A Few Little Smiles

NOT SO KEEN
"I visited a phrenologist today and had my humps read," Bootle told his wife. "He complimented me on the possession of a head with razor-like qualities."
"Did he explain what he meant?" his wife asked quietly.
"Well, no," replied Bootle; "but I gathered he'd noticed the keen edge of my ready wit and my clean-cut methods of reasoning."
"H'm!" she murmured. "If he knew you as I do he'd probably consider your head hollow ground."—Answers Magazine.

WHAT SAY?
The Tall One—When I say a thing I mean it. I never change my mind.
The Short One—I'm mighty glad to hear it. I remember some mighty interesting things you said about paying back ten dollars you once borrowed.

Audience
"You can always tell your troubles to a policeman."
"You can if you're lucky," said the policeman, who was writing a ticket. "But a driver like you is lucky not to be telling 'em to a grand jury."

A Believer
"Do you believe in Santa Claus?"
"Yes," answered Mr. Dustin Stax. "Playing up Santa Claus is one of the best ways of boosting business I know of."

Just Average
Wife (heatedly)—You're lazy, you're worthless, you're bad-tempered, you're shiftless, you're a thorough liar.
Husband (reasonably)—Well my dear, no man is perfect.

Poor Excuse
"How dare you offer me a cheap necklace like this! It's imitation!"
"My dear—the sincerest form of flattery."—Stray Stories Magazine.

Poor Catch
Small Jane had just received a spanking from her father.
"Mother," she sobbed, when they were alone later, "were men awful scarce when you married Daddy or did you just feel sorry for him?"

In the Sign Language
"I am a woman of few words," announced the haughty mistress to the new maid. "If I beckon with my finger, that means come."
"Suits me, mum," replied the girl. "I'm a woman of few words myself. If I shake me head, that means I ain't comin'."

NOT ON THE LEVEL
"I hear Mrs. Leghorn was arrested while hatching a nest of eggs."
"Yes; she was accused of running a shell game under cover."

Local Minded
"Are you afraid of war?"
"Whereabouts?" asked Mesa Bill.
"Most anywhere."
"No, Crimson Gulchers can shoot or run, as the case may require. We haven't any women or children to protect."

Tribute
"Do you enjoy flattery?"
"Very much," said Senator Sorghum. "While flattery may not always imply sincere admiration, it invariably indicates genuine respect for power."

Exercises
"Are you fond of music?"
"I used to be," said Mr. Dustin Stax, "but I gave up piano lessons in boyhood. I'm now looking for a professor who can teach me to play a proper tune on the cash register."
Correct Use
Teacher (during written English test)—Write a sentence with the word "analysis" in it.
Pupil's Exam Paper—The teacher told us to look up the word "analysis" in the dictionary.

Indians Stage a Rally; Population on Increase
The records of the United States government show that in 1865 there were 244,574 Indians on reservations. In 1891, the number had dropped to 246,834, but, after that low point, the Indian brought his total population up to 320,434 in 1933.
The total number of Indians in the United States and Canada today is 443,365, or more than half the number estimated to have roamed the continent before the coming of the white man.
