COMMUNICATION OF THE MAYOR TO THE CITY COUNCIL. Gentlemen of the Gity Council, pointed out by our city charter, some subjects of uncommon importance present themselves, which I shall bring in review for your most serious consideration. It was foreseen, as early as the month of May last, that in addition to the means of de- the Legislature is manifest; but as some fence which the General Government, (with of our citizens give such a construction to the a just regard to the equal claim of every sec- law as defeats the whole of our regulations tion of the Union to a distribution of those means) could furnish to the city of Baltimore; trouble, it will be advisable to revise the sevand of those also, which the state government might feel disposed to extend—the city it- conform to the provisions of the law of the self, should, by the active exertion of its own Legislature. resources, be prepared to meet the emergen-

of a Committee of Supply, consisting of seven it was soon found that this sum was very inadequate to complete the preparations for defence which it became incumbent on the city to provide. The Committee of Supply zens to elect four Delegates from each ward, nanimously resolved, that it was expedient to borrow a sum, not exceeding five hundred ration, from the several monied institutions of our city, which with a liberality highly honorable to these institutions, they were willing to advance on such pledge as the city gates, representing the feelings and senti-"The arrivals of Turpentine via Lisbon | ments of the citizens of both city and preand personal, in both city and precincts, to defray the extraordinary expences which were about to be incurred for the common dollars, pledging the credit of the city and "The improved state of the manufacturing | precincts for its repayment. When it is considered that the city of Baltimore had, in these proceedings, undertaken to do that which the state government is, by the very nature of our compact, solemnly which the city requested was to grant its humble prayer, that it might be permitted, upon and with the consent of its citizens, to pay the debt which it had voluntarily incurconsider, that so far from any party feelings and alike menaced all; and that the most "With regard to the effect which may be | cordial co-operation existed between both ney borrowed had been improvidently or injudiciously expended; nor denied that without those means of defence (which the state government would not supply, and the general government was under the obligation to regulate, with a view to the equal rights of other exposed parts,) this great and flourishing city, the emporium of the state, might, in all probability have been exposed to all the horrors of sack and conflagration; I know not in what terms to express my astonishment at the refusal of the House of Delegates, to grant the prayer of the city, to be permitted to redeem its credit!

This refusal, so strange and unexpected, was not alleviated by any declaration that the would, at some future day, take upon itself the payment of these disbursements made in defence of the city; nor was the Legislative will merely suspended until a more full enquiry could be made into the expediency of the expenditure, & the dispositions of the citizens

At the late session of the Legislature of been acted upon, and actually passed a bill granting the prayer of the city. The succeeding day a reconsideration of the bill was moved and carried, and clauses and conditions totally unconnected with the object of the petition, ingrafted into it, which were deemed so inadmissible as to induce the Sugar, foreign Musco. per cwt. in bond, friends of the bill to vote against it. Thus situated, it is for the wisdom of the Council to adopt such measures as may be required by the peculiar emergency in which the city is placed, with little or no means of defence provided by the state for its protection, during the approaching season of hostile operations with great probability of a serious attempt by the enemy, and labouring under the embarrassment and pressure of a Cotton, U. S. directly and indirectly 12906 debt, which we are restricted from the comwhich will cause them to endure every privation, to submit to every sacrifice which may be required to enable them to meet and repel any attempt of our implacable foe.

Several important laws, materially affecting the interest of the city have been passed by the Legislature at their late session, by one of IN conforming with my duty at this time, | which the transit duty on goods passing over the public wharves, as imposed by an ordinance passed at the last February session, is destroyed, and the city council restricted from laying similar duties in future, from the whole context of the law, the intention of | Stock. respecting wharfage, and probably may give eralordinances on the subject, and make them

An act, also, of the Legislature, to fix and

For the purpose of erecting an Arsenal in the city of Baltimore, the Legislature has authorised the raising, by way of lottery, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars. The managers named will probably attempt the effecting the object contemplated. Should they succeed, the proceeds of the lottery are to pass over to the Register to be applied by the City Council in purchasing a lot, and erecting suitable buildings for the purpose, and should a surplus remain, to establish a permanent fund, to defray the annual expences incident

In conformity to a resolve of the council, passed the 21st of May last, the several pended, and no money drawn from the treasury, excepting such sums as were requisite to fulfil contracts previously made, and for which services had been rendered. By virtue of your resolve I have borrowed of the banks of our city, for the use of the committee of supply, on the credit of the corporation, eighty thousand dollars, a regular account of the disbursement of which, authenticated by proper documents, is prepared to be laid before you for investigation. The Spring at the head of the basin (usu- | Baltimore, ally called Clopper's,) has been examined by the board of city commissioners, in conjunction with Mr. John Davis, who are of the opinion that it can be reclaimed, and made to afford a copious supply of pure and wholesome water. For further information on this interesting subject, I must beg leave to refer you to their report herewith transmitted. From the manner after which the duties of the board of Portwardens, lately established, have been discharged, we may reasonably calculate upon the the most beneficial results to the future security and improvement of our harbor and basin. Considerable progress has | Consisting of been made in devising a general plan; several plats and estimates, accompanied by a detailed account of the acts and proceedings of the board will be laid before you for your advice and approbation.

As usual, the Register has prepared and will lay before you his accounts for investigation, from which it will appear that our future resources are encumbered with an increased debt of five thousand dollars, to the Bank of Baltimore, making in the whole now due to the Bank, the sum of twenty five thousand dollars, and that there remained in the treasury on the 31st day of January last, nine hundred and fifty eight dollars and two cents.
