PROMOTIONS IN TELEPHONE CO.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City held on Monday April 25, 1938, Lloyd M. Griffin was elected general manager, according to an announcement just made. He succeeds Frederic J. Irish who becomes assistant vice president of The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company with headquarters at Washington, D. C.

LLOYD M. GRIFFIN

newly appointed General Manager of The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City operating in Maryland. Mr. Griffin was previously General Commercial Manager of the Maryland Company.

Mr. Griffin entered the service of the Bell System with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company in 1918. Since coming with the Chesapeake and Potomac organization in 1922, he has held the positions of general traffic superintendent of the Washington Company, general traffic manager and general commercial manager of the Virginia Company and, since April, 1936, general commercial manager of the Maryland Company, in which capacity he served until his new appointment as general Manager. He is a member of the Baltimore Association of Commerce.

Mr. Irish first came with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City in 1917 as an engineering assistant. He left Maryland for several years to work with the New York Telephone Company, returning in 1921 to serve successively as equipment engineer, chief engineer, and general manager. He is a director of the Baltimore National Bank, the Eutaw Savings Bank, the Baltimore Association of Commerce and treasurer of the Baltimore Chapter of the American Red Cross.

ON THE SCREEN AT THE NEW LYCEUM

The most modern of heroes, airplane test pilots, are glorified in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's first aviation picture in more than two years, "Test Pilot", which stars Clark Gable, Myrna Loy nd Spencer Tracy, with Lionel Barrymore heading a major suporting cast. It shows at the New Lyceum Theatre on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, May 16, 17 and 18.

The picture, based on an original story by Frank Wead, and giving an intimate insight into the lives of men when dare death to pave the heavens for future generations, has been acclaimed by aviation experts, military and civil, to be the truest picture of aviation ever produced.

Clark Gable and Myrna Loy in "Test Pilot"

Clark Gable plays the title role as a daring aviator, willing to risk life and limb for a job he loves, living every minute to his life up to the hilt, existing on "borrowed time."

Myrna Loy plays an unsophisticated farm girl who marries the famous flyer and finds herself combating the unseen lure of the sky in a battle to win the love of her husband.

Spencer Tracy, as the best mechanic in the business, takes care of Gable's plane and takes care of Gable, a double duty that is almost too much for one man.

Lionel Barrymore is given the lovable role of an aircraft manufacturer who hires Gable and who finally persuades him to give up his perilous life.

Supporting players include Samuel S. Hinds, Marjorie Main, Ted Pearson, Gloria Holden, Louis Jean Heydt, Virginia Grey, Priscilla Lawson, Claudia Coleman and Arthur Aylesworth.

Victor Fleming and Louis D. Lighton, director and producer respectively of "Captains Courageous", were reunited in the same capacities for the new picture.

Gable appears as a test pilot, taking off for a record-breaking attempt in a transcontinental flight.

Enroute, he develops engine trouble, drops down in the middle of a Kansas wheatfield, meets unsophisticated Myrna Loy and carries her off as his wife. Fired from his job with Lionel Barrymore, aircraft manufacturer, because he insists on a honeymoon, he finally resorts to piloting an unknown ship in the Cleveland Air Races. Winning, he gets his job back. Miss Loy finds that she must fight a new kind of rival, the love of flight, whose hold on Gable is unbreakable. Finally, when Tracy is killed in a plant test, Barrymore persuades Gable to give up the business, go back into the army from whence he came and put his talents to work for his country.

Gourmet and Gourmand

The word, gourmet, means a person who is selective in his choice of articles of food. A gourmand is one who overeats.

IT IS DANGEROUS

It is dangerous to sell a SUBSTITUTE for 666 just to make three or four cents more. Customers are your best assets; lose them and you lose your business. 666 is worth three or four times as much as SUBSTITUTE.
