JEST A-WHITTLIN' AN' A-THINKIN'

By PETE GETTYS

A State Farmer Section Feature

You read in the papers the awful cost of bad colds in this country;—multiply this by all the other losses from all the other ailments, and it runs into billions and billions. Was jest a-thinkin'—suppose there were no losses from sickness—it wouldn't be all profit, think what it would cost the doctors and dug stores and medicine people.

Did you ever think what'd happen if there were no losses on the farm; every littler of pigs a full one, every calf, every colt, every egg hatched and every chick raised, no crop failures, no erosion, no insect and disease losses? Well, that wouldn't work—be about like the statement if fish weren't cannibals the sea'd be so full of fishes the big boats couldn't get through.

* * * *

Was a'readin' a speech a feller made the other day up in Wisconsin, "Why I want my boy to be a Farmer", and there's lots of good sense in it!

"I want our boy to be a farmer and live in what the germans call an 'erbnaf', or hereditary home, to which his sisters can return in times of depression, should they marry city men, because:"

"1. The farmer has more and better food to eat than most city people. In times of depression he is more certain of a livelihood—if he hasn't mortgaged the farm."

"2. The farmer has better health than city men and lives about five years longer, according to a recent study of an insurance company."

"3. The farmer accumulates more property—becomes a wealthier man than the average city person. Millions of city people have almost no property at all—except an automobile. Wealth in the cities is probably four or five times more concentrated than in the rural territory.

"4. The farmer is more likely to enjoy his work than most city people. Most city work is monotonous—tending a machine in a factory, oprating a typewriter, standing behind a counter in a retail store hour after hour—"

"5. The farmer is more likely to rear a family and do his part to promote the welfare of the nation and the race. The family is becoming smaller and weaker in the cities. Only two-thirds enough children are now being born in our large cities to maintain their population permanently. Conditions of living and the philosophy of life in the cities tend toward extinction. The rural philosophy of life, with its recognition of the family as the fundamental economic as well as social institution, tends toward survival."

But the trick in that is for the young fellow to inherit the farm.

FORTY-SEVEN HOMEMAKERS LEARN CRAFTS

On March the seventh the homemakers clubs of Cecil County filled their lunch baskets with sandwiches and gathered at Principio Furnace club room to spend a day learning some craft. The meeting was under the direction of the Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Gertrude Denning.

Several crafts were learned including weaving, hooked rugs, chair caning, and candlewicking.

Mrs. William Henry of Charlestown Homemakers club gave a very interesting demonstration on hooked rugs, showing how rag strips, woolen yarns, old silks, as hose, etc., could be used in making very beautiful mats and rugs. Several rugs were started with these different materials.

Mrs. Nelson McCall and Mrs Albert Graham gave the demonstration on weaving. Here the various types of weaving were shown, from a very simple weaving with scraps of silk and print rags to a more complicated weaving of a rug from chenille. A pattern loan was made available for those wishing to make loans.

Mrs. William Little of the Calvert club was in charge of the hair caning a straight chair and the back of a rocker.

The candlewicking demonstration was given by the Home Demonstration Agent. It was shown how to lay off the pattern and work bedspreads, how to make rugs and pillow covers, and other varieties of this craft.

Coffee was served by the Principio Homemakers club to make the box lunches more appetizing.

After lunch the Home Demonstration Agent made several announcements and a short talk was given on College week or Rural Women's Short Course for women by Mrs. Atlee Armour, county president of Homemakers clubs.

When you were a boy any fish you caught tasted good.

DEATHS

MRS. CLARA E. CAMBURN

Mrs. Clara E. Camburn died at her home in Port Deposit, March 2, after an illness of several days. Funeral services were held at her home, with interment at West Nottingham Cemetery.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Esther Randall, of North Walls, Pa.; and four sons, Albert, of Philadelphia, Pa.; Walter, at home; Harry, of Deep Water, N. J., and George, of Washington, D. C.

MRS. MARY E. FREEMAN

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Freeman, 98, was held at a local funeral home in Elkton, Saturday morning. She was the widow of William R. Freeman, for many years owner of Freeman's mill, near Chesapeake City.

Two sons and two daughters survive: Mrs. George W. Padley, of Cecilton; Thomas R. Freeman, Elkton; Mrs. Mary E. Davis, near Odessa, Del., and Charles L. Freeman, of Elkton.

MRS. JOSEPH ROCHET

Mrs. Theresa Rochet, 26 years old, wife of Joesph Rochet, an attendant at Perry Point, died suddenly at the Franklin Square Hospital, Baltimore, March 8. Besides her husband, she leaves a seventeen-day-old daughter. The funeral was held on Wednesday morning, with Requiem Mass at St. John's Church, Baltimore. Interment was in that city. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rochet resided in Havre de Grace.

GEORGE M. GILBERT

George M. Gilbert, aged 84 years, a former resident of Elkton, died March 10, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William H. Curry, at Feltonville, Pa. His wife, who was Miss Rachel Ash, of Elkton, died about 25 years ago. He is survived by two sons, Walter W. Gilbert, of Trainer, and Harry C. Gilbert, Feltonville, and two daughters, Mrs. Bertha Curry, Feltonville, with whom he made his home, and Mrs. Eva Townsley, Trainer. He is also survived by a brother, Thomas M. Gilbert, of Wilmington, Del. The funeral was held Friday afternoon, with interment at Lawn Croft cemetery.

P. R. R. PICK-UP SERVICE

Under new pickup and delivery service effective April 1, 1936, shippers and receivers of freight handled by Pennsylvania Railroad will benefit in numerous ways.

Regular receivers and shippers should file notice with agent saying what is desired, that is, delivery service or allowance. The handling of traffic will be expedited to his advantage.

The word "Collection" service now used has been changed to "pick-up" on account of the confusion with collection on delivery.

Under the old tariff there was a charge for pick-up and delivery under certain conditions. Under the new tariff there is no charge when the freight rate is 30c or more per 100 lbs. on less carload freight.

This service covers shipments to and from all points in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Where any item is rated lower than 30c per 100 lbs. shipper or consignee may order pick-up or delivery service and rate will be increased to 30c per 100 lbs. to cover this service. Where a number of articles on one shipment are covered by various rates even though they average 30c each item will have to be rated at 30c per 100 lbs. to get this service. This rule applies on both class and commodity rates.

The minimum charge of 50c will remain the same. Pick-up and delivery will be given on shipments moving at minimum charge.

A bill has been introduced in the House of Delegates at Annapolis, by Delegate Earl Bennett of Dorchester county, deferring the registration of motor vehicles to March 31. A similar bill was introduced in the Senate by Senators Phoebus of Somerset county and Davis of Caroline county.

ROAD BUILDING PROGRAM

A $16,000,000 road-building and grade-crossing elimination program is proposed by Dr. Homer E. Tabler, chairman of the State Roads Commission.

The sale of 3,200,000 in state roads debentures will be necessary for full operation of the program, Dr. Tabler disclosed, adding that the plan involves addition of about 200 miles to the highway system at the expiration of two years.

The program was outlined in a commission report to Gov. Harry W. Nice.

In addition to the construction programs already announced Dr. Tabler said the commission favored construction of a main route from the Delaware line to Washington.

NEW COMEDY—HER WEEK END

Anne Nichols At The Maryland Theatre, Baltimore, Week Of March 23rd

Anne Nichols is bringing a new comedy, entitled "Her Week End" to Baltimore for one week prior to its New York premiere. It will be presented at the aaryland Theatre commencing Monday night, (March 23rd) and performances will be given nightly with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

Miss Nichols is probably best remembered as the author and producer of the celebrated "Abie's Irish Rose", which established a world's record for gross receipts and length of run. For nearly six years "Abbie" went trapsing about the country, performing continuously throughout winter and summer, rain or shine, with sometimes as many as eight companies working at the same time. And if this were not enough, Miss Nichols assumes the personal responsibility for sending companies into Canada, Australia and England. When last heard from there was one company still touring Australia.

"Her Week End" was co-authored by Miss Nichols and Alford Van Ronkel and the story concerns itself with two working girls, one seeking romance, the other wanting wealth and social position. The play is in three acts and one modernistic setting.

The cast of important New York players engaged to present "Her Week End" includes Jessie Royce Landis, who recently succeeded Judith Anderson in "The Old Maid" during its stay at the Empire Theatre, New York; Carol Stone, talented daughter of the famous Fred Stone; Hancey Castle, James Spottswood, Damian O'Flynn, Alfred Kappeler and Thomas Dillion.

So that playgoers will see a smooth performance, Miss Nichols has booked "Her Week End" in Princeton and Wilmington before opening it here. Following its engagement at the Maryland the comedy goes to Philadelphia and thence to New York.

RELIEF FUNDS EXHAUSTED

Announcement was made today by Mr. Pierre N. LeBrun, Chairman of the Cecil County Welfare Board, to the effect that their funds for relief were practically exhausted. Assistance will be continued until the end of March for families who are receiving aid from funds for Dependent Children. Because there is no other money available, relief to all other groups, both employables and unemployables, was discontinued as of March 16th. This means that some 260 families which have been receiving relief have been cut off and that assistance will have to be refused to new applicants, including 108 families whose applications were received within the past month, but who have not yet been given assistance. A great many of these are families consisting of people too old to work but not eligible for pensions and cases of illness, etc.

The Welfare Board is keenly aware of the fact that the withdrawal of relief means suffering for these families but since no funds have been appropriated to carry on relief, the Board cannot continue its assistance to these needy families. The following letter hhas been mailed today to all families who have been receiving relief:

CECIL COUNTY WELFARE BOARD
Elkton, Maryland
March 16, 1936

Dear Friend:

We regret that we are unable to forward you the relief order you are probably expecting. At the present time we have no funds for general relief distribution, since the Maryland Legislature has failed to take any action for the raising of funds within the state for relief purposes. We realize the position you are in and regret exceedingly not being able to help you but it is obvious that without funds we cannot make relief payments.

We trust that the Legislature will soon act so that we will be in a position to again help you.

Very truly yours,
PIERRE N. LeBRUN,
Chairman.

WOODLAWN

The Ladies Aid is planning to hold an all-day quilting and covered dish luncheon on Thursday, March 26.

"Safety First", a three-act play, will be presented in the O. U. A. M. Hall on April 1 under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society.

The people of the community tendered a farewell party on Tuesday evening to the Joseph Biggs, who are moving near Rising Sun.

A large number of cars and trucks have been stuck during the last week between Bay View and Zion.

WEST NOTTINGHAM 21--ELKTON HIGH 6

By C. K. VAUGHAN

Tuesday of last week West Nottingham Academy's basketball team brought back another victory from the Elkton territory when it easily overcame the Elkton High School 21-6.

The Markarian coached boys looked their best in the first period when they started off with a bang. Their passing attack proved to be almost flawless when they rolled up an 8-0 score in this chukker. But from this period on the game seemed to lack the all essential requisite of organized team play. Both sides made many substitutions which seemed to slow the contest up to a marked degree.

Every now and then Byrd or Rowland would burst forth with a bit of spectacular playing for the Maroon. Ellison and Brown did some nice work for the local aggregation. The lineup:

| W. N. A. | | Elkton H. S. |
|---|---|---|
| Rowland | R.F. | Psomas |
| Byrd | L.F. | Brown |
| Pennington | C. | Lewis |
| Wheatly | R.G. | Downey |
| Philips | L.G. | Everett |

Substitutes—West Nottingham: Bennett, Mowrey, Buchanan, Dickinson. Elkton: Garrett, Robinson, Ellison, Jones, Denney, Slonecker.

Ice Hockey

West Nottingham Academy lost an ice hockey game to Gilman last Friday afternoon at the Sport Center in Baltimore, the final score being 6-1.

Gilman smashed four shots into the net during the first period and one in each of the remaining stanzas. The Maroon got her sole tally in the first minutes of the final period when Hallock slid one in on a very nice assist from Saltsman.

Basket Ball

West Nottingham's basketball team dropped a close one to the Church Farm School last Saturday down at Glen Loch when they were turned away on the wrong side of 31-28.

The Maroon got off to a rather faulty start, when they trailed 7-11 for the first quarter and at half time the score stood 21-12 against them. (This was due largely to the fact that the ball was not only in play when it hit the side walls; but many times actually put in play from it).

Period number three was a different story when the visitors cut down the locals score by 3 points, the score at this stage of the contest being 28-19. The fourth chukker was the one that almost turned the trick, when the Coloramen snared nine markers to their opponents three. This drive was led by Captain John Roak and his flashy left guard, Bob Rowland. The former accounted for 4 points while the latter achieved the sizeable total of three field goals and four foul tosses for his afternoon's work.

By far the outstanding performance of the afternoon was the job that Prusser turned in for the Churchmen—14 points to his his credit; all of which were field shots. Barrett, at his pivot post, was also outstanding for the victors. The lineup:

| W. N. A. | | Church Farm |
|---|---|---|
| Byrd | L.F. | Robinson |
| Roak, capt. | R.F. | Prusser |
| Philips | C. | Barrett |
| Rowland | L.G. | West, capt. |
| Pennington | R.G. | Wytack |

Substitutes—West Nottingham: Dickinson, Wheatley, Mowrey. Church Farm: Guyer, Irwin.
