Easton Star.

EASTON, MD.,

Tuesday Morning, Feb'y 1, 1876.

T. K. ROBSON, Editor.

Hon. H. H. Starkweather, member of Congress from Connecticut, died in Washington last week.

The Republican National Committee has fixed on June as the time, and Cincinnati as the place, for holding the next National Republican convention.

Senator Morton, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, in the United States Senate, has reported in favor of the admission of Pinchback to a seat in the Senate from Louisiana.

CONGRESS.—The Centennial Bill has passed the House and is now before the Senate. It appropriates $1,500,000 to the Centennial Exposition, but requires that the money shall be refunded to the Government before any dividends are paid to the stock holders of the Centennial Company, a bitter pill to the stock holders. In this shape the bill only passed by a vote of 146 yeas to 130 nays.

Quite a lively and personal debate occurred in the House of Representatives on Friday on the West Point Military Academy Bill, reducing the pay of the officers and cadets ten per cent. The bill fixes the pay of Cadets at $540 the same it was up to 1867, and the reduction was resisted by Mr. Hale and others. It finally passed the House. During the debate the sparring between Hale of Maine and Cox, of New York, was anything but elegant. Cox called Hale "Blaine's Little Bub," to which Hale responded "Shoo-fly," imitating Ben Butler. Before the end of the debate they kissed and made friends.

BOSTON IN MOURNING.—The "Hub of the universe" is in tribulation and distress, let all the country mourn. One of Boston's great divines—one of her great abolition lights—the former business manager of Bishop Gilbert Haven's Zion's Herald, and late principal owner of The Boston Post, Rev. E. D. Winslow, has committed forgeries to near a half a million of dollars, and sailed for Europe. He was a regular descendant of one of the crew of the May Flower, one of the Plymouth Rock stock; and with his white cravat, and sanctimonious whine, and vehement denunciations of the South and slaveholders, he has managed to swindle many of the shrewdest business men of Boston, bankers, brokers, and others, out of a big pile of money, and decamped for Rotterdam, where Mr. Fish has no extradition treaty. This is one of the most gigantic swindles ever perpetrated in this country.

In addition to Winslow's thieving operations, the Bank of Northampton was entered by thieves last Tuesday night, the Cashier and his family gagged, and the bank robbed of over $1,000,000, the robbers getting off scot free, with all their plunder. Verily the 'Hub' is in mourning, and it certainly has cause to mourn.

We think the Easton High School is in rather an anomalous condition, and it would be well to give the matter such an overhauling as will place it in harmony with the other parts of the Public School System in the county. The building is in possession of the Board of County School Commissioners, while it is owned by the Board of Trustees of the Easton Academy. When the High School was first established, the Easton Academy was abolished, and the Academy building placed at the disposal of the Board of County School Commissioners at a nominal rent, and the arrangement has been continued up to the present time. While the school is therefore under the control of one Board, the Building is under the control of another; and no change can be made in the building by the County School Commissioners, to adapt it to the wants of the schools of the town, without the consent of the Board of Trustees of the Easton Academy.

Tradition says the building was originally erected mostly with money coming from the State—savings out of the academic fund—and is therefore not in equity the private property of the Trustees of the Academy, although they have a legal right to hold it. The Easton Academy is defunct, and there is no probability that it will ever be revived, as, under existing laws, it can have no appropriation from the State Treasury to sustain it. The High School fully meets the public wants, and is likely to continue to receive all the pecuniary aid, which the State has to bestow upon a classical school in Easton. Such being the facts of the case, it is manifest that the Academy building as well as the High School should be under the exclusive management and control of the Board of County School Commissioners, so that they may improve it, and fully adapt it to the wants of our public schools, which are now over crowded, and requiring more room for the scholars.

Should the Trustees of the Academy at any time conclude to turn the High School out of the building, they have the power to do so, and the county would be liable to be taxed six or eight thousand dollars to erect a building for the school. The matter should not be left in a condition where such a contingency might happen at any time.

The comfort of the public schools of Easton require that the whole Academy building should be occupied by them, and that such alterations should be made in the rooms as would completely adapt them to the purposes of the school with all the modern improvements; and the funds remaining in the hands of the Trustees of the Academy should be invested in constructing a suitable residence for the Principal of the High School.

In our opinion the legislature ought to enact a law abolishing the Trustees of the Academy, and placing the Academy building and all the funds in its hands, under the control and management of the County School Commissioners, with authority to make all necessary alterations and improvements in it, so as it may fully supply the wants of our schools. While the matter stands as it does nothing can be done. The Trustees of the Academy we are sure, will not object to this, as their office now is only nominal, and they must see that they are only an obstruction in the way of a much needed public improvement. With proper exertions, and a small expenditure of money, our High School can be made one of the best schools in the State, and the people should demand that all obstructions to this desirable consummation should be at once removed.

The legislature is now in session, and if the people interested in the prosperity of our public schools will but go promptly to work, provision will be made at the present session to put into practical operation the suggestions in this article, which all must admit would greatly benefit the public schools of Easton.

A PROBLEM OF LIFE.—It has long been customary in England to publish birth notices, but San Francisco has set the example of adding a delicate compliment to the medical attendant thus:

"Crosbie—Sunday, January 9, to Hattie and John C. Crosbie, a son. Mother and child doing well, thanks to Dr. Langdon."

How would it do, whenever there is a death notice, to add the name of the doctor? We should like to have the opinion on that subject of the eminent legal authority, Charles O'Conor, who is said to have been given over by the doctors to die, but, refusing to take their prescriptions, has got well.—Baltimore Sun.

Maryland Legislature.

PROCEEDINGS OF MONDAY JAN 24.

In the Senate there were presented numerous petitions for repeal of the attachment law of 1874, signed by clerks, mechanics, laboring men and sewing women of Baltimore. The committee on education was directed to report as to the expediency of levying as a State tax the entire amount necessary for support of public schools, so as to make the system a State institution. The resolutions to inquire into the disposal of the State subscription of $163,000 to the Southern Maryland railroad were considered and made the order for today, after a sharp personal discussion between Senators Dennis and Bannon. A bill was passed to extend the building lines of Crisfield.

In the House, Mr Stewart, of Baltimore city, disavowed any desire to restrict the liberty of the press, as had been charged by a Baltimore journal. Resolutions were made the order for to-day for selection for a committee to examine the charges against certain lobbyists of the last session of the Legislature of having procured the passage of laws securing appropriations to colleges and other institutions. The matter of crows in Frederick county was ventilated with much humor, and that bird was exempted from being scalped in that county for pecuniary considerations. A bill was passed to incorporate the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of the United States.

TUESDAY JAN. 25.

Numerously signed petitions were presented in the Senate for and against the repeal of the attachment law of 1874. Leave was granted to introduce a bill providing for inspection of coal oil in Baltimore city; also to amend the liquor license law by increasing the rates of license and providing more stringent means to prevent violation of the law. The bill imposing a license tax on coal mining was recommitted to the committee on finance. The resolution calling for investigation as to the matter of the State's subscription of $163,000 to the Southern Maryland railroad was passed. The House bill incorporating the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. was passed.

In the House, leave was granted to introduce a bill making it a penal offense to pay the State treasurer interest upon deposit of State money in banks. The ways and means committee reported in favor of allowing actual expenses to traveling legislative committees, and the report was adopted. A substitute for the lobby investigating resolutions was adopted, which embraces inquiry into all manner or profit or trust legislation as far back as 1864, including the election of United States Senators.

WEDNESDAY JAN. 26.

In the Senate leave was granted to introduce a bill amendatory of the school laws so as to provide for election of school commissioners by the people. A bill was passed sanctioning a bequest by Margaret E. Morton, of Calvert county, to St Paul's Parish Church. The bill providing for assessment of property heretofore and hereafter omitted to be assessed, and for collection of taxes thereon, was made the order of the day for the 28th inst. Bills were passed to change the dividing line between the third and fifth election districts of Garrett county; to sanction a bequest by John Gunby, and to change the name of the trustees of the Roman Catholic Asylum for Widows to that of "Little Sisters of the Poor." A favorable report was made on the memorial of Hon. R I. Bowie to extend his term of office six years as chief judge of the sixth judicial circuit of Maryland.

In the House a motion to restrict speeches to five minutes was laid over informally. Leave was granted to introduce a bill to establish an abattoir near Baltimore city. A bill was favorably repoated and read a second time to abolish the police force of Baltimore county. A bill was read the second time to incorporate the Mutual Gaslight Company of Baltimore City, with a capital of $2,000,000. Several bills of merely local importance were passed.

A democratic caucus has nominated General James R. Herbert for police commissioner of Baltimore in place of Mr. Milroy.

THURSDAY JAN. 27.

In the Senate a bill was ordered engrossed to allow an increase of the Citizens' Passenger Railway Company's capital to $500,000. The bill ordering the assessment of property heretofore or hereafter omitted to be assessed was taken up. Mr. Dennis argued against the general policy of the bill and the hardship it would entail in many cases. It was stated in the debate that $40,000,000 of property, chiefly of banks and other corporations, had escaped taxation. Pending consideration of the bill the Senate adjourned.

In the House, Mr. Compton's letter of acceptance of the State treasurership was ordered to be placed on the journal. The secretary of the Senate was directed to inform the House whether he has performed his duty in regard to registration of births and deaths. Leave was granted to introduce bills to complete Wilkens avenue, in Baltimore county; also to appropriate money to remove and reinter remains of Maryland soldiers in the Confederate army. A bill was favorably reported to regulate the erection of mill dams on streams crossed by public roads. The order of inquiry into affairs of the adjutant general's office was referred to the militia committee. Bills were passed absolving Baltimore county auctioneers from paying for license; prohibiting the sale of liquor near Mt. Vernon and Warren factories, in Baltimore county; amending the charter of the Firemen's Insurance Company; to extend the charter of the New York and Baltimore Transportation Company and several other bills of personal and local interest. A resolution was passed requiring an investigation as to the number and compensation of subordinate officers in the last Legislature.

FRIDAY, JAN. 28.

In the Senate there were petitions presented to regulate the sale of firewood in Baltimore, and for the repeal of the attachment law of 1874. Leave was granted to introduce a bill for the incorporation of the National railroad of Maryland. A bill was favorably reported to incorporate the Maryland State Patrons of Husbandry; also one to prevent stock from running at large in Baltimore county, within fifteen miles of the city. An unfavorable report was adopted against repealing the law requiring auctioneers in Baltimore county to pay a license fee. The joint resolution extending the term of Judge Bowie, of the sixth judicial circuit, was passed without a negative vote. After participating in the election of a police commissioner for Baltimore city the Senate adjourned.

In the House it was parliamentarily resolved not to appoint an assistant to the State librarian. Leave was granted to introduce a bill prescribing the mode by which the mayor and city council of Baltimore may temporarily borrow money, and to prevent the accumulation of a "floating debt;" also to double the number of members of the two branches of the city council of Baltimore; also to rebuild the two burned tobacco warehouses in Baltimore city. The Senate resolutions to investigate the affairs of the Southern Maryland rail road were passed. The House adjourned after joining the Senate in election of General James R. Herbert as police commissioner for Baltimore city, in place of Mr. John Milroy. The vote was 79 for Mr. Herbert, 22 for Mr. Wm L. Schley, 2 for Gen. B. F. Butler and two blanks

Accidental Death of Ex-Governor Francis Thomas, of Maryland—Killed on the Railway, &c.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Jan. 23.—Hon. Francis Thomas, of Frankville, Garrett county, ex-Governor of Maryland, and late United States minister to Peru, was accidentally killed Saturday afternoon on the railway track, about one mile east of Frankville station, Balto. and Ohio railroad, where he was engaged superintending improvements intended to afford opportunity to breed fine sheep procured by him in Peru and brought to this country last summer on his return. While standing on the track he saw a freight train approaching from the east, and stepped to the south track to avoid it. At the same moment a "helper" engine came upon him from the west, "tender" foremost, the approach of which he had not noticed and did not hear. There is a short curve at this point, and the engineer says that as his engine rounded the curve he saw Gov. Thomas walking on the track, with his arms folded behind him, and his head bent, in a meditative mood. It was to late to give an alarm or check the speed of the engine, and in a moment it struck him in the back, knocking him about twenty feet, on to a pile of railroad bars beside the road. The locomotive was stopped as soon as possible, and assistance summoned, but life was extinct.—The body was not mutilated. A severe contusion was found on the back of the head and several near the spinal column. The body was taken on a hand car to Frankville, and thence to his house.

Previous to the unfortunate casualty Gov. Thomas, who had just returned from Washington city, stopped all of Friday in Cumberland on business.—Saturday morning he returned to his farm at Frankville. He had a number of men engaged in getting out locust posts for fencing a piece of land recently purchased, and devoted to sheep breeding. The men were at work on the mountain side along the line of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. His special object in visiting the locality at the time he met his death was to pay off the hands, as well as to give directions in regard to the work on hand.

A fire broke out in the Stanley property, corner High and Queen streets, Chestertown, Monday night, the 24th inst., about 8 o'clock, which destroyed the entire building and contents. The building was occupied by several families as a tenement house. Some of the families were compelled to spend the night at the College building.—There was an insurance upon the property for about $2,000.—Kent News

The huge, drastic, griping, sickening pills, constructed of crude, coarse and bulky ingredients, are fast being superseded by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, or Sugar-Coated Concentrated Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules—the "Little Giant" Cathartic or Multum in Parvo Physic. Modern Chemical Science enables Dr. Pierce to extract from the juices of the most valuable roots and herbs their active medicinal principles, which, when worked into little Pellets or Granules, scarcely larger than mustard seed, renders each little Pellet as active and powerful as a large pill, while they are much more palatable and pleasant in effect.

DR. IRA A. THAYER, of Baconsburg, Ohio, writes: "I regard your Pellets as the best remedy for the conditions for which you prescribe them of anything I have ever used, so mild and certain in effect, and leaving the bowels in an excellent condition. It seems to me they must take the place of all other cathartic pills and medicines."

LYON & MACOMBER, druggists, Vermillion, D. T., say: "We think they are going to sell like hot cakes as soon as people get acquainted with them and will spoil the pill trade as those that have used them like them much better than large pills."
