MEMORIAL DAY

Saturday will be observed as Memorial Day throughout our Nation, a day when citizens will halt in their everyday tasks and pay tribute to the heroic dead of this country.

Programs of appropriate exercises will be presented, patriotic addresses made, living veterans of wars honored by the living, while all join hands in paying tribute to the dead.

Memorial Day to many means a holiday and a day of recreation, to a more significant meaning. A day of reflection, tinged with sadness.

On this day designated as a day honoring those who gave their full measure of devotion for their country, let us remember that belligerent and war-time biases have Let us remember the those who fought for whatever principle they upheld-for any man who fights for his honest and sincere beliefs is a hero.

Gone is the bitterness of war and dissension of other days, and every passing year richly sustains the glory of those who fought for their ideals

Beauty has the tendency to outlive ugliness, and glorifies itself with the onward march of Time. On Memorial Day it is well to pause in the stress of living and glean inspiration from the memory of those who gave their all that the world might enjoy a full measure of Peace and Progress

EMERGENCY CROP LOANS

June 15 is the final date on which applications for Emergency Crop loans will be received, it was announced today by S. M. Thomson manager of the Baltimore district of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan.

Loans from the 1936 emergency crop loan fund are being made only to farmers who cannot obtain credit from other sources, including production credit associations. Applications are being received by the local emergency crop and feed loan committees operating in most counties. and disbursements are being made through the regional office at Baltimore.

Although requests for emergency crop loans are less numerous than last year, especially in areas showing a marked improvement in farm income, more than 9,000 loans have been made to date through the Baltimore office. As of May 15, more than 150,000 loans had been made over the entire country.

Springtide Renewal

O THOSE who love to watch the changing seasons, the dawning of springtime in the fields and woods and even along the city streets, is ever new. Each returning year one welcomes signs of earth's awakening-the bursting leaf buds, joyous bird songs, the delicate unfolding of the first wild flowers. Surely this ever-recurring miracle of spring has some significance of permanent value to those who love to watch it.

Once a woman sat by her kitchen window burdened with the languor and weariness which she had been accustomed to associate with the spring season. Outside, in her little garden, a song sparrow perched on the fence, and the air was filled with his cheery song. Lilacs were in bud and delicate shoots of grass were springing up. Suddenly she remembered the words of the Psalmis (Psalms 104:30), "Thou renewest the face of the earth." "Thou renew. est," she thought, as she watched the signs of joyful awakening before her. Then she realized that she herself needed spiritual renewal, and that in order to experience that renewal, she only needed to turn to God, who is the source of all life. She only needed to realize that her strength, vigor, and vitality depended upon Him, and not on times and seasons. The words of the prophet Isaiah (40:31), "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength," came to her with a deeper significance, and she found herself suddenly rejoicing in her freedom from pain and weariness. It is related of the prophet Moses that he was "an hundred and twenty years old when he died: his eye was not dim, nor his natural force abated" (Deuteronomy 34:7). As the seasons come and go, the human so-called mind is apt to measure life by their passing. But Christian Science reveals that man's life is not measured by the turning of the earth on its axis, nor by its revolution around the sun, for God is Life, and man reflects Life, because he is the image and likeness of God. fact of being is understood, men will enjoy better health and longer life. In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 246) Mary Baker Eddy writes, "Except for the error of measuring and limiting all that is good and beautiful, man would enjoy more than threescore years and ten and still maintain his vigor, freshness, and promise." The renewal of strength which results from a scientific waiting upon the Lord can be experienced at any time and at any season. It is not dependent on time or circumstance, but upon the understanding of the ever-presence of God, divine Mind, who is the source of all vitality and strength and activity. There is "no variableness, neither shadow of turning" in the truth of God's ever-pres-Mrs. Eddy also writes (ibid., p. 246), "Let us then shape our views of existence into loveliness, freshness, and continuity, rather than into age and blight." Are we sorrowfully looking forward to "age and blight," or are we expecting every day a renewal of "loveliness, freshness, and continuity"? Are we companioning with these latter thoughts, or are we fearing the dark shadows of age and

If our work seems burdensome and the day drags wearily, it is well to remind ourselves of the divine promise that "they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint." This promise is available now, at the present moment. We can avail ourselves now of the ever-presence of divine Life, Truth, and Love. If the need is for more energy, that need is supplied through the understanding that God, divine Mind, is the source of all strength and activity. If to human sense the need is for rest, there are "green pastures" prepared for for those who have need of such refreshment, and Love, the divine Shepherd, leads the discouraged and weary pilgrim beside "the still waters," where he may renew his spiritual strength and drink deeply of that which will satisfy and sustain him .- The Christian Science Monitor.

The curtain of the dawn goes up, the day's stage opens, and we actors take our places and play our wonted parts to a slightly varied set of spectators .- Stephen B. Stanton.
