Crisfield Hospital Joins Cooperative Plan

The Edward W. McCready Memorial Hospital at Crisfield yesterday beaffiliated with them Hospital Service Plan of Baltimore, Robert O. Bonnell, president of the plan, announced. This is the fifth hospital outside Baltimore to become associated with the organization.

John T. Handy, president of the Crisfield hospital's board, explained subscribers to the plan will receive treatment in the McCready Memorial. Under the plan subscribers pay annual dues and receive free hospital treatment.

To Build Armory At Denton

The military department of the State of Maryland will accept sealed proposals for the construction of an armory building at Denton to house the Caroline County unit of the National Guard, until April 15th at noon.

Plans and specification have been obtainable at the office of the adjutant general at the Fifth Regiment Armory, Baltimore, since March 17.

The sum of $50,000 was appropriated for the constructoin of this armory at the last season of the State legislature. It will be located near the high school, a site selected by Major-General Milton A. Record, commander of the National Guard.

Fire Destroys Garage At Cecilton

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the garage of Lambret W. Davis near Cecilton about mid-nite on Friday. Two cars were destroyed together with an ensilage cutter and many small tools. A passing truck driver discovered the fire and called Mr. Davis who summoned the Chesapeake City and Middletown Fire Companies. Adjoining building were saved by the firemen.

New Elkton High School To Open After Easter

A tentative opening of the new Elkton High School at Elkton Heights has been set for Tuesday following the Easter vacation.

At a special meeting of the Board of Education on Monday a contract was let to Raymond Ott to remove dirt and grade near the entrance to the property. Much new equipment has been placed in the building.

Field Trials For Chesapeake Bays

Plans have just been announced holding retriever trials for Chesapeake Bay dogs, at R. R. M. Carpenter's farm, near Bohemia Bridge, next Saturday, April 2nd. There will be three stakes.

The Delbay Field Club of Dover and the Eastern Shore Chesapeake Club will both be strong competitors.

Following the cancellation of the Maryland trials of the American Chesapeake Club which were to be hel don the Carpenter farm early this month, several owners of Chesapeake Bays in the lower part of Delaware and Maryland, met and planned the one-day event.

Water Supply For Chesapeake City

J. R. Rulon, Philadelphia contractor, who for some time has been drilling for water to meet the requirements of a new water and sewage system in Chesapeake City, has located an adequate supply at a depth of 250 feet. The quality of the water has been approved by the State Board of Health.

Plant Closes At Elkton

A portioin of the Triumph Fusee and Fireworks plant, located along the Blue Ball road, about a mile north of Elkton, closed down this week for an indefinite period.

Would Protect Sponge Crabs

Chairman Robert F. Duer, of the State Conservation Commission, wrote Virginia authorities the week asking an early conference on legislation to protect sponge crabs in Maryland and Virginia waters during the spawning season.

Mr. Duer acted at the request of Governor Harry Nice, who recently wrote Governor James H. Price of Virginia protesting against passage of any Virginia laws tending to legalize the taking of egg-bearing crabs.

Arrested On Extortion Plot

Extortion charges were entered Thursday by Salisbury police against two Crisfield men, charging them with attempting to extort $500 from Dr. Charles R. Truitt, Salisbury physician.

The two men, John J. Harbaugh, 23, a Criesfield policeman, and Harvey E. Howard 20, are lodged in the Wicomico County "pent-house" jail awaiting a preliminary hearing.

The physician told officers that Harbaugh was in his office two weeks ago, and introduced himself as "a federal investigator for the Medical Association."

The man said he would have to arrest the physician on federal court charges, Dr. Truitt said but it could be fixed for $500.

Protests Abandonment of C. C. C. Camp

An official order directing that Camp S-62, Forestry CCC Camp, located between Snow Hill and Pocomoke City, be closed by May 31, is the object of a strong protest now being launched by various organizations and by citizens of Worcester County.

Worcester County Suggests Legislative Changes

Six proposed legislative changes as adopted by the County Association of Worcester County at a meeting attended by 250 residents of that county, are as follows:

1. Establishing a bounty of 50c each on hawks and owls killed, and a bounty of $2 on gray foxes.
2. Making it unlawful to kill or capture a red fox or to sell the hide of a red fox, but making it lawful for a property owner to kill a red fox if said animal is engaged in killing his poultry or otherwise damaging his property. Violators are subject to a minimum fine of $50.
3. Making it unlawful to trap, to catch or kill muskrat between March 1 and January 1 annually.
4. Making it unlawful to set a trap, net or snare to get raccoons. Violators subject to a $50 fine.
5. Establishing an open season on rabbits and quail from December 1 until January 15.
6. Making it lawful to kill stray dogs and renegade cats during breeding season of wildlife and game.

The presence of four Gubernatorial candidates—Mayor Howard W. Jackson, Baltimore; Senator Lansdale G. Sasscer, of Prince George's County; State Comptroller William S. Gordy, of Salisbury, all Democrats, and of Senator Harry T. Phoebus, of Somerset County, Republican—lent color to the meeting.

Seven Candidates For Centreville Town Election
