CHARLESTON, Feb. 2. Attack on the schr. Alligator. The following is the official account of the attack on the U.S. schr. Alligator, by the British Barges, as transmitted to Commodore

Dent. U. S. Schr. ALLIGATOR, Wappoo, Jan. 31, 1814. SIR-I have the honor to inform you, that the U. S. schr. Alligator, under my command, was attacked on the evening of the 29th inst. then lying to an anchor in Stono-river, and abreast of Coles' Island, by six boats from an enemy's squadron off the mouth of the river, and succeeded in beating them off, after a warm action of 30 minutes. I have to regret on this occasion, the loss of 2 men killed and 2 wound-HATCH, severely. This brave-man fell at the dy .- Nat. Int. helm, exhorting those around him to take good aim at the enemy. I hope his good conduct will entitle him to your notice. It is impossible | and wants only the signature of the President to ascertain what loss the enemy sustained; but to give it the force of law, to raise three comfrom suddenly ceasing their fire from the two | plete regiments of Rislemen, in addition to the large launcees, and the other boats joining them immediately, I am induced to believe they suffered severely, as the schooner grounded, and of this popular and highly valuable description they did not renew the action.

The sails and rigging of the schooner are much cut, but no damage sustained in the hull. I cannot conclude without rendering my thanks to the gallant officers and men you did me the honor to place under my command, for their meritorious conduct, which alone prevented the schooner from falling into the hands of an enemy of more than treble our number.

Extract from the log-book. Jan. 30, 1814-Pleasant weather, wind S. W. at 1, P. M. anchored abreast of Coles' Island; at 4 P. M. the frigate and brig close in with the breakers, when, after lying too some time, made sail and stood to the southward. From their movements, I was of opinion they would attempt to cut us out in the night; every preparation was accordingly made to receive them. At 30 minutes past 7, P. M. six boats were discovered under the south side of the river, and under cover of the marsh, with muffled oars-when within speaking distance, they were hailed, and receiving no answer, a musket was fired, which they returned with a shower of musketry and grape shot, accompanied with three cheersa broadside was returned, the cable instantly cut, and sail made on the vessel-there being at this time a light breeze from the southward and westward. The enemy's boats were then distant about thirty yards, when a heavy fire was opened from our battery and small arms, and kept up by the enemy for 30 minutes, when they were compelled to drop from do. astern in great disorder. About this time

-the boats were not seen again.

SURPRIZE OF FORT NIAGARA.

Our readers must have perused, with painful sensations, Mr. Lee's account of the surprize of Fort Niagara, where a number of our fel- the poor. low-citizens were put to the bayonet, and deliberately slaughtered; and the treatment of the prisoners afterwards was nearly as barbarous as the murders in the garrison .- This is what the English call "the sublime science of war!"-It is a melancholy detail of shocking circumstances, that should rouse the indignant feelings of all honest Americans.

Mr. Lee says, that the garrison consisted of 400 men; the Quebec Gazette says 2000 .- But what is most observable is, that the gates were open, and the Commander, instead of being at his post, was two miles from it !- Comment is needless.
