song, it is our custom to refer to it of Christmas music remains the as a "carol." But the word is not same. ours—we borrow it. Only in England were Christmas ballads originally called carols—and even there it The first Noel, the angels say, was not until the time of Chaucer that carols were recognized as songs to be sung only at Christmas or Easter.

Originally the carol singing was confined to men who went about on Christmas Eve singing "Wassail" songs or toast to the health of those serenaded. The most famous of these old carols is "God Rest You 3 Merry, Gentiemen."

America's Best Christmas Carol, "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

O little town of Bethlehem! How still we see thee lie: Above thy deep and dreamless sleep The silent stars go by.

Yet, in the dark street shineth The everlasting Light; The hopes and fears of all the years, Are met in thee, tonight.

How silently, how silently, The wondrous gift is given! So God imparts to human hearts, The blessings of His Heaven.

No ear may hear His coming, But in this world of sin, When meek souls will receive Him still, The dear Christ enters in.

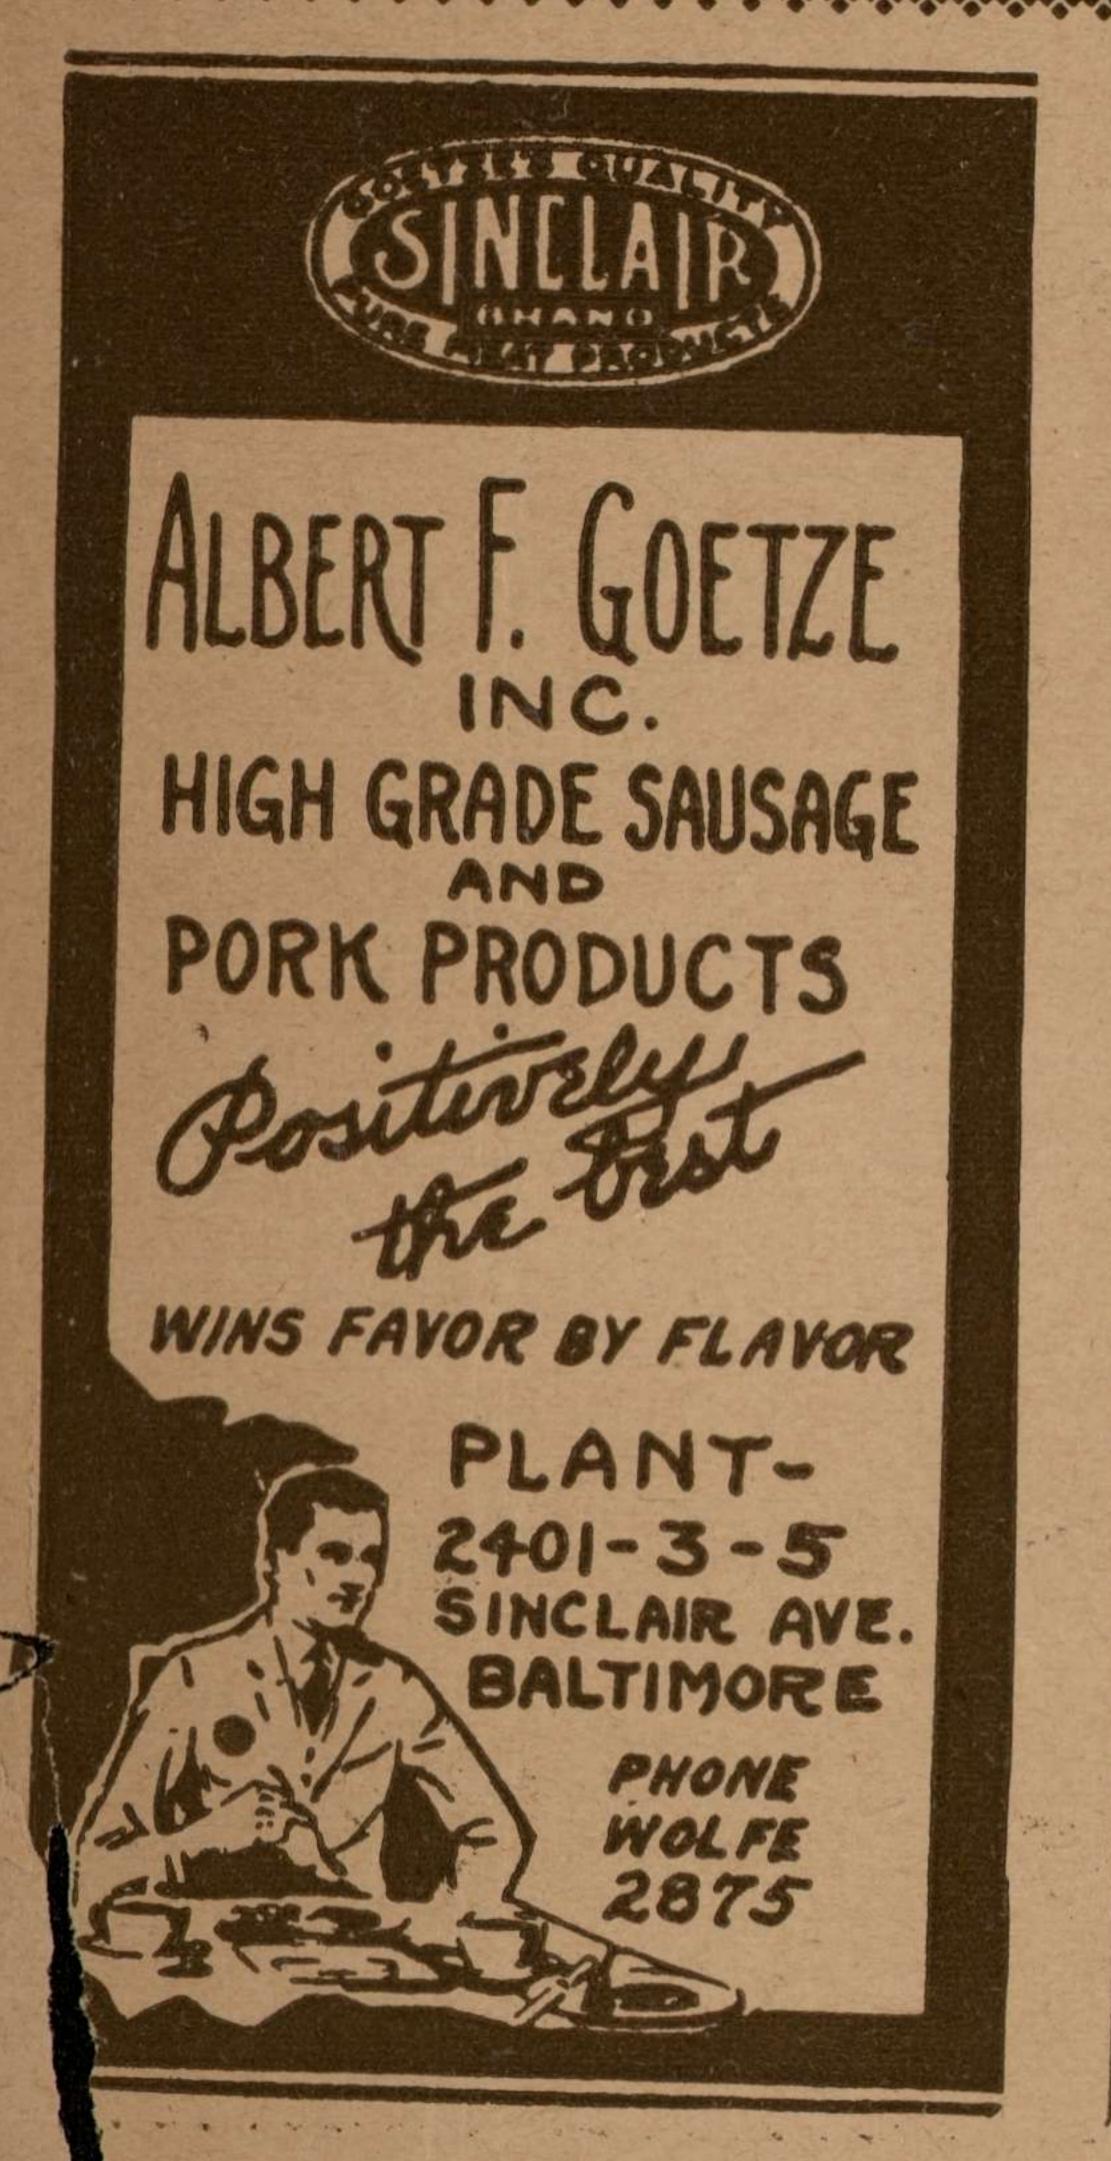

Oh holy Child of Bethlehem-Descend to us, we pray, Cast out our sin and enter in, e born in us today. We hear the Christmas angels The great glad-tidings tell; Oh come to us, abide with us, Our Lord Emmanuel.

America's most beautiful Christmas song is undoubtedly "O, Little Town of Bethlehem," written by Phillips Brooks in 1866. Phillips Brooks was a bishop of the Episcopal church.
