TRAPPING HAS BEEN GOOD this winter but prices low. Six years ago, these furs would have brought $600—today, only about $200. (Photo by Acme)

JUST A COUPLE OF KIDS on the sands at Miami Beach, Fla. Phyllis Jones, from frigid New York, enjoys Florida's tropical sunshine. (Acme)

JUST A LITTLE SNOW could not stop Eleanor Whitney, sensational tap dancer in "Millions in The Air" from celebrating the holidays. "Laughing at the Weather Man" is one of the tunes to which Eleanor danced in her first picture. (Paramount).

Below: GOOD PRICES FOR DRAFT HORSES have stimulated interest in 4-H Colt Clubs among farm boys throughout the nation. Pictured here is a group of colts owned by Washington County, Maryland 4-H boys.

Left: WILD WEST DAYS LIVE AGAIN among the cow-hands on the Half Circle B Ranch in the mountain country of North Carolina. This ranch has introduced western ranch cattle production methods to the southeastern mountain country.

JUST A HORSE OF ANOTHER STRIPE, but a tough customer, as his convict's suit implies, this zebra is causing considerable trouble for his rider, Laffin Leslie, 18-year-old English midget. This photo was made near Berkshire, England. (Acme)

NOW SHE WANTS TO STOP GROWING. Having reached a height of 7 feet and the weight of 317 pounds, Carolina Rascon, of Chihuahua, Mexico, is in the United States to see if doctors can find why she is growing so fast. She is pictured here as an El Paso dressmaker fitted her for a gown. (Acme)
