The Curse of Progress

Theatopian
The class in public speaking was to give pantomimes that afternoon. One frosh got up when called on, went to the platform and stood perfectly still.
"Well," said the prof. after a minute's wait for something to happen. "What do you represent?"
"I'm imitating a man going up in an elevator," was the quick response.—Illinois Guardsman.

Conscience Hurts
Two men were seated in a crowded railroad car. One noticing that the other had his eyes closed, said: "Bill, are yer feelin' well?"
"I'm all right," said Bill, "but I do hate to see ladies standing."

She Knows
"Mummy, why must the orchestra eat in the interval?"
"I don't know what they do. Why do you ask?"
"Cos the program says that the second half of the concert will be played by a fuller orchestra."

Home Heating Hints

Refueling Furnace Fire Correct Way Means Most Heat at Lowest Fuel Cost

THERE'S an art in refueling a furnace fire that enables you to get the most heat at the least cost. There's more to it than just scooping up a few shovelfuls of coal and tossing it into the firepot. The economical way is simple.

Shake the grates gently when necessary. Don't do it vigorously and shake a lot of live coals into the ashpit. When you see a slight red glow in the ashpit, stop shaking. Then pull a mound of live coals from the rear to the front of the firebox, just inside the fire-door, using your shovel or a hoe. Don't disturb the ash under the live coals. That gives you a fire bed sloping down from the edge of the door to the rear.

Now, shovel a charge of fresh coal into the hollow toward the back of the furnace, being careful to leave a mound of live coals in front. These live coals ignite the gases rising from the contact of the fresh and hot coal, causing them to burn.

Finally, when these gases are thoroughly burned, clean the ashpit and reset the dampers. The turn damper in the smoke pipe, remember, should be nearly closed. The check damper should be entirely closed. The ashpit damper should be open. Open the slide in the fire-door only about the width of a wooden match.

That's the way to refuel economically and the best way to obtain the most satisfactory results.
