RADIANT LIVING

Port Of Heart's Desire

By Rev. C. M. Griffeth Methodist Pastor of Deals Island, Md.

Have not you, as have I, stood many times on the white sands of some ocean beach and looked far out across the expanse of the green blue waters to that distant gray horizon and wondered just what country or city lay opposite?

As we look out over the sea of life there lies beyond the horizon of visible things that particular port where the inhabitants, we are told, spend every day in the enjoyment of those refined pleasures that come from the appreciation of and in the utilization of those higher things in life.

This is that Port of Heart's Desire called Happiness.

Writes one of our modern poets: "Man's highest goal on earth is happiness." This, I believe, is real success in life—to discover and to enjoy a radiant happiness!

Is this not what all men want but which few attain? Stop the average man on the street and ask him what is his chief desire in life and, if he is a thoughtful man, he will immediately answer you, "Happiness!"

But where, you may be asking, can this Port of Heart's Desire be located?

Its location is not a mystery. It is plainly marked on the map of life's activities. You will find it in the Land of Service.

Happiness is not to be found in living for one's self and for one's self advancement; but it is to be found in living for others. It is not so much what you do in life, whether you are a doctor, nurse, lawyer, teacher, or even a day laborer, it is not so much what you do, but the thing that counts is the spirit in which you do it. It lies in the motive that sends you forth to do your task in life.

Seek to make this world a better place, a cleaner place, a safer place for others to live in and you will discover that you have arrived in this delightful Port of Heart's Desire—true and lasting happiness.

The Summer season usually causes many people to neglect their spiritual opportunities. The experience of too many people is that they loosen their grip on spiritual realities and become lax in faith and Christian service. We hope you will not make that mistake. To take a vacation from Christian service may prove a very serious mistake for you. Be more diligent in your attendance upon Divine service and in the performance of Christian duties. It is just as important to be faithful to your Lord in July and August as in December and April. Fill every pew in your church next Sunday.

THOSE WHO REMAIN

When death visits a home, the first concern is to perform the last service to the loved one in a becoming manner. What ever is done must express all the reverance and affection that is felt at such a time. But in addition to this a further responsibility rests upon the funeral director. It is his privilege and duty to lessen as far as lies with in his power, the burdens laid upon those who remain. By countless little acts of thoughtfulness he can make the way easier for them.

We consider this part of our work as important as any other. Our highest aim is to have our patrons look upon us as trusted friends, ready and anxious to render sympathetic assistance to those who remain behind.
