ODDS AND ENDS FROM C. H. S.

By Frances Harris

Movies wree held in the auditorium on Monday, March 14. The program consisted of the main feature, "Bars of Hate" and several short subjects. As usual the Juniors and Seniors attended the pictures during the morning while the Freshman and Sopohomores attended during the afternoon classes.

On Tuesday, March 15, Mr. Wright of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, presented to the school several movies pretaining to the advantages of the telephone. These were four movies as follows:

The Voice of the City.
Two Experiments.
The Telephone at Sea.
The Gateway to the world.

The movies were enjoyed by everyone and we all appreciate Mr. Wright's kindness in supplying us with this interesting information.

The Camera Club is sponsering a contest for its members. The purpose of the contest is to help raise money to pay back Mr. Robinson for supplying the equipment for the dark room. The members are required to take their own pictures, to develop and print them in the dark room at school, therefore using the equipment there. The winner of the best picture is to be awarded one dollar's use in the dark room.

The girls of the Sophomore Home Economics class have completed their course on cooking and have just begun to make blouses.

This is beginning to be a busy time for the Seniors. They are all working hard on the class play. Also the Dragon is well under way. All material was due this week. At the beginning of next week, Alan Eliason will begin to take the pictures for the Dragon. It is not definitely decided yet, but instead of each Senior being in a separate picture, as has been the custom in previous Dragons, they will probably be taken in groups of five. The material will be mimographed and the pictures can be bought according to the desires of the buyer.

We are sorry to hear of the sickness of Mr. Joe, our janitor, and we wish him a speedy recovery.

SALE OF STOCK MAKES FACTORY BLDG. POSSIBLE

Subscription of Twenty More Shares Needed To Pay Cost

Committee Going Ahead With Plans

In a final check-up Thursday afternoon it was found that eighty shares of stock in the proposed factory building in Chestertown had been subscribed for and that at least twenty more must be sold before construction work can start. The committee, headed by Mayor P. G. Wilmer, however feels confident that these additional twenty shares will be taken and plans for construction are going forward, although contracts will not be let until the full block of stock is taken.

The stock sold this week which brought the number to 80 was largely due to the fact that progressive business men, who already have subscribed, increased their subscription.

In a meeting last Saturday between the committee and the hosiery interests, the latter agreed to sign a contract to lease the building for five years, place $1000 on deposit in a bank in Chester to guarantee that they will occupy the building and will place $12,000 worth of machinery therein free of all liens and encumberances. They will pay a monthly rental for the building with the idea of buying it with rent.

It has been estimated that the factury, which will manufacture full fashion silk hosiery, will have a payroll of between $500 and $600 a week with the possibility of expension. This would mean an annual payroll of between $25,000 and $30,000 which would no doubt justify the investment in a building by local business interests.

N. ROBINSON WINS AT MILLINGTON

Named Commissioner In Three Way Fight

Mr. Noland Robinson won in a three way fight for Town Commssiioner of Millington at the election held on Saturday of last week.

The election brought out the largest number of voters that have taken part in a town election in that town for some years. The increased interest was thought to be due to an issue involving improvements in the town. Mr. Robinson ran on a ticket opposing a proposed sewerage system in the town and defeated Mr. Alenda Smith, present encumbent, who favored the improvement by 20 votes. This follows the trend of the wishes of the tax paying voters of that town who have in the past turned down various proposals for town improvmeent. Another candidate, Mr. Howard Anthony also was defeated.

The result of the election was Mr. Noland Robinson 41; Mr. Howard Anthony 28; Mr. Alenda Smith 21.

NEWS OF ROCK HALL HIGH SCHOOL

The junior Latin class's social was very successful. From all reports every one enjoyed himself. There were many games played, and the refreshments were delicious. We hope there will be more socials before school closes for the summer.

Again we refer to the juniors. Their class play has arrived. The apron string Revolt has its cast selected, and will soon go into production. Just as soon as the seniors get their play over with, practice will begin.

Due to the very rainy weather, there has been no athletics. The teams have not been practicing, and the ones who are trying for badges have also been hampered by the weather.

Class are progressing nicely. Several of the history classes plan to hear afternoon, Thursday. The senior's Problems class has become very interesting now due to the turn of events in world affairs.

It is not only interesting, but also amusing to hear our pupils of the school voicing their opinions and beliefs. Each one is so sure that his is the right opinion. Open discussions make classes very interesting to us, and our radio is a great help.

Last week a very educational movie was shown to us up in assembly. It was the developement and workings of the telephone. We learned much that we never have imagined about a telephone. The cable and telephone are certainly remarkable. We appreciated the movie, and are grateful to the gentlemen who showed it to us. I suppose you will be grateful to me if I stop writing for the present. Till Saturday then—! Valete!

CARD OF THANKS

I take this means of expressing my appreciation to my friends who were so kind during my recent bereavement.

County Birth Registration Campaign Announced

A Birth Registration Campaign has been announced for Kent County by Dr. H. Rolfe DuPuy, Deputy State Health Officer. The local campaign is part of a state-wide project recently initiated by Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health. In announcing the campaign, Dr. Rileyy said:

"The births of about a thousand Maryland babies still escape registration each year. This situation is serious. In Kent County tests indicate that about 5% of births per year are unregistered.

"In the past, the birth certificate was something of a luxury; today it is an absolute necessity for every child. The birth record is usually required on entrance to school; as a basis of a work permit; for pasports; for relief or pension purposes and in hundreds of other situations. Recently even a music conservatory demanded birth certificates in a contest. Young people sometimes lose opportunity for jobs because they cannot prove their age promptly enough. There are even instances on record where a boy was drafted into a foreign army because he had no American birth certificate.

EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE PLANNED

Plans are being made by the County Council of Churches for an Easter Sunrise Service to be held on the campus at Washington College early Easter morning, April 17th. Services will start at 6 a. m. and if rainy will be held in William Smith Hall.

Rev. O. E. Bartley, pastor of Brandywine M. E. Church, will be the speaker on the occasion and sixteen choirs of the county will combine under the direction of Mrs. John Sweetman.

IMPROVEMENT OF KENT COUNTY SOIL

Conservation Program Makes This Program Possbile

Neglect Offsets Science

Farmers are conscious that crop yields are in the main on the decline. Just what does this mean? We know that research has developed adapted varieties of crops, heavy yielding, disease resistant varieties, disease control and prevention, insect control, sprays, deterrents, etc., cheaper and better commrecial fertilizer, improved tillage implements, power equipment to speed up quality and quantity of work. In spite of all these contributions of Science, we are, acre by acre, only able to get smaller and smaller crops. Therefore from the above—it is evident that the weakness or defect must be in the other part of production—the soil. This being true what are the reasons, the causes of this dwindling productive power in our soils? They are numerous—a diminishing organic matter content—loss of water holding capacity—loss of fertile surface soil—less suitable habitat for microorganisms—land tha tis more difficult to till and to fit for cropping—too intensive tillage or lack of rest periods under sod forming crops, too few legumes—careless or indifferent tillage prcatices and farm layout—too close grazing—too early grazing neglect of pasture land fertilization, waste of organic matter by burning etc., too little thinking and planning leading to rejection or neglect of the forces—agencies and information that can correct the downward trend in soil productivity.

For every advance in improved practices we are slipping back a step because of soil erosion and the loss of soil fertility.

What May Be Done

Foremost among practical and economical attacks on soil deflation is effort to retain the top soil—not let it go down stream through uncontrolled surface water run-off (ways and means later). Other factors capable of control and which affect the soil—and the usefulness of platn foods are (1) frequent, regular, and adequate restoration of organic matter thru crop residues, stable manure and green manures, (2) retention of moisture by increasing the water holding capacity of soil thru (a) added organic matter, (b) by increasing opportunity for rain and snow to soak in to the more permeable soil, (c) by holding water on the land by delaying the run-off thru use of contour cropping; strip cropping; pasture furrows, terraces; by plowing and cultivating on the contour or around slopes—rather than up and down the slope plowing, working and cultivating. (3) by supplying lime as needed to maintain proper soil reaction through its neutralizing agent calcium (occassionally magnesium) to correct soil acidity. (4) by improving soil structure which means imparting a "crumb" structure or appearance which is natural when —organic matter, drainage or water holding capacity, air space or aeration, lime content, tillage methods etc., are in proper balance. (5) Supplying conditions suitable for the micro-organisms which are so esesntial to the rapid and efficient decomposition of organic matter and the release of nitrogen. All these factors are interwoven and intermingled; are esesntial to successful farming and maintaining productivity.

URGES CONGRESS APPROVE SHORE DREDGING PROJECT

Program Includes Cost Of $559,700 On Ten Projects

Rock Hall Harbor Included In List

Washington, March 14—Representative Goldsborough of Maryland today appeared before the subcommittee of the appropriation committee in charge of the War Department non-military supply bill and made a personal plea for funds to carry out ten waterway projects on the Eastern Shore, totaling $559,700.

The ten projects have been approved by the Chief of Engineers and the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, and have also been authorized by Congress.

Wicomico Item Largest

The largest amount involved is in a proposal to dredge a fourteen-foot channel in the Wicomico river from Chesapeake Bay to Salisbury at a cost of $215,000. The deeper channel, it is said, is necessary because of the expansion in the transportation of seafood and other commodities. The deeper channel, engineers explained, would result in an annual savings of $28,200.

Another project designed to benefit the sea-food industry is a proposal for dredging a canal connecting the Great Choptank and the Little Choptank rivers, shortening the water distance between Cambridge harbor and Little Choptank river points by thirteen miles. It is estimated to cost $59,000.

Cambridge Dredging Sought

Another important project for which Representative Goldsborough sought funds provides for further improvement of the Cambridge harbor by increasing the depth to fourteen feet with a turning basin of the same depth, at an estimated cost of $34,000.

The fourteen-foot channel at Cambridge, army engineers explained, would afford savings estimated at $5.000 annually and make the harbor a port of call for small coastwise freighters.

Crisfield Harbor Asked

The improvement advanced for Crisfield is the dredging of a boat harbor approximately 1,20 feet long, 160 feet wide and seven feet deep, at a cost of $33,000.

The other projects for which Representative Goldsborough asked funds are:

Rock Hall harbor	$58,000
Island creek	6,800
Fishing Bay-Goose creek etc.	38,600
Nanticoke river	82,000
Upper thoroughfare	26,000
Northeast river	7,3000

Mr. Goldsborough displayed a map to the committee and pointed out the various projects and their importance to the people of the Eastern Shore.

Mate Robert Harrison has been granted a leave of absence from the patrol till early summer when he will resume active work.

Scout Charles Gill has been transfered from the Beaver Patrol to the White Eagle Patrol. The White Eagle Patrol is under the leadership of Patrol Leader Calvin Lynch who is doing a very fine job with these boys.

Payne, J. C. Lynch, N. Riedy and J. Nelson. Troop No. 117 is the first colored troop ever to be formed in Kent County and from the way things look now it is going to be very successful. We of No. 130 wish these Scouts and Scouters the best of luck and hope that they do a good job.

Troop No. 130 has accepted the challenge of the Galena Troop No. 157 for a speedball game in April. Galena has also accepted the challenge of Chestertown for a contest of Signaling, Knot tying, Boxing and other activities. This will be played off at Washington College on April 6.

THIEVES RAID SAFE AT BARTLEY STORE

Take Money and Jewelry Valued At $2,000

A thief made a raid on the safe in the office of John Bartley & Son in the Bartley building on Monday of this week and stole money and jewelry valued at $2,000.

Mr. Barber Bartley proprietor of the firm, was in his office early that morning and left about 9 o'clock to go into the country on a business engagement. When he returned to his office later that day he found the lock boxes within the safe had been broken open and $200 in money, a valuable ring and necklace missing, other parts of the safe had been ransacked although the thief had evidnetly tried to delay discovery of the theft by neatly laying empty money bags over the disturbed papers.

Mr. Bartley did not immediately discover the loss and it was not until he went to make an entry in his ledger which was laying on the shelf that he noticed things out of order. The thief entered the office through the door which was locked either with a duplicate key or the knowledge of where the key was kept as he again locked the door when he left.

That same morning the thief entered the office of the Prudential Life Insurance Company, which is in the same building, and took change and stamps from a desk valued at about $4.00. Entrance to this office was apparently also made with a duplicate key.

Local authorities and State Police are working on the case although todate no arests have been made.
