Health, Happiness And Deliciousness In Date Candy

There is hardly a child in the country who isn't a great candy eater (given a proper chance) and as long as they want candy, we may as well give them good candy. We can either buy it from a relibale candy manufacturer or make it at home like this:

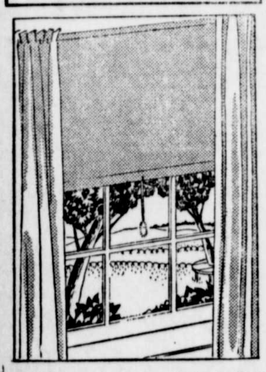

DATE LOAF CANDY

4 cups sugar
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter
1 package pitted dates
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped nuts
Lemon or orange rind

Cook sugar, milk and butter to the soft ball stage. Add the dates, cut fine. Cook five minutes longer. Cool and add flavoring. Beat a few minutes, then add the chopped nuts and continue to beat until it htickens. Roll in a wet cloth and slice when cold.

Hints for Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

START with your windows first when you start with your spring refurnishing! Look at them with a severe eye! Are the curtains crisp and dainty? Are the window shades underneath sparkling and clean? Are they the right new color to tone in with your summer draperies and slipcovers?

And speaking of color, we've found out that the newest tone for spring and summer is green—a green of the springleaf range. Soft, muted, in tone to rest the eyes and calm the nerves—and of course to keep your rooms cool and livable. It is particularly appropriate for bedrooms to shade your eyes and that of your children from the glare of the morning sun.

Another thing we've discovered, many women are putting up double shades—that is, one color for the inside of the room and a second color, usually cream or white, to face the street. In this manner they achieve smart and complete uniformity. It is a good idea, don't you think?

ON THE SCREEN AT THE NEW LYCEUM

Filmed partly on location in Washington for snow sequences, the new comedy-drama, "Paradise for Three," shows at the New Lyceum on March 28 and 29, for a two day engagement.

The cast, including Frank Morgan, Robert Young, Mary Astor, Edna May Oliver, Florence Rice, Reginald Owen, Henry Hull and Herman Bing made the location trip with Director Edward N. Buzzell.

At the snow location, a replica of one of the most famous Alpine winter resorts was constructed by studio workmen. The sets were practical, so that the company could use them as living quarters during their stay.

At the studio, on the sixty-acre set which was used during the filming of "Rosalie," sections of Paris, Berlin, Budapest and other gay European centers were constructed.

Inasmuch as the entire troupe had to ski in the location sequences, the cast took lessons from Dr. Sergei Bramslykke, noted ski expert.

Authored by Erich Kaestner, the plot concerns three men, a capitalist, a valet and a pauper, who trade places during a two weeks vacation at an Alpine resort in order to enjoy the pleasures they feel they are missing because of their respective stations in life. Morgan, Young and Owen portray the three men of adventure.

"The Kid Comes Back," a romantic melodrama of the prize ring starring the sensational new star of "Kid Galahad" and "Submarine D-1," Wayne Morris, is the feature presentation scheduled for the New Lyceum on Friday and Saturday, April 1 and 2.

Morris, a big, blonde lad with a "Million dollar smile," has risen from an unknown to stardom almost overnight on the strength of his work in the two pictures mentioned above. "The Kid Comes Back" is his third starring vehicle and it is said that his work is inu this event better. West coast critics have hailed him as the "most likely to succeed" find of 1937.

The picture is an exciting story of the pitfalls whcih hinder aspirants for the heavyweight championship of the world.

WAYNE MORRIS, Warner Bros. screen find, who is coming to the Strand in "The Kid Comes Back."

Morris is supported by two outstanding players, Barton MacLane and June Travis, the latter of course being the one who with Morris supplies the love interest.

"The Kid Comes Back" is a Warner Bros. picture and was directed by B. Reeves Eason.
