HERBERT E. PERKINS,

BETTERTON

A yacht, belonging to Mr. George Kriedler, was burned and sunk in the channel, five miles off from Betterton on Monday evening. As soon as the fire was seen motor boats from Betterton went out at once but because of the darkness and the very high wind, no one could be found. The boats continued to circle around the boat but it was not until a passing yacht and its search light was used that the six persons were found. They were brought to the Tolchester Pier where cars were waiting to take them to the Chesapeake Hotel where dry clothing was provided and everything done for their comfort. Mr. Kriedler, who was seriously burned was taken to the Chestertown Hospital, where he is still critically ill, from both burns and exposure.

Because of the cold weather, there were not as many persons in Betterton for the holiday altho each hotel had some guests.
