HELPED OUT REIGNING BULL

Kindly Act of New Member of Herd
Something the Keepers Had Never Seen Before.

Usually when a new bull is taken into the buffalo herd at Golden Gate park in San Francisco his standing is promptly decided by a challenge from the head of the herd. The newcomer either wins the fight and in turn is exalted to the rank of sovereign or he is defeated and shown his place. But a new bull, Mogul, recently proved to be an exception. He was two years old, a fine example of what a young buffalo should be, and he seemed thoroughly content to mind his own business and to let the other bulls mind theirs. No one would have known that there was a new buffalo in the herd.

One morning the keepers saw that there was something in the air. Mogul was sniffling round the reigning bull. They were apart from the herd, heads down, and were moving round slowly. It was the queerest beginning of a bullfight that the keepers had ever seen. It appeared as if Mogul would knock out the old bull with one toss.

As they moved round and round Mogul seemed to be horning the other bull in the eye, and the other bull did not seem to be making the least resistance. Then they pulled apart and Mogul put down his head.

The old bull had a bunch of thorny cactus sticking over his right eye, and Mogul was horning it off as best he could with his clumsy short little horns. Finally, after two more attempts, circling round as before, he got the cactus off, and each moved away about his own business.—Youth's Companion.

FIRST UNITED STATES COINS

"Fugios," Made of Copper, Were the Earliest Issued by Direct Authority of Congress.

The "fugios" were the earliest coins issued by the authority of the United States, and were of copper. It was in April, 1787, that the congress of the United States authorized the board of treasury to contract for 300 tons of copper coin of the federal standard "agreeably to the proposition of Mr. James Jarvis, provided that the premium to be allowed to the United States on the account of the copper contract for be not less than 15 per cent," and that "it be coined at the expense of the contractor, but under the inspection of an officer appointed and paid by the United States."

It is presumed that this copper coin contract was made as directed for on Friday, July 6, 1787, the congress adopted this resolution: "That the board of treasury direct the contractor for the copper coinage to stamp on one side of each piece the following device, viz.: Thirteen circles linked together and a small circle in the middle with the words 'United States' around it."

LAID BY FOR THE WINTER

Housewives of Early New York Dissatisfied With Less Than a Six-Months' Supply.

The eleventh hour, or, rather, six o'clock rush to the delicatessen store that marks the approach of dinner in these days of frenzied housewifery would have seemed a strange madcap phenomenon to the good housewives of old New York. They would have felt ill provided should they have had less than six months' provisions in the larder.

According to the memory of one small boy of seventy-five years ago the thrifty Dutch folk who lived along the west side of what is now downtown New York laid in stores in October and November to last until April or May. They bought a quarter of beef, a hog or a sheep to furnish the pieces de resistance of the winter's meals. The beef was corned or smoked. The pork and mutton was similarly cured and put away. The smoking was done in public smoke houses, maintained for profit.

A barrel of flour, two or three of apples and potatoes added the vegetable content to the menus. Other supplies to lend variety were laid in in lesser quantities. All sorts of farm products were purchasable in the fall at minimum prices, because at that time many sailing vessels and barges came down the river from upstate laden with stores. As winter and the closing of the river approached the farmers and merchants grew anxious to dispose of their stocks and the townfolk consequently bought at an advantage, which they were not slow to take.—New York Evening Sun.

CREED FOR EVERY AMERICAN

Undeniable "Good Thing" to Which
All Citizens Should Subscribe and Pass Along.

Nearly every reader is familiar with the expression, "It's a good thing, pass it along." The other day attention was attracted by a "good thing" which is here passed along. It is a "financial creed" for every man, woman and child suggested by the savings directors of the 12 federal reserve districts. Read it carefully. It is as follows:

I believe in the United States of America.

My opportunity and hope depend upon her future.

I believe that her stability and progress rest upon the industry and thrift of her people.

Therefore, I will work hard and live simply.

I will spend less than I earn.

I will use my earnings with care.

I will save consistently.

I will invest thoughtfully.

To increase the financial strength of my country and myself, I will buy government securities.

I will hold above barter the obliga-

STROBEL PHARMACY, INC.

"The Prescribing Store"

First Floor

100-100A, HOWARD ST.

There is a growing tendency to regard the word "pharmacy" as synonymous with "drugs." This is a mistake. A pharmacy is a place where the science of medicine is practiced. It is a place where the pharmacist, by his knowledge and skill, prepares the medicines which are used by the physician to cure the sick.

One of the most important duties of the pharmacist is to see that the medicines which he dispenses are of the highest quality. He must know the properties of the various drugs, and he must be able to recognize the signs of a good preparation.

The pharmacist is also responsible for the proper storage of the medicines. He must keep them in a cool, dry place, and he must protect them from light and air. He must also keep them in their original containers, so that the patient will be able to identify them.

It is the duty of the pharmacist to advise the patient of the proper use of the medicine. He must tell him how much to take, and how often. He must also tell him of the possible side effects of the medicine, and of the things which he should avoid while taking it.

The pharmacist is a member of a noble profession. He is a man of science, and he is a man of conscience. He is a man who is dedicated to the service of his fellow men.

When you go to a pharmacy, you are going to a place where you can get the best care possible. You can get the medicines which you need, and you can get the advice which you need. You can get the service which you need.

So, the next time you go to a pharmacy, remember that you are going to a place where you can get the best care possible. You can get the medicines which you need, and you can get the advice which you need. You can get the service which you need.
