

ON THE SCREEN AT THE NEW LYCEUM SOCIAL NEWS OF INTEREST AT ROCK HALL

James Gleason, as the Colonel who can dish it out, wins a kiss from pretty Elvyn Knox, the heroine of Hal Roach's new comedy of army life, "Tanks a Million," which is coming on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 13, 19 and 20th to the New Lyceum Theatre.

Upstairs comedy, fast-moving romance, lilting tunes and thrilling aviation scenes combine to make Universal's new laughfilm, "Keep 'Em Flying," which comes on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 15, 16, and 17th, to the New Lyceum Theatre, one of the prize screen packages of the season. Starring Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, and featuring madcap Martha Raye, lovely Carol Bruce, William Gargan and Dick Foran, the picture surpasses anything in the guffaw category to come from Hollywood in many moons.

Although each successive Abbott and Costello screen vehicle has set new boxoffice marks, "Keep 'Em Flying," which is backgrounded against Uncle Sam's drive for world air supremacy, appears destined to establish still higher attendance figures. In addition to the array of stellar personalities, it boasts of a banner supporting cast including Charles Lang and William Davidson.

Abbott and Costello portray air school "grease monkeys," while Misses Raye and Bruce are seen as USO clubhouse hostesses. Carrying greater story values and a far more elaborate mounting than any of the earlier Abbott and Costello films, "Keep 'Em Flying" is highlighted by sensational aerial sequences that will have audiences holding onto their seats. Exceptionally exciting is Abbott and Costello's wild ride in a runaway plane. There is a mile-a-minute chase in which a motorized torpedo takes Costello on a jaunt over the country-side. Dick Foran's rescue of Gargan, 3,000 feet above the flying field, is another high spot.

Nor does interest in the feature's unfolding lag during the staging of the musical numbers in which Miss Raye and Miss Bruce sing several new tunes. The songs are definite candidates for spots on the Hit Parade. They include the Don Raye-Gene de Paul "Pig Foot Pete," sung by Miss Raye, and "The Boy With the Wistful Eyes," warbled by Miss Bruce.

Arthur Lubin, responsible for the direction of the earlier Abbott and Costello hits, attains new artistic heights in his guidance of "Keep 'Em Flying." In addition to keeping the plot moving along at ideal tempo, he has brought out in Costello a new quality—a Chaplinesque pathos that tinges the zany antics of the cherubic comic. Both Costello and his partner, Abbott, take on broader appeal as a result of Lubin's efforts. Miss Raye is her usual superb self in both her comedy and her singing routines.

Miss Bruce, the Brooklyn thrush who became the toast of Broadway through her work in the footlight production of "Lousiana Purchase," and who is making her second camera start in this offering, definitely establishes her claim to a spot in the cinematic heavens. Gargan, Foran and Lang contribute heavily to the dramatic side of the entertainment, while Davidson joins Abbott and Costello and Miss Raye as an added mirth generator.

Glenn Tryon is credited as the associate producer. The screen play was co-authored by True Boardman, Nat Perin and John Grant from an original story by Edmund L. Hartmann.

Bananas are best for eating when the skin is speckled with brown.

Put a single rolled anchovy on a small buttered toast square, or mix the paste with minced hard boiled eggs, or mix 3 parts cream cheese to 1 part of anchovy paste.

Grapes should be firm, unbruised and on the stem. When frost bitten, they are soft and drop readily from the stems.

Dirt gathers on the slats of venetian blinds so that they must be washed occasionally with a good, mild soap. After washing rub slats with a rag dipped in linseed oil. When dry, this looks like varnish.
