

WITH THE HORSES

—BY—
Paul P. Steel

AN APOLOGY:

For no reason other than that we have just not gotten around to it, we have neglected the trotters and pacers. We even went to a football game last Saturday instead of Radcliffe Park. For all this our most humble apologies and a promise of doing better hereafter.

AT THE TOURNAMENT

Last Sunday about 500 hundred people gathered at Sam Sprays farm for a Horse Show and tournament. The horse show was first on the card and was judged by Mr. R. W. Staveloy, Mr. Wm. E. Loller and Mr. Ben Williams.

The first event over four jumps of 3 ft. 6 in. was won by Mr. R. G. Ripley on "Governor." This horse was formerly a grand jumper but after an accident has refused to jump. Mr. and Mrs. Ripley secured the horse and have been working on him with in our opinion, wonderful results. The red ribbon went to Mr. Ed. Fowler on "Hal B" while Mr. George Hudson supplied the third place horse, with a newcomer to the shows. This little black mare had no name previous to this event but some of Mr. Hudson's friends clamored to call her "Ann." If the name is not changed you will see more of "Ann" and not in third place. The four foot class went to Mr. R. W. Staveloy's "Bob" with Mr. C. O. Taylor's "Red Wing" second and Mr. Ripley in the ribbons once more, this time on "Howdy."

Mr. Ed. Fowler and Mr. George Williams rode "Hal B" and "Belle Cassus" to win the pairs with the Staveloy's two blacks "Bob" and "Frank" second and "Tad" owned by Mr. Staveloy and "Doc" owned by Mr. James Williams, Sr., were third. "Governor" to prove he could really jump carried Mr. Ripley to win the Knock Down and Out. Mr. James Williams, Sr., had that great little jumper "Bobby Arlington" take second and Mr. Hudson's "Ann" took her second third of the day. Mr. Ben Williams neglected his duties as judge long enough to win the musical chairs.

The tournament was divided into two classes as usual and resulted in the following Knights crowning their ladies in this order:

Professionals
Mr. Ed. Fowler, Knight of Flatland, Mrs. Fowler.
Mr. El Fowler, Knight of Chestertown, Mrs. Arlene Anderson.
Mr. Geo. Hudson, Knight of Radcliffe, Miss Nellie Coleman.
Mr. James Williams, Jr., Knight of St. James, Mrs. Williams.

Amateur
Mr. Lester Smith, Knight of Lynch, Miss Gladys Crowding.
Mr. Carl Mench, Knight of Chincannip, Miss Louise Williams.
Mr. Ben Williams, Knight of Smithville, Mrs. Williams.
Mr. Parks Rasin, Jr., delivered the coronation address.

IN THE SHOW RING
The Dover Show is today. Mr. George Dauby is to judge and that assures one and all that it will be a good job done.
The second class has been changed to a working hunters class over an outside course. This always adds to a show as it tends to relieve the concentration in the show ring.
We are to announce the show and Mrs. Steel will be the clerk.

PERSONAL NOTE:
It is past time for this column to be with our horses as wheat is waiting to be sown. Will try to be more leisurely hereafter.
