ASSURES HARBOR IMPROVEMENT AT ROCK HALL SOON

Congressman Goldsborough Says Appropriation Is Assured

According to a letter received this week from Congressman T. Alan Goldsborough the appropriation for the improvement of Rock Hall Harbor is assured and it is first a question of Congressional routine that has held up the appropriation bill.

It will be remembered that the appropriation of funds for this improvement is included in the general appropriation bill which will come before Congress as soon as the Army and Navy appropriation bill is disposed of. It will also be remembered that assurance was given by Army engineers that the project could be completed by August first.

A survey of the county's part in the project, which includes the construction of a bulkhead on the shore side of the basin, is completed and approved by Army engineers. This work must be completed before the dredging work is started and will get underway as soon as the final appropriation is signed by the president.

The work includes the dredging of a channel into the harbor with the necessary bulkheads and the dredging of a yacht basin within the harbor.

Due to the weather school was let out earlier Thursday. It did seem as if spring was on her way here, but we were sadly disappointed. However, the snow will furnish pleasure for many, and maybe we'll even have some more skating. I guess I'll trot along home while the snow is still "not so deep."

PROSPECT OF SILK HOSIERY PLANT CREATES INTEREST

Local Committee To Meet With Factory Interests Today

Seventy-five business men of Chestertown gathered at a meeting Monday evening to discuss the proposed new silk hosiery plant in Chestertown. At the meeting the fact was brought out that in order to secure the plant it will be necessary for the business men of the community to build a factory building adequate to provide ample space to house the machinery of the plant and allow for expansion or repair a building here to provide for immediate floor space.

A new building of permanent construction 40x80 will cost slightly less than $6,000 which will house the machinery owned and allow for the installation fo additional machinery as the plant expands. The purchase and repair of the old laundry building which is 30x60 would cost approximately $3.400.

It was stated at the meeting that according to a statement by officials of the hosiery plant, they will start operating with six machines which they own and valued at $12,000. That they want to install additional machinery as soon as possible. That they will employ betweenu 20 and 24 local people in addition to bringing in six expert machine operators. That salary payment will be on a piece work basis and the local help should earn approximately $16.00 a week. That expert machine operators can earn between $40 and $60 a week.

A committee composed of Messrs. P. G. Wilmer, R. J. Nicholson, R. Oliver Wright, B. Fox, R. H. Rogers, Everett Lambden and R. H. Collins, Jr., will meet with factory representatives this morning to draw up a suitable contract which when completed will give assurance that the above claims of the company are correct.

If the results of the meeting this morning are satisfactory a corporation will be formed to be known as the Chestertown Merchant and Manufacturers Association and stock will be sold as a community project to raise the necessary funds to provide a building. To date 46 shares aggregating $230 have been subscribed for and it is thought that the necessary funds can be raised as soon as a suitable contracts are made.

A Tribute Of Love And Respect For Mrs. Annie S. Redmile

The whole community was shocked by the sudden death of Mrs. Annie S. Redmile, wife of E. L. Redmile on Monday, March 7th, about noon.

Mrs. Redmile was the daughter of the late Tilghman and Annie E. Parsons Shafer. At about two and one-half years of age, our subject lost her mother, and went to live with her aunt, Mrs. Abe Crawford, later her father married Miss Emma Copenhaven, of Baltimore.

Then she returned to her father and step mother and was reared under the most loving and tender care, from which a beautiful and Christian life developed. Throughout her girlhood and married life she was associated with the work of Kennedyville M. P. Church. For a number of years she was the faithful organist.

She was a member of the Ladies Aid and an ardent worker in the W. C. T. U. Reserved and retiring in disposition, it was not her lot to lead in the church activities, but she always made many friends, was faithful in attendance at divine worship, and was always willing to go with out protest wherever the Lord called her to labor. The past Sunday she attended both services at the church. Her last service on earth she and her devoted husband were found at the Lord's table. We extend to those who mourn, our deep sympathy, praying that they will find peace and comfort in the assurance of God's care and in his promise of an eternal home.

The veil is sent; the soul has fled,
One more has joined the throng
Of saints who praise their living head
In sweet and rapturous song.
While friends from grief cannot refrain
But mourn the absent one,
Their loss is her eternal gain,
'Twas Jesus called her home.
Oft at the mention of her name,
Tears shall unbidden start;
Then, love with an intenser flame,
Shall warm the lonely heart,
And faith on rapid wings shall fly
Up to that heavenly place
Where she in purest ecstacy
Beholds the Saviour's face.
O, God the precious grace supply,
Now in this time of need;
For who can see a loved one die
And not the heart to bleed,
If Jesus wept, his servants may
Thus manifest their grief,
But O, how sweet when we can say,
In Christ we find relief.
Husband, relatives, and loving friends,
In reverence meekly bow:
God for some good this sorrow sends,
Through all seems gloomy now.
Your loved one lives and sings to-day,
And dwells in Jesus sight;
Cheer up, for surely o'er your way
Shall shine the heavenly light.

The funeral was held at her late home Thursday after-noon at two o'clock the service conducted by her pastor the Rev. W. L. Bauscher.

The pall bearers were: Wm. M. Hurlock, E. T. Othoson, H. J. Hill, George Glenn, Chas. S. Hague, and James H. Groves. Interment was in Chester cemetery.

WAR ON CROWS IN KENT COUNTY

Game Warden Releases Taged Birds Here

Somewhere in Kent County a number of crows are flying around with tags attached to them that are worth from $1.00 to $50.00 according to an announcement made this week by Deputy Game Warden Joseph Watson.

The purpose of this recent activity by the State Game Department is to encourage the killing of crows which are destructive not only to game life but also to crops. Anyone so fortunate to bag one of the tagged crows will find a bounty ranging from $1.00 to $50.00 awaiting them at the State Games Warden's office.

This method of encouraging the destruction of crows has been carried out in other counites of the State with the result that large numbers of the birds have been killed. Hunters in Kent County have already started on the war path but to-date no lucky tags have been found.

Old Timer Comments On Politics

Dear Mr. Editor:

The snow kinder worked on my rumatism en I couldn't get around much to hear what was goin on although I did year that the boys had a get-together meeting Wednesday nite en made propositions but as I said last week they have gotter do a lot more talkin. Each side was generous in offerin the Sheriff job to the other side but thats like handin somebody a piece of red hot iron. I also hear that the boys are lookin at the thing in a sensable sort of way and don't want to have no primary but that means a lotter givin en takin en given is kinder foreign to politicks. I still say people aint mad enough to have a knock down, drag out primary and propese somethin can be fixed up yet.

Very Truly Yours,
UNCLE JACK

P. S. I understand the Register of Wills job has got as many applicants as the Sheriff job.

A Constructive Suggestion

A number of parents of rural school children have registered a complaint as a result of sending their children storm. The protest was due to the home from school in the busses at noon Thursday on account of the snow fact that the parents were not notified and thereby did not meet their children when they got off the buss. This protest came in the form of a suggested correction in the future so that small children particularly will not have to find their way to their homes after getting off the school bus in blinding snow storms.

THURSDAY STORM RECALLS BLIZZARD

1888 Blizzard Was Also On March 10th

The snow storm Thursday was more alarming to older residents of the county than to the younger generation as it occured on the fiftieth anniversary to the day of the blizzard of 1888.

On March 10th, 1888 it started snowing from the north-east and continued for three days blocking all means of transportation and communication. All county roads had to be dug out and the ground was covered wiht snow until the latter part of April.

During the storm on Thursday of this week schools were closed at noon so that the busses could get the rural children home. However at 3 o'clock it stopped snowing and above freezing temperature created three inches of slush.
