Schedule For June 6

Rising Sun at Leslie; Elkton at Calvert; Perryville at Triumph Fusée. Rising Sun bested Elkton on Saturday by the score of 15-5, behind the sterling pitching of "Diddy" Richardson. Every player on the Sun team gathered his share of hits and covered his position in perfect form.

On Monday afternoon in the game at Elkton with Triumph Fusée, lady luck failed to shower her blessings on the Sun boys, when they dropped a hard fought game to Fusée, 7-6.

"Bill" Cather, Sun twirler, deserved a better fate. Besides pitching an excellent brand of ball, he feuded his position in perfect form. The Sun boys gathered five runs in the first inning, driving "Shag" McKens, Fusée moundsman, to the showers. He was replaced by "Tom" Hay.

The third inning was the down fall of the Sun team. The infield went on an error spree. Six errors combined with two hits, let six runs across the home plate.

The score was tied in the seventh inning when Richardson scored on McCush's single. Vic Willis then took Kay's place on the mound for Fusée. The Fusée boys scored the extra run in the ninth, when with two away Lynch scored on an infield hit.

TWILIGHT GAME TO CONRAD HIGH SCHOOL

In a short, snappy ball game played at West Nottingham Academy Wednesday, May 26, Conrad H. S. of Wilmington, behind Boyd's six-hit pitching, emerged the winner by a score of 6-2. The sterling efforts of the leader of the Wilmington high school league were entirely matched, however, by those of Nottingham's hurler, Metzgar. Thé Media, Pa. boy, who can no longer be called a rookie, came back after only a short rest, gave Conrad six singles, and walked only one batter. The total of 10 errors compiled by the Maroon defense tells the story. The winners did not have an earned run.

COLUMNIST COBB'S HOME CITY PROUD OF NOTED WRITER

So popular has Irvin S. Cobb become in his home town of Paducah, Ky., that the citizens have named a hotel and several other buildings after their favorite son.

Cobb, a regular contributor to the Midland Journal through his column of comment, was born in Paducah and edited the daily newspaper there while still in his teens. Later he went to New York and began a quick ascent to permanent fame in newspaper, stage and radio work. More recently the screen has commanded his attention.

Cobb "covered" the World War for Saturday Evening Post and was awarded a chevaliership in the French Legion of Honor for his work. He holds a commission in the U. S. Reserve Officers' Corps.

Though he does not seek to be humorous, Cobb's column radiates the natural humor of its author. That is one reason why it has become one of the most popular newspaper features of our day. We suggest that you read it every week.

OHIO COMPOSER WAITS WORD

FROM THE CHATEAU DE CANDE

Upon the answer of the Duke of Windsor rests the fate of an Ohio woman's popular song. The song, words and music for which were composed by Louise C. Horn, 925 Holgate avenue, Defiance, O., goes:

Wally Dear, I Love You So
verse
You wonder why I'm happy?
You wonder why I'm not blue?
I left my throne and empire 'cause
Wally I love you.
And since I thought it over, I'm glad that it's all done,
For now I'm going back to sing
Wally this song:
chorus
It's been so long, so long ago,
Since you have said, I love you so.
It seems to me, I can't forget.
To me your love words linger yet.
I know that I will always be your
dear sweetheart.
Oh, can't you see I'm coming back to you I know.
Wally dear, I love you so.

Mrs. Horn has sent one of the original copies of the composition, which has been copyrighted, to the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield asking permission to dedicate it to them. On the other hand, Vivian Campbell, a publisher of music in London, Eng., has offered to buy the song, pay for publication rights in advance and extend the usual royalty terms.

What troubles Mrs. Horn is the fact that neither the Duke nor Mrs. Warfield has replied to her letters. (After the English publisher made known his desire to buy the song, Mrs. Horn wrote to the internationally-famous lovers again. She wanted to know if he wanted the song or if he had any objections to Mr. Campbell's publishing it. At press time there had been no answer.)

If the Duke of Windsor wants the song for himself, or doesn't want it published and lets her know immediately, Mrs. Horn will abide by his wishes, she says. Otherwise she will accept the music publisher's proposition. Thus it's future depends upon the former Prince of Wales.

"Wally Dear, I Love You So" in 6-8 and 2-4 time, is Mrs. Horn's second venture into musical composition. In 1935 her "Beautiful Defiance, Along the Old Maumee," in 3-4 time, was accepted for publication.

Born Louise Barnes in Uniontown, Pa., she began her musical career at the age of 7. Later, with her two brothers, she was a member of the Barnes Juvenile Trio and played over several Pittsburgh radio stations. Subsequently she led the Melody girls orchestra and entered vaudeville. She married R. W. Horn of Defiance in 1927.

Mrs. Louise C. Horn is the daughter of the late Dr. Harry D. Barnes, formerly of Woodlawn, this county. Her mother resides in Elkton; also her two brothers, Edwin H. Barnes and Harry Barnes, the former being Attendance Officer of the Cecil County schools.

Protect What You Have

If your home were rendered uninhabitable by fire or other hazard, the rent you would have to pay for temporary living quarters while your home was being restored is an extra expense and loss. Unless, of course, you have been foresighted enough to protect yourself with Rent Insurance, which would pay you each month the rental value of your home while it was being made habitable. You'll be surprised to learn how little this important insurance protection is.

Come in, write or phone for full information. No obligation.
