

THE JEFFERSONIAN TOWSON, MARYLAND.

Entered as second-class matter at the Postoffice at Baltimore, Maryland, Telephone—Towson 289.

Published every Saturday at Towson, Baltimore County, Maryland, by The Baltimore County Jeffersonian Publishing Company, Incorporated.

W. Gill Smith, President; Elmer R. Halle, Secretary; Wm. J. Peach, Vice-President; Martin J. O'Hara, Treasurer.

LOGIE BONNETT, Editor and Manager SATURDAY, JULY 31, 1920.

For President JAMES M. COX. For Vice-President FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT. For United States Senate JOHN WALTER SMITH. For Congressman CARVILLE D. BENSON.

Cox's majority grows bigger each day.

Oh where! oh where! is that Factory Site Commission?

The new charter says, a lot, but don't mean anything.

In Ireland a mixture of orange and green makes black and blue.

Harding the Republican candidate for President, reminds one of the weather at sea—too much wind.

What untold suffering is caused by the outrageous price of silk shirts and cord ties!

It looks as though the anti-charter organization will take the chart out of charter.

Back to the farm movement would be more attractive if soil didn't rhyme with toll.

The city takes what the farmer raises. This includes the farm help he raises, too.

The booze question may be dead, but there is certainly a lively "post mortem" going on.

If the wets were right about whisky they would be dead by this time for the want of it.

What has become of the peak of high prices that was to be reached some months ago?

The continued advance in the price of gasoline will make the "shoe leather express" popular.

Every radical move has a desire in back of it to get reward that has not been earned. Enough said.

Sociologists say the farmer needs more amusement. The city visitor affords him a great deal, however.

Reports have it that newspaper is to be made out of alfalfa. Look out for a raise in the price of tobacco.

Because horses never climpain, some folks think they can overload their teams during the hot weather.

In Italy they have decided to seize all the profiteers' money. In America the profiteers have decided to seize ours.

When people will trade Liberty Bonds for oil well stock, there's a lot of room for improvement in the world.

It is peculiar that presidents don't do better. Heaven knows, they receive plenty of advice from the newspapers.

How's your telephone service? The old expression of "asleep at the switch" is now "asleep at the switch board."

Harding and Coolidge being shackled with Penrose and other Republican bosses, are going to have a hard time to run.

Albert A. Blakeney, the Republican candidate for Congress, should remember that a mixture of wet and dry makes mud.

With gasoline at 35 cents per gallon, we are thinking of calling it petrol and getting a little social position out of it anyway.

Politics is quiet. Perhaps the Republicans concede the election to Congress of our present Congressman, Carville D. Benson.

If Bryan had been as willing to fight autocracy as he is to fight Old John Barley Corn he might still have been a member of the cabinet.

The trouble with being of noble birth is that one feels too important to work and when the cash is all gone has no other course but suicide.

The men who think women should vote are going to be turned dead against it when their wives take to betting hats on the election.

The Union-News, our Republican contemporary, must have "Harding" of the arteries, for it is very quiet regarding the G. O. P. presidential candidate.

The head of the American Federation of Labor has declared war on the "treaty killers." It would help a lot if he would declare war on the time killers.

It is a foregone conclusion that an editor will be elected this fall. Here's hoping he will carry his "blue pencil" into the White House with him and keep it busy.

The poor chap who sits upon a high stool in an office and draws twenty-five per week, even though he is elevated, cannot reach the high cost of living question.

Warren G. Harding, the Republican candidate for president, is having his speeches made on phonograph records. This is a good thing, for it is easy to change a record.

So far as we can ascertain, the few men who cultivate home gardens never vote the Socialist ticket.

The shortage of work horses seems to concern little concern in this part of little concern in this part of the country, but the failure to deliver touring cars creates consternation.

The Republican Editor Presidential candidate succeeded in getting his "edition" on the street first, but when the other candidate gets out his "edition" it will not be that flimsy "extra."

Do we want confusion, inefficiency, dissatisfaction and additional expense in our county government? Of course not. Well, at any rate that's what the new charter will mean.

The victory of winning the International yacht race and the success of the American boat Resolute, gives warning to Europe that America never gives up anything it wants to keep.

Skirt makers are not selling skirts for less because they are so short, but the boot-makers are getting more because the ladies' high top shoes take much more leather.

Some people work only for dollars and cents—but thank goodness there are a few well-thinking folks who are satisfied with less pay and a little appreciation "chucked" in.

Even the Republicans did not realize that Harding was a composite George Washington, Alex. Hamilton, Abe Lincoln, McKinley and Teddy Roosevelt until after he was nominated.

The fellow who looks every few miles to see if his gasoline tank is getting low may be the same man who never used to know whether his horses needed water on a hot day or not.

A Baltimore county farmer joined a matrimonial agency and nearly got a wife. At any rate he paid the highest price known for the photograph of a woman, which was $100 in cold cash.

The third party movement has reached the Second Congressional district, for Sam Appleby, who ran third and last in the Democratic primary, Dame Rumor has it, is out for another trouncing.

People are warned not to trespass on railroad tracks, but that is less dangerous than to trespass on the streets of Towson now where automobile and motorcycle speeding is rampant.

The prohibition agents are evidently no on the job in West Virginia. News dispatches state the people in one section are hunting a huge ape which has been seen and reported to be larger than a man.

Under the new Charter there are no qualifications necessary to be a councilman, the county manager or the county engineer. You can readily guess what might happen if the measure is passed this fall.

A suit has been filed in the Chicago Courts asking $25,000 for alleged swelling of a man's head after using hair tonic. No doubt the question will arise as to its application, whether internally or externally.

The shortage of school teachers in one State is causing so much anxiety that prayers are being offered for an increased supply. Increased salaries would no doubt assist in securing a definite answer to the petitions.

Senator Harding says "no one man is big enough to run these United States." Can it be that the Republican presidential candidate is making a "clean breast" that boss Penrose will help him out, if elected?

The State's Attorney of Baltimore City or the Police of that place may not admit that a Townsman, Mr. Osborne J. Yellott, made it so hot for the auto-jacks that they have been "jacked up." The police say so, at least.

Speeding through Towson on a motorcycle geared to do 90 miles an hour seems to be the sport of gentleman who resides here. Perhaps if he kills a pedestrian and is "wanked pp" on the charge of manslaughter his speed will be reduced by compulsion.

Farming is a pleasure now for some of the tillers of the soil in Baltimore county, who are only raising enough stuff for their individual needs. It won't be a pleasure for the city people though when it is realized just what effect this will have upon the markets.

Passing along the roads in Baltimore county and City one is impressed by the number of mechanics who ride to work in their own automobiles. This however, should be viewed with satisfaction, for it means more room in the street cars for bankers and the like.

The Baltimore City papers are always eager to give the Baltimore City police credit for that which they do not do, and when the county police accomplish the apprehension of a desperado the glory is bestowed on those who are not responsible for the arrest.

More industries in Towson like the Black & Decker Mfg. Co. would make the community wealthier and happier. If all business concerns thought as much of the welfare of their workers as do those at Towson Heights daily toil would become a pleasure and not a drudge.

When it comes to giving faithful public service the latest utility corporation to receive the Congressional Medal is the Baltimore County Water and Electric Company. Nearly all day Thursday Towson was without a supply of water. As a consequence the boarding houses could not serve the usual quantity of soup at dinner time.

Mr. Wm. R. Price, secretary of the Taxpayers' League, endeavored to answer Judge Burke at Pikesville the other night on the constitutionality and legality of the new charter, and it is reported he became "tongue-tied." We do not wonder at this, for it was a verbal battle between a heavy-weight and a light-weight.

A telephone nowadays is a hideous looking ornament that adorns one's desk. It is also fine as a temper disturber, irritation on a hot day, chill-blains on a cold day and at times a mass of iron and green wire that may and may not produce results. It has been known in some cases where a conversation could be had over one without being abruptly and rudely cut off, 'nigh about cracking the drum.

He's off again. Baltimore City's Republican Mayor is a regular "globe trotter"; he's either going or coming from a fraternal convention. Mayor of Baltimore for one day and absent 29 is sickening the citizens of that city. He was elected as being a "good fellow." The Republicans of Baltimore county say Albert A. Blakeney is a "good fellow," but the people will take no chances. They want a worker in Congress, therefore they'll vote for Carville D. Benson, a man who has made good at Washington.

There are so many rules and regulations governing automobile traffic in Baltimore City; also an assortment of signs on telegraph poles, standing signs on the pavement, curb stone markers and what not, that Baltimore county people will be afraid to venture into the city. Why the city authorities do not interest some automobile manufacturer to put out a machine that can be folded up and carried in a handbag after the restricted zone is reached is a mystery. It takes a "Philadelphia lawyer" to digest the ordinances, regulations, rules, codes, etc., of the great municipality of Baltimore.

PRODUCERS OF MILK ENTITLED TO A HIGHER PRICE. The efforts now being made by the Maryland State Dairymen's Association to secure a higher price to the producers of milk ought to prevail, not only for the benefit of the farmer, but also for the benefit of the consumer, for unless the farmer receives a better price for his milk a great many dairy herds will be sold this fall and the consumers in Baltimore City will inevitably suffer from a milk shortage.

At this time the milk producers in Maryland receive on an average only 35 cents a gallon for milk (the price being regulated according to the percentage of butterfat) and as the result of a thorough investigation of 100 Maryland dairies made last year by the Department of Agriculture it was demonstrated that it cost 42 cents to produce a gallon of milk. It is safe to say that the cost of feed, labor and essential dairy supplies has since that investigation advanced at least 20 per cent, and yet milk is being sold only 35 cents a gallon.

Wm. R. Price, of Timonium, secretary of the Taxpayers' League, undertook to answer the constitution and legal objections which Judge Burke had urged against the charter, but his remarks seemed to carry little weight with the voters present.

Dr. W. P. E. Wyse, of Pikesville, closed the discussion by saying that in his opinion the present form of government in Baltimore county was good enough as it is, and that he proposed to do all he could to defeat the charter. The sentiment of the crowd at the close of the meeting was decidedly against the adoption of the charter.

having spent the best part of his life in a position which required him to say little, and listen much, he had hoped to enjoy for a while the peace and quietude of private life, and in coming out against the charter he only did so from a sense of public duty. Having reached the firm conviction, after a most careful study of its provisions, that the charter as proposed is an "utterly bad" form of government.

The general store and entered the general store of Upton Wilhelm at Rockland, and to have broken into the garage of Artie Thomas, at Brooklandville, stealing his automobile, in which they endeavored to make their escape.

The machine became disabled along the way near Chatollons, and in an effort to start it, fractured his arm while cranking the motor. Sergeant Morse took his prisoner to Pikesville, where they were locked up and given a hearing before Magistrate McGraw. They denied the brutal assault upon Chenoweth, who is a cripple and walks with the aid of crutches.

Charges of burglarizing the store of Wilhelm and stealing the auto the accused were held on $2,500 bail in each case for the grand jury. A charge of carrying concealed weapons was also laid against them.

DISPLAY OF FARM HORSES AT TIMONIUM. In addition to the exhibit of farm teams at the new Timonium Fair on Friday, September 3, the class for Franking Horses took place in the afternoon in the garage of Artie Thomas, at Brooklandville.

The horses are of the character used regularly on the farm and in business, and will be shown first in buggy or runabout, then under saddle.

Every boy or girl who owns a pony should be encouraged to show him at the fair, and the jumping classes should prove a great drawing card. Entries close August 28, and should be sent to the chairman, D. Sterrett Gittings, 350 Equitable Building, Baltimore, who will send blanks and information on request.

Pacific Northwest residents are becoming exercised over the increasing prominence of Japanese in business. Governor L. F. Hart, of Washington, told the House Immigration and Naturalization Committee, which is in Seattle investigating the Japanese immigration situation.

land, and yet by reason of the fact that no similar law is in effect in the States adjoining Maryland, a car stolen in this State may easily be removed to and disposed of in an adjoining State. If title registration laws were enacted in all the States it would practically put an end to automobile stealing.

The habits and customs of the people in the several States are very much alike, and yet the laws governing their conduct are very dissimilar. While there are, concededly some "State's rights" which it would be unwise to surrender, at the same time there is no reason why greater uniformity of laws in the several States should not prevail.
