

ANNUAL COMMUNITY SHOW

Rural Life Club Will Hold Affair On November Nineteenth And Twentieth.

The Rural Life Club of the Sixth District of Baltimore county has selected Friday and Saturday, November 19 and 20, as dates for its annual community show.

Due to the generosity of the Baltimore County Fair and Agricultural Society the Rural Life Club is enabled to offer somewhat larger premiums than heretofore. A total of $162.50 is offered for corn, wheat, potatoes, apples, domestic science products and canned goods.

An intensive campaign is being carried on in the Sixth District to make this a better show than any that has gone before.

not members are eligible to compete and are earnestly desired to do so. School children are especially urged to compete in the classes provided for them and the prizes offered in their department have been substantially increased.

An interesting and not overlong program is being arranged. On Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock the school children of the district will present a program under the direction of Miss Shurtz, director of music in Baltimore county schools, assisted by the teachers.

On Friday evening at 8 o'clock Dr. A. C. McCall will give a lantern slide lecture depicting agricultural conditions and methods in France. Dr. McCall was a member of the Federal Commission which was sent to France at the close of the war to investigate conditions there and to recommend methods for alleviating the conditions caused by the war.

In conjunction with the show a supper will be served in the Eklo school building. Exhibits will be displayed in the Odd Fellows' Hall, which is directly across the road from the school building.

RETURNS AT TOWSON HGTS.

Black & Decker Kept "Open House" Election Night. Results Tabulated.

"Open house" was held at the big plant of the Black & Decker Mfg. Co. at Towson Heights, on election night, when the returns were sent in by special arrangements with the Western Union Telegraph Company.

A merry party gathered, consisting not only of employees, but many residents of the town. The B. & D. Jazz Orchestra furnished music for the dances, and a buffet luncheon was served in the cafeteria.

GUNNING SEASON OPENS

We now have over seven hundred deputy game wardens scattered over every section of the State, and it might be well to take note of this fact, and not run the risk of being apprehended for violation of the game laws.

Shooting wild fowl from a power or sail boat, shooting at night time, or shooting on Sunday is a direct violation of the laws of this State.

Keep these most important facts in mind, and save yourself and friends any unnecessary trouble by being picked up by one of our wardens for violation of the game laws.

BIG MEETING PLANNED

Maryland Agricultural Society To Meet At Salisbury November 9th To 11th.

(Special Correspondence to The Jeffersonian).

College Park, Md., Nov. 5. A program which will cover practically every phase of agriculture and which will lay particular emphasis on organization, marketing and legislation, has been mapped out for the annual meeting of the Maryland Agricultural Society in Salisbury, November 9 to 11.

The importance of the subjects to be discussed and the prominence of the speakers who have been invited to address the different sessions will make the November meeting one of the most prominent in the history of the society.

The first session will be held at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, November 9, and will be called to order by the president, E. P. Conhill, of Hancock. The address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor W. A. Kennerly, of Salisbury, and will be responded to by the Rev. J. Stewart Hartman, of Cavestown. The report of the secretary-treasurer, Dr. T. Symons, the annual president's address by Mr. Conhill, and an address by Dr. T. A. Woods, president of the University of Maryland, will be other important features of the opening session.

Governor Albert C. Ritchie and J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, are scheduled to speak Tuesday evening. They will be preceded on the program by Wilbur Pearce of Sparks, and Miss Laura Amos, of Bel Air, two young agricultural club members who will talk on the work of boys' and girls' agricultural clubs.

Wednesday morning the program will be devoted to a general discussion of marketing problems, lead by a number of prominent speakers, and on Wednesday evening the convention will listen to addresses by Dr. L. H. Bailey, former dean of Cornell University; Dr. H. E. Jackson, of Washington, and possibly the Hon. E. T. Meredith, secretary of agriculture, who has promised to attend the meeting if possible.

Thursday morning will be devoted to a discussion of legislation affecting the interests of farmers and Thursday evening in the reports of committees and the conclusion of business.

The farm industry organizations affiliated with the Maryland Agricultural Society will hold annual meetings on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon. These organizations are the Maryland State Horticultural Society, the Maryland Cattle Improvement Association, the Maryland State Dairyman's Association, the Maryland State Beekeepers' Association, the Maryland State Vegetable Growers' Association, and the Cattle Raisers' Association.

Each of these organizations has mapped out an extensive program of its own along lines of particular interest to its members and these meetings will be held in the afternoon.

Winter Eggs As Easy To Produce As Summer Eggs RED COMB CHICK MASH Buttermilk It is knowing what to feed your hens that counts, when you want to get eggs. In the first place the hen must have in her ration everything that is found in the egg. In the summer she lays because she gets this variety. Red Comb Egg Mash containing Dried Buttermilk is built upon these basic facts furnishes the hen with every needed ingredient a chemical analysis of the egg shows it to contain. Getting eggs in the Winter is only a question of proper maturity of the pullets and Red Comb Egg Mash will do the rest. FOR SALE BY RICHARD C. WELLS & CO., 1704-1734 E. Lombard Street BALTIMORE, MD.
