the local authorities find themselves unable to repel or withstand it, they will be entitled to, and upon the fact being fully ascertained, they shall most certainly receive, the aid of the general government.

But it is not the duty of the President of the United States to volunteer interposition by force to preserve the purity of elections either in a State or Territory. To de so would be subversive of public freedom. And whether a law be wise or unwise, just or unjust, is not a question for him to judge. If it be constitutional—that is, if it be executed, or to sustain the authorities of any State or Territory in executing it in opposition to all insurrectionary movements.

Our system affords no justification of revolutionary acts; for the constitutional means of relieving the people of unjust aministration and laws, by a change of public agents and by repeal, are ample, and more prompt and effective than illegal violence. The constitutional means must be scrupulously guarded—the great prerogative of popular sovereignty sacredly respected.

It is the undoubted right of the peaceable and orderly people of the territory of Kansas to elect their own legislative body, make their own laws, and regulate their own social institutions, without foreign or domestic molestation. Interference on the one hand, to procure the abolition or prohibition of slave labor in the Territory, has produced mischivous interference, on the other, for its maintainance or introduction. One wrong begets another. Statements entirely unfounded, or grossly exaggerated, concerning events within the Territory, are sedulously diffused through remote States to feed the flame of sectional animosity there; and the agitators there exert themselves indefatigably in return to encourage and stimulate the stife within the Territory.

The inflamatory agitation of which the present is but a part, has for twenty years produced nothing save unmitigated evil, North and South. But for it the character of the domestic institutions of the future new State would have been a matter of too little interest to the inhabitants of the contiguous States, personally or collectively, to produce among them any political emotion. Climate, soil, production, hopes of rapid advancement, and the pursuit of happiness on the part of the settlers themselves, with good wishes, but with no interference from without, would have quietly determined the question, which is at this time of such disturbing character.

But we are constrained to turn our attention to the circumstances of embarrassment as they now exist. It is the duty of the people of Kansas to discountenance every act or purpose of resistance to its laws. Above all, the emergency appeals to the citizens of the States, and especially of those contiguous to the Territory, neither by intervention of non-residents in elections nor by unauthorized military force, to attempt to encroach upon or usurp the authority of the inhabitants of the Territory.

No citizen of our country should permit himself to forget that he is a part of that government, and entitled to be heard in the determination of its policy and its measures, and that, therefore, the highest considerations of personal honor and patriotism require him to maintain, by whatever power or influence he may possess, the integrity of the laws of the republic.

Entertaining these views, it will be my imperative duty to exert the whole power of the Federal Executive to support public order in the Territory; and to vindicate its laws, whether federal or local, against all attempts of organized resistance; and so to protect its people in the establishment of their own institutions, undisturbed by encreachment from without, and in the full enjoyment of the rights of self-government assured to them by the constitution and the organic act of Congress.

Although serious and threatening disturbances in the territory of Kansas, announced to me by the governor in December last, were speedily quieted without the effusion of blood, and in a satisfactory manner, there is, I regret to say, reason to apprehend that disorders will continue to occur there, with increasing tendancy to violence, until some decisive measure be taken to dispose of the question itself, which constitutes the inducement or occasion of internal agitation and of external interference.

This, it seems to me, can best be accomplished by providing that, when the inhabitants of Kansas may desire it, and be of sufficient numbers to constitute a State, a convention of delegates duly elected by the qualified voters, shall assemble to frame a constitution, and thus to prepare, through regular and lawful means, for its admission into the Union as a State.

I respectfully recommend the enactment of a law to that effect.

I recommend, also, that a special appropriation be made to defray the expense which may become requisite in the execution of the laws or the maintenance of public order in the territory of Kansas.

FRANKLIN PIERCE.

Washington, Jan 21, 1856.

THE POLICY OF THE KNOW-NOTHINGS OF GEORGIA—Their Endorsement of the Measures of the Administration.—Judge Cone, a leading Know-Nothing in Georgia, and at present a member of the Senate of that State, has introduced the subjoined resolutions, which will no doubt pass the Senate. In publishing these resolutions the Constitutionalist says: "In the resolutions of Judge Cone are spoken the honest convictions of many members of the Know-Nothing Order of Georgia, who, while politically arrayed against the administration, are unwilling to wage against it a factious and unscrupulous warfare. They cannot ignore the sound principles of policy and constitutional truth on which that administration is based—they cannot shut their eyes to the patriotic and self-sacrificing efforts of the President, studiously and strictly to carry out these principles—they cannot, as Southern men, be insensible to the ordinary feelings of grateful admiration, which the manly national course of the President awakens. Assailing and assailed by Abolitionism which, foiled and defeated thus far, yells in frantic rage at the obstacles opposing their career, the President stands between them and the South as an impassable barrier, and hurls back, from his lofty eminence, defiance to their fierce onslaughts on our constitutional rights."

JUDGE CONE'S RESOLUTIONS.

1st. Resolved, That we have witnessed with regret the repeated and continued failures of the House of Representatives to elect a Speaker.

2d. That it is the duty of the members of that body, who are opposed to the election of the Sectional Freesoil candidate, to forget past differences, to unite, to meet, to nominate, and to elect a Speaker.

3d. That the construction of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, by the President, is right, according to its plain and obvious meaning. We will sustain the President. We love peace, and earnestly desire its continuance. We will not avoid war if the protection of the rights and honor of the nation demand it.

4th That the ability with which the President, in his late message, has set forth the true constitutional theory of the Government—the rights of the South in relation to the institution of slavery—and the aggressions of the North, and the forbearance and endurance of the South upon that subject, is worthy of the Chief Magistrate of the nation. His views are sound and constitutional. They command our assent and receive our approbation.

5th. That the Secretary of the Senate cause a copy of these resolutions to be transmitted to the President, and to each of our Senators and Representatives at Washington.

"AMERICANS MUST RULE AMERICA."

If one not acquainted with the tricks and falsifications of the Know-Nothings, says the Washington Union, should here their warery of "Americans must rule America," he would have strange feelings. Let us examine into this empty bag, and so expose a new inconstancy of the Know-Nothings. Congress, in virtue of our Constitution has the right of legislating, and he who legislates "rules!" The Senate consists of 62 members, the House of Representatives of 234.—All of these are natives of this country; not a single one is of foreign birth; yet the Know-Nothing cry is, 'Americans must rule America!" Instead of the foreign-born citizens of our country exerting a political power equal to their specific power, they are, in this respect, not represented in our national legislature at all Our total popultion amounts, at present, to about 27,000,000, of which nearly 5,000,000 (exclusive of their children born in this country,) are foreign born. If these five millions should be represented in Congress on an equal footing with the native born, of the 62 Senators fourteen and of the 234 members of the House fifty-three, should be foreign born. Yet the Know-Nothings, in spite of these facts, persist in proclaiming their hypocritical doctrine, "Americans must rule America!"

Foreign News.

I WEEK LAEER FROM EUROPE. Highly Important News.—The Czar Accepted the Propositions of the Allies as a Basis for Negotiations.

HALIFAX, Jan. 31.—The Cunard steamship Arabia, arrived here this evening, with Liverpool dates to Saturday the 19th inst., being a week later.

The London Times' Vienna correspondent telegraphs under date of Wednesday, the 15th inst., 10 A. M., that Russia has unconditionally accepted the propositions of the allied powers! This was reported to be authentic and caused immense excitement throughout England, but the government despatch published the next day put a different face upon the affair—being in effect that Russia had only accepted the allied proposals as a basis of negotiation.—This slightly relaxed public confidence and less sanguine hopes are now entertained.

Doubts were expressed that Russia had merely accepted the proposals to prolong the negotiations and gain time.

The above is about the sum of all the news. The prospect of a speedy return of peace swallowed up all else.

MARKETS.—Liverpool, Jan 18.—Brown & Shipley's Circular quotes:—Cotton has advanced.

Richardson & Spence's Circular quotes breadstuffs have considerably declined.—The market is unsettled and correct quotations cannot be given—Western Canal Flour 40s.; Ohio 42s. Wheat has declined and Corn also, with a downward tendency. Mixed Corn 30s.

Provisions have considerably declined. Pork, Beef and Bacon are quiet. Old beef 90s., new prime mess 120s. Pork is lower—Western prime mess 82s6d. Lard has declined—sales at 67s5d.

Consols leave off at 89¼a89¾.

The following spicy article was handed us, (by our friend, the Squire, who is fond of fun), with the request that we would publish it, and name the place where he found it. Were we to do so, we think he would find himself "spotted" rather too much; at least so says OUR devil. Our friend will remember that we cannot speak INDEPENDENTLY on all subjects, for fear of being arraigned before the "Privy" Council.

PATHETIC EFFUSION.—Here is widower's lament (over the left) by some not over uxurious individual:

My first was a lady whose prevalent passion
Was thorough devotion to parties and fashion;
My second regardless of conjugal duty,
Was only the worse for her wonderful beauty;
My third was a vixen in temper and life,
Without one essential to make a good wife.
A widower now, in my freedom I revel;
I'm clear of "the world, the flesh, and the devil!"

HOLOWAY'S PILLS may be taken with perfect safety by both sexes and all ages, their effect being mild yet positive; their searching properties render them invaluable for the extermination of every disease, particularly liver and stomach complaints bilious disorders, and indigestion. As a purifier of the system, they are unequalled, and their virtues in cases of termination of blood to the heap, and asthmatic complaints, cannot be too highly commented on, in short be perseverance with these admirable Pill, there are few complaints which can resist their extraordinary influence.

FROSTED HANDS AND FEET.—More than twenty have come in and said that "Prof. De Grath's Electric O.l" had cured them in one day—taken away all soreness. Ask James Garey, corner of Race and Twenty-second sts. Come and see 20 certificates at the office like this. "No. 281 Locust street, Jan. 12.—Professor De Grath's 'Electric Oil,' 39 South Eighth street, has cured my frosted feet in one night—and it is the best article ever used for this purpose. CLIFFORD S. WHITE." There is no mistake—this Oil cures, and it takes but a little to do it. Beware of imposition.

Goods not hazardous insured at the same rate as the buildings in which they are contained.

Granaries, Carriage-Houses, and other outbuildings, not occupied as Barns or Stables, will be taken at the same rate as dwellings of similar materials.

Meat or Smoke-Houses at the same rate as Barns.

A lightning rod, to be a protector, must extend above the building at least one-third as high as it is required horizontally to protect; to be made of iron not less than five-eighths of an inch in diameter, and terminate at the top in one or more points, to be tipt with gold or platina. Where it is connected with the building, it must pass through glass, horn, or some other non-conducting substance; turn out from the building at the bottom, and descend into the earth a sufficient depth to be always in contact with moisture; and to imbed the lower end in charcoal, or attach it to an old stove-plate, or other large surface of metal, will greatly facilitate the escape of the electric fluid.

County Commissioner's Sale.

NOTICE

IS hereby given that the Commissioners will offer at public sale, at the front door of the Court House, in Easton, on Tuesday, 12th day of February next, to the lowest and best bidder, the contract for altering the public road over Lloyd's Hill and Branch, in the Chapel District, and for grading said Hill, and building a Bridge over the stream at the foot thereof, according to specifications contained in the report of Jacob Morgan, Henry P. Hopkins and James H. Ridgaway, Esq's., Examiners, &c., as follows:

"That Lloyd's Hill be cut down five feet, and that the Hill on the opposite side of the stream be cut down two or three feet so as to admit the easy passage of teams with heavy loads; that the road over the hills be thirty-two feet wide, that the causeway be twenty feet wide with a ditch on each side six feet wide and of sufficient depth; that the causeway be four feet high and logged two feet high with white oak logs, at least sixty feet; the Bridge to be sixteen feet wide and to have forty feet span; the abuttments to be sixteen feet wide, seven feet high, and to be built of white oak or cedar logs; the Bridge to be supported by three tiers, each of three piles of good white oak piling, not less than twelve inches in diameter at the top, and to be driven into the ground at least four feet, and to be of sufficient height to give the centre of the bridge a pitch of seven feet; there shall be four rows of sleepers of white oak at least four by eight inches; the banisters to be three feet high of good white oak stuff, the various pieces thereof to be not less than three by four inches; the flooring to be of white oak plank two inches thick, which, together with all other portions of the bridge, shall be securely spiked and bolted down."

The purchaser will be required to enter into bond with good security for the completion of the work according to the above specification in a manner to be approved by the Commissioners, within six months from the day of sale.

By order of the Board,
jan 29—ts JOSIAH HIGGINS, Clerk.

THE

A. Pork Horticultural Review:

A JOURNAL OF SUBURBAN ART.

SUPERBLY AND PROFUSELY ILLUSTRATED.

Devoted to the Advancement of the Rural Interests in America.

THIS is one of the largest and most elaborate works of the kind in the world.

Rural Architecture forms one of the principal features. Each number contains from two to four engravings of model cottages, from designs by eminent and skilful architects. Space is also assigned to the tasteful art of Landscape Gardening; engraved plans of gardens in every style, and adapted to the peculiarities of differens orders of architecture, beautyfy the work.

Engravings of new fruits, new flowers, new vegetables, &c., are illustrated and described as soon as their respective qualities can be determined, forming the most complete and elegant Manual of Rural Husbandry ever attempted.

An experienced corps of practical writers, seven in number, are engaged to fill its columns.

It contains seventy large pages, and is printed on the finest pearl-faced paper, manufactured expressly.

TERMS—$2 per annum, payable invariably in advance. Fifty cents commission on each subscriber allowed to those who act as agents. $1,000 will be distributed at the end of the year among those who send us the twenty largest lists of subscribers. These premiums will be paid in cash. The first premium will be $500.

The following are selected from hundreds of similar notices, voluntarily contributed by contemporaneous publications:—

The HORTICULTURAL REVIEW deserves the most liberal patronage. It is not only eminently practical, but it is written in a style that equals the best efforts of the late A. J. Downing.—Knickerbocker.

The most elegant and useful book of the kind that has ever come under our observation —Register.
