RISING SUN SMOTHERS LESLIE

The Rising Sun Hustlers added another game to their win column on Saturday when they bested Leslie by the score of 15-1.

Leslie scored their lone run in the second frame when Spotswood singled, went to second on Leveridge's grounder, and scored on Graham's two-ply hit.

This one tally stood good until the 4th, when the Hustlers found the delivery of Leveridge, Leslie hurler, to their liking, driving him from the mound. In this big frame, with one away, Jay Emrey singled, went to second when Leslie's short-stop fumbled Smith's hard grounder; Richardson walked to fill the bases. Marion Rawlings, Sun's hard-hitting center-fielder, smashed out a triple, driving in three runs. Little singled to score Rawlings; McCush walked, Reynolds singled to send Little and McCush across the plate, but was put out going to second. D. Rawlings fled-out to close the inning, in which four Leslie pitchers participated and the Sun boys scored six runs. The Hustlers added three more runs in the 5th, five in the 6th and one in the 8th; having a total of fourteen safe hits.

Clifton (Mike) Brown, Rising Sun hurler, was the big star of the game. Besides limiting the hard-hitting Leslie club to seven safeties, blanking them after the second inning, he batted-in six runs; having 3-for-5—a single, double and home run, crossing the home platter personally three times. Richardson, who received Brown's slants, caught a wonderful game, only one man stealing second on his throws.

Billy Reynolds, Hustler stellar short-stop, shared hitting honors with Brown, getting 3-for-5, and played a good game afield.

T. Spotswood, Leslie's right-fielder, who finished the game on the mound, was the only visiting player who could connect with Brown's deliveries consistently, getting three bingles for the afternoon.

Mrs. William Smith is quite poorly at the home of her son, Samuel Smith, near Farmington. Several from this community attended the Wilson-Keppel wedding, Rising Sun.

Relatives of Mrs. Annie Ewing, of Colora, helped to celebrate her 83rd birthday Friday, July 24th, at the home of her sister Mrs. Laura Wigton, Greenhurst, where Mrs. Ewing has been visiting for some time.

The Samuel Ewings visited George Garrett and family in Baltimore. Lewis A. Coulson, Hockessin, Del., has purchased a new car.

Work has begun on the new cow barn on the Lloyd Balderston farm. Some improvement was made to the dirt road through our town the past week.

The Young People's Group of Mt. Pleasant and Colora picnicked at Red Point last Friday, stopping at Charlestown on their return trip home.

Several from this community enjoyed the Pageant at Camp Horse-shoe last Saturday evening. William Woodrow, of Chesfer, and sister Mrs. Arthur Reynolds, of Sylvania, called on their uncle John Blackburn, Sr.

Miss Genevieve Love, of Port Deposit, visited here at the home of her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Lawson S. Love.

B. F. Caldwell and family and his sister Miss Panama, who had spent the past seven weeks here, left Tuesday for Cornelius, North Carolina. Mr. Caldwell and family are having a two weeks' vacation.

Lewis A. Coulson, Hockessin, Del., called on his aunt Mrs. R. F. Pierce an evening the past week.

Wilmer Carroll and family, of Pleasant Grove, Pa., spent Sunday with Granville Harris and family.

Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smithson and daughter Miss Virginia were guests of Mrs. George Akroyd, of Bethlehem, Pa., Sunday. Miss Virginia remained for a visit.

Mrs. W. N. Wilson spent the weekend with A. Wilson and family, Nottingham, Pa.

Ellis H. Howard, of Malvern, Pa.; Mrs. Carrie Althouse, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Chambers, of Upper Darby Pa., were callers here last Friday.

Mrs. William McKay, Miss Marian Logan, Norman McKay and Donald McKay, of Kennett Square, called on friends here Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Keetley entertained friends from Philadelphia and Delaware.

Miss Mabel Barrett of Rising Sun is with Miss Elizabeth Lamm for awhile.

Little Bobby Boyd, Nottingham, Pa., is staying here with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Boyd while his mother is a patient in Coatesville Hospital.

GOOD PEACH CROP IN PROSPECT

Mr. Paul C. Boyd, of the Susquehanna Orchards, near Delta, Pa., reports prospects bright for a large crop of excellent peaches this year. They expect to begin harvesting the crop soon. Mr. Boyd reports, but states it is a little too early to give the exact date, which will be advertised shortly. He wants his customers to know they will have plenty of peaches at the orchards and that the prices will be reasonable. Elsewhere in our columns will be found the advertisement of the Susquehanna Orchards.

With the one month's breathing spell accorded to the State Farmer's editorial staff, plans are being completed now for an improved all-rotogravure farm magazine next month. It will come to the readers of The Midland Journal during the week of September 6.

MIDDLE ATLANTIC GRANGE CONFERENCE

The Tenth Annual Grange Lecturers' Conference under the auspices of the Middle Atlantic Grange Lecturers' Association will be held at College Park, Md., August 11th to 14th, inc., with the University of Maryland as host.

The Association is comprised of the State Grange Lecturers of New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey.

According to Albert A. Ady, State Lecturer for Maryland, advance reservations from these states indicate a record attendance of approximately five-hundred.

The delegates will be accommodated at the University at the low cost of $8.50, which will include meals, lodging, tours, etc.

The opening program will include an address of Welcome by Dr. H. C. Byrd, Pres. of the University of Maryland and "Greetings" by Dr. T. B. Symons, Director of Extension Work, Miss Venia M. Keller, State Home Demonstration Agent and T. Roy Brookes, Master, Maryland State Grange.

Discussion groups under the guidance of the various state lecturers will center around, "Rural Economics", "Youth Interests and Trends", "The Grange & Social Relations", "Lecturers' Methods" and "Recreation".

Louis J. Taber, Master of National Grange and James C. Farmer, Lecturer of National Grange, are scheduled to address the Convention. Taber will talk at the Wednesday evening session.

ANNUAL PICNIC OF OLD FIDDLERS

Old-time fiddlers from all over the United States and parts of Canada are expected to convene at the fourteenth annual Old Fiddlers Picnic scheduled to be held at Crystal Springs Park near Parkersburg, Pa. on Saturday, August the 15th. This is without doubt the most unusual musical event to be presented anywhere.

William Keith of Westwood, near Coatesville, an enthusiastic musician of the old school, shortly after the end of the late World War, conceived the idea of an Old Fiddlers Convention. To the pleasant surprise of Mr. Keith, the first picnic held at Crystal Springs Park near Parkersburg, not only drew many musicians from all parts of the country, but over 20,000 spectators were in attendance at this unique rally.

The Fourteenth Old Fiddlers Picnic will follow the lines of the picnics of the past. There will be no entrance fee for old fiddlers and no prizes will be awarded. The affair is arranged purely as get-together and good time for the old fiddlers. The general public is invited to attend.

TUGWELL IN DROUGHT AREA

After a swing through the parched area of the Dakotas, Montana and Wyoming, Dr. Tugwell, Resettlement Administrator, states the situation is better in some respects than in 1934, and worse in others. Immediate relief for some 97,000 farm families in the four states will be needed, he says. Federal funds available amount to about $65,000,000.

Tapping of underground rivers is proposed by Morris L. Cooke, chairman of President Roosevelt's Great Plains Drought Committee. Many streams that dry up in summer continue to run below the surface. Mr. Cooke also favors the building of many small dams to store rain for use in time of drought.

SCHOOL TAX LEVIES IN MARYLAND

The school tax levy in Maryland ranges from 41 cents on $100 in Harford county to 97.3 cents in Allegany, with a county average of 68.9 cents.

The rates cited were for the fiscal year 1935-36, which ends at different dates in various counties. The year already has ended in some counties and a new rate has been set.

The average cost of the school system in all counties is 42.4 per cent. of the total cost of county government. Five counties—Carroll, Charles, Queen Anne's, Prince George's and Cecil—used more than half the county income for schools.

Three counties—Anne Arundel, Somerset and Kent—used less than thirty-five per cent. of their income for schools.

The amount levied for schools included the current expenses, debt service and capital outlay. The average levy for current expenses, which includes books, lighting and heating buildings, and teachers' salaries, was 54.3 cents per $100. The average debt service levy was 13.5 cents, and the capital outlay levy, for new buildings, was 1.1 cents.

The levies for school expenses, by counties, included:

County	Cents
Allegany	97.3
Montgomery	91.3
Anne Arundel	83.7
Washington	71.6
Prince George's	68.8
Carroll	75.2
Wicomico	61.5
Somerset	54.5
Frederick	62.3
Calvert	62.8
Baltimore county	67.5
Caroline	57.4
Talbot	54.4
Queen Anne's	66.8
Dorchester	58.2
Garrett	48.8
Kent	48.7
St. Mary's	46.8
Howard	53.4
Worcester	64.6
Charles	62.6
Cecil	48.4
Harford	41.0

The figures were released by the State Board of Education.
