

Boston Police Better Armed for War on Crime

IN THE determined war on criminals which Police Commissioner Eugene McSweeney of Boston has opened, his men are to be protected with the latest in gas equipment, more efficient than the guns they have been using. The chief called in a number of his higher officials to inspect the guns, as shown in the photograph.

SAMMY JAY WORRIES

IT ISN'T often Sammy Jay worries about anybody but himself. Truth to tell, he doesn't worry about himself very often. You see, Sammy is smart and he knows he is smart. Under that pointed cap of his are some of the cleverest wits in all the Green Forest. Sammy seldom worries about himself because he feels quite able to take care of himself.

But Sammy Jay was worrying now. He was worrying about Lightfoot the Deer. Yes sir, Sammy Jay was worrying about Lightfoot the Deer. For two days he had been unable to find Lightfoot or any trace of Lightfoot. But he did find plenty of hunters with terrible guns. It seemed to him that they were everywhere in the Green Forest. Sammy began to suspect that one of them must have succeeded in killing Lightfoot the Deer.

Sammy knew all of Lightfoot's hiding places. He visited every one of them. Lightfoot wasn't to be found, and no one whom Sammy met had seen Lightfoot for two days.

Sammy felt badly. You see, he was very fond of Lightfoot. You remember it was Sammy who warned Lightfoot of the coming of the hunter on the morning when the dreadful hunting season began. Ever since the hunting season had opened Sammy had done his best to make trouble for the hunters. Whenever he had found one of them he had screamed at the top of his voice to warn every one within hearing just where that hunter was.

Richest Man Is 50

Recent picture of the Nizam of Hyderabad, India, the world's richest man, with a personal fortune estimated at two and one-quarter billions of dollars. The Nizam ordered that a thousand oxen and ten thousand sheep be slaughtered so that he might feed the poor, on his fiftieth birthday, just celebrated. He rules over 14,000,000 subjects.

Once a hunter had lost his temper and shot at Sammy, but Sammy had suspected that something of the kind might happen and he had taken care to keep just out of reach. Sammy had known about the chasing of Lightfoot by the hounds. Everybody in the Green Forest had known it. You see, everybody had heard the voices of those hounds. Once Lightfoot had passed right under the tree in which Sammy was sitting, and a few moments later the two hounds had passed with their noses to the ground as they followed Lightfoot's trail. That was the last Sammy had seen of Lightfoot. He had been able to save Lightfoot from the hunters, but he couldn't save him from the hounds.

The more Sammy thought things over, the more he worried. "I am afraid those hounds drove him out where a hunter could get a shot and kill him or else that they tired him out and killed him themselves," thought Sammy. "If he were alive somebody certainly would have seen him, and nobody has since the day those hounds chased him. I declare, I have quite lost my appetite worrying about him. If Lightfoot is dead, and I am almost sure he is, the Green Forest will never seem the same."

MOTHER'S COOK BOOK

POTTED MEATS AND FISH

IN ENGLAND potted meats are so common that the everyday cook knows all about preparing them. We like to have such meats occasionally, and the following are reliable methods of preparing such dishes.

Meat such as ham, tongue or chicken, as well as left-over fish is picked for a luncheon dish, rather than use it in other ways, such as hash, which is all too common in some homes. The goodness of the potted meats is, of course, first of all, in the meat, then in the proper pounding and preparation and seasoning. If carefully prepared and put away, these will keep for a long time, and may be used for an occasional snack or an emergency dish.

Potted Chicken.

Take a cold roast chicken, rejecting the skin and sinews, chop fine and to every pint allow a half-cupful of chopped ham or tongue. Put the bones of the fowl into a saucepan, add a pint of cold water and simmer until there is half a pint of stock; strain and remove the fat. Pound the chicken, and ham or tongue to a smooth paste in a mortar with an old-fashioned pestle; this makes a smooth paste; or it may be put several times through the food chopper until fine. Then pound—the pounding makes the meat of the

MY WAY

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

LET me be up at morning, And let me on my way, For with so much to see, to do, Then who would long delay? Let me go seeking fortune, And doing something for the world, The world that does the same.

Let me be far at noontide, Be far upon the quest, For with so much to do, to see, Then who would care to rest? I hear the pulleys rattle, I hear the traffic roar, A hundred matters to be done And highways to explore.

Let me be up at morning, Let me be far at noon, For with so much to see, to do, And so the morn to venture, And so the day to roam, But, when the evening shadows fall, Let me be coming home.

STAR DUST Movie Radio

By VIRGINIA VALE

THE motion picture business got a gentle jolt recently, when it was announced by a man who knows that the stars preferred by people who buy tickets to the movies are not the stars credited by Hollywood and the motion picture critics as being the best on the screen.

The announcement was made by A. H. Blank, who has been in the business for 24 years, and is the head of two organizations which operate 75 theaters in 35 cities, selling some 20,000,000 tickets a year. He says that the most popular stars this last year have been Will Rogers, Shirley Temple, Clark Gable, Mae West, Norma Shearer, Bing Crosby, Claudette Colbert, Myrna Loy, Joan Crawford and the team of Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers.

The stars the critics rave over are Charles Laughton, Claudette Colbert, George Arliss, Clark Gable, Leslie Howard, Norma Shearer, Greta Garbo, Will Rogers, Shirley Temple and Helen Hayes. They include Shirley, you see, but put her ninth on the list.

So—let's take the list of the best ten, and check up on current news about them.

Will Rogers' pictures are still drawing crowds, a most unusual thing when the star is no longer living. Shirley Temple had a lovely Christmas, with James Dunn acting as Santa Claus in an airplane and dropping presents for her on the lawn. She's taking a month's vacation, and planning to spend it in Hollywood. Clark Gable, since the split with his wife, is living at a hotel, and having some difficulty because he has his dogs staying with him. He will probably make a sequel to "Mutiny on the Bounty," showing what happened to him and his men after they settled on Pitcairn Island. Mae West wants to return to New York and do a stage play.

Norma Shearer, making "Romeo and Juliet," has for some time worn her hair a la "Juliet," in preparation for the picture. Bing Crosby is more excited than ever over his racing stable, now that the Santa Anita track is open. Claudette Colbert is still receiving congratulations over her elopement with Doctor Pressman, who was called to attend her when her sinus trouble was aggravated by the rain scenes in "It Happened One Night." Joan Crawford and Franchot Tone are still in a honeymoon mood. Fred Astaire, happier than ever before, is set to make more pictures with Ginger Rogers, who proved not to be so successful in "In Person," which she made alone, as she is when she's working with him.

If you've heard the very popular serial, "One Man's Family," on the air (and you should have; it's been going on for years), you'll be interested to know that both RKO and Paramount are bidding for the screen rights; want to do it with the same people and everything.

Now it's Ann Dvorak who's having trouble; she is suing Warner Brothers, complaining that they haven't let her work since October 29 and haven't paid her salary since then. But—she looked badly in her last picture and didn't give too good a performance.

"Captain Blood" is one of the pictures you'll want to see; it's dramatic, thrilling all the way through, and brings to the screen a young man who's sure to be a star—Errol Flynn. Off the screen Mr. Flynn has the quiet, reticent manner of Ronald Colman. He's very good looking, very intelligent, and most likable.

From Impresario Steve Trumbull, radio vet famed for his yacht-racing through very stormy waters and for his immortal broadcast of the feverish Dillinger hunt in Indiana (while the late Public Enemy No. 1 was reposing a state or two away), comes this correction for the item in which it was stated here that the Buck Rogers show had been taken off the air:

"After stopping for one sponsor, the Buck Rogers show was immediately taken up by another. The show is presented on CBS twice from New York—once at 8:00 p. m. EST (reaching the Middle West at 5:00 p. m.) and then re-broadcast to reach the mountain states at 5:00 p. m. their time and the Pacific coast at 4:00 p. m. coast time. Thanks for setting your public right on this."

ODDS AND ENDS . . . During 1935 Guy Lombardo picked and played on the air ten songs which became hits . . . Eddie Cantor's broadcasting hour is changed, so that he no longer has Major Bruce as competition . . . Twentieth-Century-Fox is making three hundred prints of the quint's picture, "The Country Doctor"; it will be introduced simultaneously in three hundred cities . . . And I hear that it's a grand picture . . . Reginald Denny is making loads of money out of toy aeroplanes . . . And Colleen Moore gets a nice income from the showings of that doll house of hers.

Studio Has 10,500 Props; Range From Armor to Gems

Each movie studio has a property department in which it stores a miscellaneous collection of nearly everything under the sun, says Popular Mechanics. In one collection there are 3,000 heavy pieces ranging from suits of armor to rugs and perle bedsteads. Aside from these the studio has 7,500 "hand props" like jewelry and dishes. One room is piled high with different kinds of satellites, a third with paintings. Stands hold various types of umbrellas and walking canes. Wrist watches, necklaces and silverware are laid in cases. On the lot are different kinds of automobile bodies, replicas of ancient carts, and even a collection of small boats.

If a studio needs something that it doesn't own, the chances are the item can be rented from one of the property houses, huge warehouses stacked with equipment.

I FEEL FINE

Mothers read this:

A CONSTIPATED child is so easily straightened out, it's a pity more mothers don't know the remedy.

A liquid laxative is the answer, mothers. The answer to all your worries over constipation. A liquid can be measured. The dose can be exactly suited to any age or need. Just reduce the dose each time, until the bowels are moving of their own accord and need no help.

This treatment will succeed with any child and with any adult.

Doctors use liquid laxatives. Hospitals use the liquid form. If it is best for their use, it is best for home use. And today, there are fully a million families that will have no other kind in the house.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a doctor's prescription, now so widely known that you can get it all ready for use at any drugstore.

BEFORE BABY COMES

Elimination of Body Waste Is Doubly Important

In the crucial months before baby arrives it is vitally important that the body be rid of waste matter. Your intestines must function—regularly, completely without griping.

Why Physicians Recommend Milnesia Wafers

These mint-flavored, candy-like wafers are pure milk of magnesia in solid form—much pleasanter to take than liquid. Each wafer is approximately equal to a full adult dose of liquid milk of magnesia. Chewed thoroughly, then swallowed, they correct acidity in the mouth and throughout the digestive system, and insure regular, complete elimination without pain or effort. Milnesia Wafers come in bottles of 20 and 48, at 35c and 60c respectively, and in convenient tins for your handbag containing 12 at 20c. Each wafer is approximately one adult dose of milk of magnesia. All good drug stores sell and recommend them.
