We had hoped that the excitement attendant on the trial of ROBERT SWAN would have terminated with the trial itself. We are clearly of opinion that, when the law has taken its course, and a verdict reached under fair and unexof all good citizens to sustain such decision, and stand up for the integrity of the tide of events and beget an old- ence at Vienna, and that negotiations had been beat as to present a most horrible spectacle. would never be again permitted to ride over the administration of justice. And we are most decidedly of opinion that an useless expression of disrespect or conin the least degree to remedy any existing evil, and can only bring them into less confidence with the people at large. We were then, not only surprised, but exceedingly sorry, to find that a large "Indignation" meeting has been held at Boonsboro', in Washington county, and a long string of resolutions adopted, strongly and bitterly censuring the accused and all concerned in the trial, save the prosecutors. The Jury was burnt in effigy.

It is hardly necessary to say how enstate of public feeling. We do not think, however, the affair was so respectable as is made out.
