order seems to be "Scrapple." There are several various ways of preparing this famous dish and probably one of the nicest being like this:

OATMEAL SCRAPPLE

3 pounds lean pork
1 large bone
1 pound oatmeal
5 easpoons salt
1½ teaspoons pepper
5 teaspoons onion juice

Put pork and bone into a large kettle and cover with water and cook until meat is tender. Remove the bone and meat and put meat through a food chopper. Return meat to the liquid, bring to a boil and stir in the oatmeal, seasonings and onion juice. Cook slowly for 1 hour. Pour into oblong pans and set aside to cool. When cold, cut in thin slices, and fry until crisp and brown.

THOSE WHO REMAIN

When death visits a home, the first concern is to perform the last service to the loved one in a becoming manner. What ever is done must express all the reverance and affection that is felt at such a time. But in addition to this a further responsibilty rests upon the funeral director. It is his privilege and duty to lessen as far as lies with in his power, the burdens laid upon those who remain. By countless little acts of thoughtfulness he can make the way easier for them.

We consider this part of our work as important as any other. Our highest aim is to have our patrons look upon us as trusted friends, ready and anxious to render sympathetic assistance to those who remain behind.

B. R. FELLOWS,
ar27 Funeral Director.
