Local Record.

Mr. Ash, our agent, in a visit successful, if [illegible] at the same time, on Sunday morning.

We call attention to the large auction sale of town lots to take place in Easton next Saturday. See advertisement in this paper.

Messrs. Wheeler and George Hines have both been indicted of murder in the first degree. The result of the trial will be found elsewhere here in Star.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup should be kept in every family. A few doses, if administered in time, will prevent the development of Consumption, and a few bottles of this wonderful medicine has restored many from an early grave.

The Festival of the ladies of the M. E. Church, which was held last week, was a decided success. We understand it netted them about $300. It was a very pretty sum to aid in building their church.

We are gratified to learn that the ladies who had charge of the fair and festival and the members of the Fifth Regiment, who dined at the town hall on Thursday, were mutually pleased with each other. Some of the soldiers were very liberal in their purchases.

We have a very nice article of mince meat can be found at Mr. Shannahan's stall in the Easton market, and housekeepers may it is cheaper to buy than to make it. Mr. Shannahan's present stock is the best he ever had. | Give him a call and try it.

The Proprietor of the New York Tribune, says that there is no better paper published in the world than will be found on the first page of to-day's issue. We take great satisfaction in commending the Tribune to any of our readers who want a New York paper.

We have received from the publishers, the American Publishing Company, No. 13 Universal Place, New York, a copy of the "History of the New York Tombs; its secrets and its Mysteries." The volume is one of the most interesting that has fallen under our notice for many a day. It is, as it purports to be, a complete history of the noted criminals who have been confined in the City Prison or "Tombs," with a description of the sphinx-ornamented granite structure of the same, down to the time of its being torn down by the order of Boss Tweed. Wilbur Burdick's notable murder, in 1872,—which is given in such important ones the history of the case, with a sketch of the criminal, his career, trial, defence and ultimate fate,—is also one of the most strange, awful and horrible crimes ever committed in any country or land. Then we have the full stories of the Gas and Howlett pirate gang; of Mrs. Cobb-Abene murder; the killing of Dr. Burdell; the atrocious slaughter of Mary Rogers, the pretty cigar girl; the assassination of Helen Jewett by her lover, Richard P. Robinz; the murder of Virginia Townsend on the steps of Tammany Hall; and a hundred others, all of which is the most complete and exhaustive account of the Five Stokes affair yet published. In addition to the very fullest information in the history of the Tombs and what it contains, there is much of which has never before been given in the public or the courts. The great bulk of the facts used were furnished by Mr. Charles Dotteux, for many years Warden of the Tombs and who is doubtless more thoroughly familiar with its inside history, its "Secrets and Miseries," than any living person. These facts have been carefully written up by two well known New York Journalists, James A. Markeever and James B. Ellis.

The volume contains nearly 700 pages, and is profusely illustrated with 100 cuts, illustrating the various scenes, persons and events described; and will be sold in a style every way worthy of the publishers of the United States Publishing Company who issue it. It is sold by subscription only, and as they want agents, some active man in town can make money by securing this work.

REV. DR. GUARD'S LECTURE.—The Lecture of Rev. Dr. Guard, of Mount Vernon Church, Baltimore, delivered in the M. E. Church here Tuesday evening, was certainly a most excellent entertainment. The subject "Life in Possibilities" afforded the distinguished lecturer with the amplest room to display his great learning and powerful eloquence; and there was scarcely a phase of life in the vegetable, mineral or animal Kingdom, material, moral or spiritual, that he did not describe, analyze and portray with a master's hand: yet he declared that after a thorough study of the subject he could give no answer to the question, what is life? it being a mystery which neither philosophy nor revelation has been able to solve. He reclaimed God as the Creator of the universe, paid a splendid tribute to science when established on positive fact, but demolished in a few argument as logical as it was eloquent the theories of Tyndall, Darwin, and other scientists who would make matter the self-creative energy rather than admit that all things were created by Divine intelligence and are ruled by Divine power. He described man as the greatest of created beings, uniting in himself the body, passions and instincts of the animal creation, and the mind of Deity, in a word making him the epitome of the universe, capable of greater exaltation than even the angels of heaven.—In the conclusion of this sublime piece of rhetoric, when he looked heavenward and declared that he carried not the loftiest arch angel in heaven, the great orator seemed to possess an inspiration which made his intelligence appear more than mortal. His descriptions of the tiniest animalcule, the beauty and perfume of the flowers, the multitudinousness of animal life under the microscope, or the gargeousness of vegetable life in tropical climes, were marvelously beautiful and impressive. It is impossible in a brief notice like this to do justice to Dr. Guard's splendid lecture, which occupied over two hours in its delivery, without in the least fatiguing the audience. All who heard it were delighted with its eloquence, his logic, and his humor; those who did not hear it missed an opportunity which may not occur again. It is to be regretted that the exciting trial for a capital crime which was going on at the Court house on the evening of the lecture prevented so many of our citizens from hearing it. The audience, however, embraced many of our most cultivated people, who will not fail to hear the Doctor again, should he return at some future time either preach or lecture in Easton.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES.—Services were held on Thanksgiving day in the Roman Catholic, Protestant Episcopal, and Methodist Episcopal churches of Easton. The altar and chancel of the Protestant E. Church were very beautifully and tastefully decorated, while over the reredos was hung a cross of fruits and flowers. A great many members of the Fifth Regiment attended service at this church. A sermon suitable to the occasion was delivered by the Rector, Rev. Dr. Wilson. Service at the M. E. Church was also well attended, among the number being several of the Fifth Regiment. Rev. R. B. Morgan, the Pastor, preached an appropriate sermon in commemoration of the many blessings, temporal and spiritual, which, as individuals and as a nation we have received from the bountiful hands of Providence. We regret that our space is so much occupied with other matter this morning that we are unable to give even an outline of those able sermons, as it was our intention to do.

DEATH OF THOMAS C. WORRELL, ESQ.—We regret extremely to announce the death of this gentleman, which took place at his residence in Oxford Road on Thursday night. He was in his 67th year. A few months ago Mr. Worrell was in robust health, and bid fair to live to a ripe old age. When attacked with disease he was very sick. He bore up with great fortitude and resignation, and died a Christian death. He was a good man, and his loss will be severely felt in the community in which he lived. His remains were taken to Oxford on Friday morning, and interred in the family burial ground at that place on Saturday.

THE NEW YORK OBSERVER.—This is one of the best weekly papers published in the country. It is both religious and secular, and edited with marked ability. It is Presbyterian in character, but its weekly condensed reports of religious news includes matters of interest from all denominations, and their non sectarian and impartial character renders them acceptable to all. The secular department gives the cream of the general news, and its editorial columns are marked by great fairness and ability in the discussion of questions, both secular and religious. The foreign correspondence of travelers connected with the editorial columns of the Observer is one of its most interesting features. In selecting their papers for the coming year, our readers would do well to consider the claims of this most excellent journal. Published by S. J. Prime & Co., 37 Park Row, New York.

Oxford Items.

The readers of the Star, will please excuse "Oxford" for not keeping them better posted about the affairs of our town. One reason is that he is a little troubled with the Oxford fever, and another that he has been busily engaged. Well business is the word with us; our town is fast filling up with houses, both large and small; among the most noted, the large and commodious Hotel being built by Mr. Robins, on the site long kept by Thomas O. Martin. This hotel will be large and attractive, and earn quoted by the latest style French roof; rooms large and airy, with one of the finest dining rooms on the Eastern shore. The building is being construed by the Messrs. Nichols Brothers, in their usual tasty and workmanlike manner. Next we come to the private residence of Col. Samuel Wetherill, now being built near Town Point, on the premises lately owned by Mrs. Banning; being a very desirable location, having a full view of the river and surrounding country, high, dry, and healthy; size of main building 18x36; back building 17x26; kitchen 17x17; to be surrounded by a piazza on three sides, ten feet wide; the whole being neat and tasty, from designs furnished by William Wetherill, C. E. Carpenter and builder, Thomas Markland. The cars come to see us once a week, and take away a large freight; wonder if the directors could not be induced to run the cars to and from here at least once a day? as the time for this annual meeting is fast approaching would it not be well for them to look into the matter.

The Organs fever has broken out among the various churches. The M. P. Church have theirs, also the Protestant Episcopal, whilst the M. E. Church have theirs on the way. Speaking of the M. E. Church, they are going to have a fair and other entertainments during the coming holidays.

The election being over and the Baltimore tickets all disposed of, we are not counted in, because we did not go to the election, nor do we mean to go until we can vote a little nearer home. We asked the Legislature last winter to give us an election district of our own, but were refused, some say on the ground of economy, others on the ground of jealousy. Ducks, Geese and Swan are very numerous and the sportsmen have fine times shooting them. Women by the late fashion plate that about dress are becoming fashionable and young ladies with big feet are subject.

OBITUARY.

Departed this life on the 30th ult., THOMAS C. WORRELL, in the 67th year of his age.

The subject of the above notice was well and favorably known in the community in which he lived. No one enjoyed, to a fuller extent, the confidence of his fellow citizens. Honor, integrity and kindness of heart were the ruling traits of his character. He possessed, in an eminent degree, that graceful attribute of the soul, which, St. Paul assures us, is the greatest of the Christian virtues. A member of no church he contributed alike to all denominations. The needy never appealed to him in vain; while the helpless ever found in him a willing protector.—The gentle breath of summer may sigh over him its requiem; green may be the grass that will cover his grave, but kindlier, greener still will be the memory of those

It is the best smoothing iron manufactured, and is vastly superior to the old sad iron.

It irons to a nicety all narrow bands between puffs, belts, &c., when they cannot be got at by the flat iron.

It glosses perfectly, being far superior to anything in use as a glosser.

When once used, it will be found indispensable in the family. Try it. For sale by

PRICES REDUCED!

EARLY BEATRICE PEACH RIPENS FULLY TWO WEEKS EARLIER THAN ANY OTHER KNOWN VARIETY OF PEACHES.

This variety has been well tested in large orchards, and hundreds of bushels of this Peach have been put on our market in 1872, 1873 and 1874, and on this the severest test it could have, it has proved ever better than all that has ever been claimed for it. It is fully two weeks earlier than Hale's Early, and free from rot, and the Commission Merchants of Philadelphia and New York not only say it is one of the earliest and best Peaches, but one of the best Shipping Peaches that goes on these markets, and brings more than double the price of any other peach.

I also offer an immense stock of Peaches in variety, in which are ten new valuable and well-tested kinds, sold by no other house this season, and which will make the season for shipping some four weeks longer. By planting my new late varieties the canning houses can run from one to two weeks longer than ever before while depending on the old kinds. Among the valuable late Peaches, I offer one which ripens two weeks later than all others, and in 1873 was shipped in an ordinary peach crate successfully to Europe. It is a Peach of fine large size, well tested in many large orchards of Maryland and Delaware, not excelled for market value. Also, at reduced rates, a large stock of Apples, Pears, Cherries, Grapes, Raspberries Blackberries, Strawberries, Gooseberries, Currants, Asparagus, Rhubarb, Evergreens, Roses, and Deciduous Trees and Shrubbery. In fact, all kinds of Trees and Plants usually found in a first-class Nursery can be supplied.

A forty-six page Catalogue with Descriptions and Testimonials and much valuable information of what and how to plant, mailed free on application, showing exact rotation in the ripening of all valuable market fruits from the earliest to the latest.
