RADIANT LIVING

Man's Greatest Friend

By Rev. C. M. Griffeth
Pastor Calvary M. E. Church
Sudlersville, Md.

Many a lonely heart when discouraged by disappointment, disturbed by perplexity, or distracted by sorrow has wished for a real friend upon whom to lean for support.

And thank God, you can have just such a friend, One whose friendship will make your life really radiant with joy. Like a child upon his mother's bosom, you may rest in Him.

This friend, the greatest that a man can have, is the God of Infinite Love! He is one with whom you can have a continuous fellowship. You may not always be conscious of His presence, but you can be conscious of this, that you are in fellowship with infinite Love!

To have the friendship of God is to have all the blessedness that attends that friendship.

Unlike many so-called friendships that vanish when trouble assails, God's friendship becomes more and more manifest as your trouble become intensified.

What a blessed hour it is for that soul, who, learning the folly of trusting earthly friends, turns unreservedly to the Infinite God.

To know God aright is to walk in Infinite Light. To know Him as is our privilege to know Him is to bask in Infinite Love. To know Him as He would have us know Him is to thrill with Infinite Life!

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO AGRICULTURISTS

(By County Agent J. D. McVean)

Washington, D. C., March 1—Designation of Queen Anne's County for operation of the Farm Tenant Purchase program in Maryland was announced today by the Farm Security Administration. This county was selected by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, on the advice of the State Farm Security Advisory Committee, and will be the first in the State in which loans will be made to farm tenants for purchase of their own farms, under the provisions of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act.

Queen Anne's County is one of the 300 counties selected in the whole country for the operation of the Tenant Purchase program during its first year of administration under the Farm Security Administration. Selection of counties in each state is based on their farm population and prevalence of tenancy.

Loans will be made to worthy farm tenants, share croppers and farm laborers for the purchase of farms and they are eligible for additional loans for necessary equipment, operating goods and livestock for the carrying on of successful farming operations.

The allocation for carrying out the Farm Tenant Loan Program in Maryland is $45,244 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1938.

Time To Renew Transportation Licenses

All who had licenses issued in 1937 under the "Poultry Sale and Transportation Law, and all who desire to have the protection of such license are reminded that the 1937 licenses expire on March 31, 1938 and the 1938 license become effective as of April 1st.

All persons either producers or retailers of dressed poultry, which poultry was purchased dressed, are required to be licensed either to sell or transport poultry, or both."

Applications are made to the Maryland State Department of Markets at College Park, Maryland. Blanks and copies of the law and rules and regulations may be had at the County Agent's office. The license costs $2.00 and plates for the truck in which poultry are to be transparted cost $.50.

The law was passed at the request of the poultry growers represented by the Maryland Poultry Council, and is designed to protect their interests, not to interfere with the poultry business. A principal aim of this law is to put a crimp in the transportation of stolen poultry. It is not known why the issuing of the license was not placed with the Clerk of the Court as is true with most other licenses. Under the law, State, county, city, and town police officials are responsible for the enforcement of the law.

One license is adequate for a dealer but each truck will need to carry the license tags.

Trees For Forest Planting

Farmers interesting in planting waste land or in connection with the Agricultural Conservation Program will be interested to learn that small seedlings are still available through the State Department of Forestry at nominal costs.

The season for planting seedlings is practically here.

Anyone wishing additional information concerning available sizes and prices may secure the information at the County Agent's Office.

University Discontinues Distribution Of Cultures For Soil Inoculation

As bacterial cultures for soil inoculation are now being prepared and distributed in a successful manner by a number of commercial concerns there seems to be no further need for this service by the University of Maryland and it has been discontinued, according to Dr. L. H. James, head of the Department of Bacteriology. The University will continue to take an interest in the commercial product and also is planning to make a study in the near future of proper methods of control.

It was not many years ago that bacterial inoculation was transferred through the soil itself and tons of treated soil were distributed by the University of Maryland in a cooperative effort to build up the bacterial content of Maryland soils. Later it was discovered htat the bacteria could be distributed as cultures for inculation directly onto the seeds. This greatly simplified the procedure but for some time it was not understood what type of culture was best suited for specific purposes or the best procedure for inoculation. In addition, there was considerable question as to the reliability of some of the commercially prepared cultures and the University again took over the distribution of cultures in the state as an educational and research activity.

Today the situation is much improved and in general commercial cultures are prepared and distributed in a manner designed to insure long life within the culture. The University will be glad to supply the names of retail concerns from which soil inoculum may be purchased.

Benefit Payments Subject To Income Tax

County Agents have been informed that benefit payments received by farmers for cooperation under the Agricultural Conservation Program represent taxable income under both the Federal Income Tax Law and the State Income Tax Lew.

Bee Culture Schools Planned For Three Counties Of State

A series of five lectures for beginners in bee culture will be given in each of three Maryland counties this spring, it is announced by George J. Abrams, specialist in beekeeping for the University of Maryland Extension Service.

The subjects of the five lectures are: "Individual and Colony Development and Behavior," "Winter Preparation and Spring Management", Swarm Control and Extracted Honey Production," "Comb Honey Production," and "Bee Diseases, Pests and Enemies."

The dates of the lectures are: Easton, March 8, 15, 22, 29, and April 5; Denton, March 9, 16, 23, 30, and April 6; and College Park, March 11, 18, 25, April 1 and 8. All of the meetings are scheduled for 8 p. m.

The Perchon Association of Frederick County announces the annual spring tour of Percheron breeders of that county on March 12. The tour will start at 8 a. m., from the Frederick Fair Grounds. The public is cordially invited to take part in the tour. It is hoped that an auto load of Kent farmers will make the trip.

Officers of the Association are: L. C. Powell, Woodsboro, President; John M. Crum, Woodsboro, Vice President; and H. R. Shoemaker, Frederick, Secretary and Treasurer. There are 31 members in the Association who own more than 300 registered Percheron horses.

THOSE WHO REMAIN

When death visits a home, the first concern is to perform the last service to the loved one in a becoming manner. What ever is done must express all the reverance and affection that is felt at such a time. But in addition to this a further responsibilty rests upon the funeral director. It is his privilege and duty to lessen as far as lies with in his power, the burdens laid upon those who remain. By countless little acts of thoughtfulness he can make the way easier for them.

We consider this part of our work as important as any other. Our highest aim is to have our patrons look upon us as trusted friends, ready and anxious to render sympathetic assistance to those who remain behind.
