THE EASTON STAR.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1886.

Items of Local Interest.

The partridge shooting season is over.

Christmas eve was a nice day for shopping.

"Peace on earth and good will towards men."

Apple Jack had a field day in Easton Christmas Eve.

December has given us solid winter weather from the 1st up to Christmas.

Apple-toddy and Christmas continue to keep up their association as of yore.

The traveling was good last week everywhere except in the streets of Easton.

Christmas falling on Saturday this year, gave us virtually two Sundays together.

The juvenile raids on the toy and candy stores last week were something fearful.

There was a great crowd of people in Easton persecuting the storekeepers last Friday.

What have become of the wild ducks? As yet "whifflers" are the only wild ducks seen in our market this season.

The Easton market swarmed with turkeys last Friday morning, and nice dressed ones were offered as low as 12½ cents per pound.

A full attendance of the members of the Knights of Pythias is desired tonight, as business of importance is to be transacted.

The churches in town celebrated Christmas day, the anniversary of the birth of the Saviour, by holding divine service in the morning.

The commissioners of Easton are trying hard to stop the holes in the streets with oyster shells, but the shells insist on sinking out of sight.

The members of Matapeake Tribe, No 16, I. O. R. M., are requested to be present next Thursday night, as business of importance is to be attended to.

Although the stores of Easton made excellent sales of Christmas goods, they have a few more left of the same sort, suitable for making New Year's presents.

Gunners will please remember that you can get more for the amount expended, in guns, ammunition, etc., at Shannahan & Wrightson's, than anywhere else in town or the city.

The "Maltby House," Baltimore, is located in business centre of city, and convenient to Steamboat Landings, making it a desirable stopping place for both merchants and planters.

Col. Roberts last week took down for Mr. George W. W. Haddaway, the owner, the old rotten piazzas of the frame hotel. This job is a flank movement on the doctors and undertakers.

Gov. Lloyd has appointed Friday, the 26th of February, for the hanging of James Stevens, negro, convicted in Somerset county of committing a felonious assault on Mary Trehern, an aged white woman.

Beautiful, odd, unique, new and beautiful designs of stoves, extra large stock, and at fearful low figures, now on hand at Shannahan & Wrightson's. Don't forget that it is a pleasure for them to show goods.

The handsomest sleigh ever offered in this market can be seen at Lloyd Lowndes' Carriage Repository, for family or speeding purposes. Portland and swell body cutters. Also handsome Gilt Mounted Harness.

The roster of the State militia comprises 147 commissioned officers and 1,818 enlisted men, or a total of 1,965 rank and file. There are 2 regiments of 10 companies each and 2 battalions of 4 companies each and 10 independent companies.

The drawings of the proposed new almshouse for Talbot county, have been completed and are on exhibition at the Commissioners' office for any one to examine, who feels an interest in the proposed needed improvements for the benefit of the poor.

Harry B. Elston claims to be the brag cutter of the Eastern Shore, having learned the art under the first tailor of New York, and all his work is made in the best and most fashionable style. Shop opposite the M. E. Church in Easton. Call and leave your measure and try him.

The go-a-head Clothiers Oehm & Son offer for a short time a genuine Waterbury watch with every cash purchase exceeding $8.99. For particulars refer to "ad" in another column. 2½ Three story warehouses corner Pratt and Hanover Sts., brimful of bargains in Men's, Youth's and Boy's Clothing.

The prospectus for 1887 of the Baltimore Sun will be found in our advertising columns this morning. On the 17th of next May, the Sun will celebrate its 50th anniversary. The Editor of the STAR has read the Sun almost daily since it started in May 1837, and has read a great many other papers published in New York and elsewhere, and has no hesitation in pronouncing the Daily Sun the best newspaper published in the country.

Why do I say so, because I believe it, that I have a larger stock than any store in Easton of Men's, Boy's, Youth's and Children's coarse and medium boots and shoes. I also keep a full line of finer grade boots and shoes. My line of gum boots and shoes is complete for Men, Ladies and Children. Cash customers, I will make it to your interest if you will give me a call. Nearly all of my goods are guaranteed. JACOB WILLIAMS, Market Space, Easton.

The beginning of the New Year is the time for making settlements and paying bills. Quite a number of our friends have failed to respond to our recent invitation to call at the Captain's office and pay up arrearages. We trust they will not fail to settle up by New Year, or as soon after as practicable. We have to pay cash for everything used in the printing business, and it is absolutely necessary that subscriptions, advertising, and job printing should be promptly paid. When our friends understand that we need the money, they will come forward and pay up, we feel sure.

THE AMERICAN FARMER for December 15th closes the volume with a number of great value and interest. Every branch of farm work, the proceedings of progressive farmers' clubs, live stock and the dairy, the poultry yard, the orchard, the garden, all are treated. The matter in the Old Pioneer is seasonable and practical, there being many short, pithy, timely suggestions. There is also in every issue and attractive Home Department for the benefit of the ladies of the country household.

THE FARMER has been under its present management for forty years and its conductors well understand how to cater to the needs and tastes of our farming class, and its contributors are men of experience, skill and success. None of our farmers but should enjoy and profit by its semi-monthly visits.

The subscription is $1.00 a year, and when a club of five is sent, an extra copy is furnished free. BART. SAMPS & SON, Baltimore, are the publishers.

Great things have ever hinged on trifles. The first fatally difficulty on record was caused by an apple core, the last we heard of was the negligence of a fellow to keep up the supply of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup when all hands had a cold.

Salvation Oil kills pain every time. For cuts, bruises, sprains, burns, scalds, and frost-bites it is an infallible cure. Price only 25 cents

PUBLIC BUSINESS.

County Commissioners.

The Board of County Commissioners met on Tuesday, and were engaged paying bills and hearing appeals. The free bed in the Maryland Hospital belonging to Talbot county having been reported vacant, the Board appointed John W Weston, a curable invalid to fill the vacancy.

Orphans' Court

The orphans court met on Tuesday, and William L. Myers, adm. of Louis M. Myers, returned a list of sales.

Mary and Perry Nasin, admx. of Perry Nasin, returned an inventory of the estate.

James Benson, Executor of Josiah Thomas, passed his final account, and a distribution of the estate.

Henry H. Goldsborough, guardian to Chas. Carroll Goldsborough, passed his 6th and 7th account.

Lily A. Whiteley, admx. of Arthur J. Whiteley, returned a list of debts sperate, amount of sales, and passed her final account.

An order was passed authorizing the admx. of Perry Pasin, to sell the personal estate, and directed them to publish notice to creditors to file their claims.

Dr. Charles Lowndes, Executor of Com. Charles Lowndes, presented an additional list of debts sperate, an additional account of sales, and passed his final account.

The court passed a decree for the sale of the real estate of William F. Reed, and appointed John S. Sullivan trustee Lavenia Price, Executrix of Daniel P. Price, returned an account of dividend, debts sperate, and passed her final account and a distribution of the estate.

An order was passed authorizing Kate J. H. Long, Executrix of Littleton N. B Long, to deed a four acre lot to Thomas Roberts, which the said Roberts bought of Captain Long in his life time, the whole purchase money having been paid.

The court appointed Thomas J. Clark and R. H. T. Conncell to value and appraise the personal estate of Col. Samuel Hambleton, deceased.

Extract from Bishop Doane's Address to the Convention of Albany, delivered in November last.

"And last, I come to speak of the beloved Bishop of Easton, whose name and memory must always be a precious heritage to this church. It would be hard to say just in what one department of our church's work, Bishop Lay will be most missed. As it is hard to say, just in what department of personal qualifications or ecclesiastical administration, he was most distinguished. Certainly it is safe to say, that few men in our day have left a stronger or more beautiful impression upon the church of his generation. Richly furnished, not only in theological learning, but in what are so fitly called the "Literæ Humaniores," he was a poet by nature, as that word means both wealth of imagination and creative power. An intense love for God and a deep sympathy with men were behind his clear, strong, and capable mind. His gifts were so proportionate that the whole outcome was delicately and absolutely balanced, and when he spoke or wrote, one felt a sense of refreshment as from a draught of the "well of English undefiled." It will be many a day before we see his like again, and I confess that one of the chief pleasures of our triennial gatherings in the House of Bishops was the opportunity for sweet counsel and close companionship with him."

The American Agriculturist for January, 1887.

The opening number for the year presents even a greater variety of matters pertaining to the Farm, Garden and Household than usual. Seth Green discourses upon the Diseases of Fish, Peter Henderson gives general, practical instructions for planting and sowing in warm climates; Prof. Bessey of Nebraska urges judicious tree planting all over the far West. J. M. Buckley, D. D., contrasts the relative advantages of winter life in the North and South. David W. Judd continues his editorial correspondence. There are a great number of other writers including Doctors Thurber and Hexamer, Colonel Weld, and other eminent authorities in their special departments. The Humbug columns of this number are unusually racy. The engravings, numbering 60, full-page and otherwise, present a great variety of scenes, plants, animals, farm contrivances, household conveniences, etc. The first of a series of articles on the A. B. C. of Agriculture begins with this number. They are calculated for all—young and old—who expect to own a country home, or who wish to become farmers, gardners, fruit growers or stock raisers. Price $1.50 per year, English or German; single numbers, 15 cents. Address Publishers American Agriculturist, 751 Broadway, New York.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.

As a war in Europe may be announced any day by cable most people are interested to know something about the great states which will first be involved. "Francis Joseph I., and the Austria-Hungary Empire" by George M. Towle, gives, in Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for January, a clear and well-written picture of one Power. "When Greek Meets Turk," by Ossanyan, tells the story of another. "Footprints of Washington in 1753," written and illustrated by Mrs. C. Ingersoll Gura, is an attractive article on our own land and its greatest man. "Ivan the Terrible" is a sketch of a strange ruler of Muscovy. "Elsa in Elderland" will charm the young. A new novel by Clarence M. Boutelle, "The Man Outside," opens remarkably well, seizing the reader's attention by the apparently strange ingratitude of the hero. Other stories will win readers, as will the account of "Mots; Its Monuments and Memories," and one of "Meissen, where Dresden China is Made." An article on the Spectrum, "Sunlight Unraveled, by Arthur V. Abbott, is science made as interesting as a novel. The whole January number of this periodical, with its attractive reading and charming pictures, is a prize for young and old.

Notice to Farmers.

The farmers of Talbot county are hereby called to meet at the Court House in Easton, Tuesday, 4th January proximo, at 11 A. M. for the purpose of selecting four delegates to represent the county at the State Farmers Association meeting, to be held in the city of Baltimore Wednesday, 12th January, 1887. Every citizen of the county engaged in farming is entitled to vote for delegates to the State Association, and is eligible for election as a delegate.

Each agricultural society, or regular organization of farmers, in a county is authorized to elect one delegate to the State association.

EDMUND L. F. HAMBLETON,
Vice-Pres. for Talbot county.

Sales and Earnest.

Honesty is the best policy. This original and profound remark comes up afresh to the view of our mind as we contemplate the rascalities which we have seen overtake the wicked. In literature, one may take freely of whatever he will, provided only he tells where he got it. This is certainly the ideal of liberality. Fancy a person taking his neighbor's chickens or firewood, and avoiding all punishment and even odium by simply putting on the goods a pleasant mailing, "From the Hencoop or Woodshed of John Smith." Yet in literature this is precisely the state of the case, and the curious part of it is that there are some literature-pirates who will not even do this,—who will not take even this slight trouble to preserve their character for honesty. Several amusing things of this sort have happened to matter originally published in the Home Weekly, two of which we will relate. An amateur at Easton, Md., who hides behind the imposing title of "The Collector Publishing Company," publishes a little sheet called "The Collector," devoted to stamps and bird-eggs and arrow-heads and things. In this was lately printed part of a certain article about "Anagrams," which appeared in the Home Weekly several weeks ago, and which for some reason—we must confess that we don't know what, for it was not of a very absorbing nature—was extensively copied by other papers. In it the writer had said that "moon-starer" makes "astronomer," which our youthful contemporary changed into the startling statement that "moon-starker" makes "astronomes."—Wilmington Home Weekly.

The above is rather sharp on the "moon-starker" of the Easton Ledger office that edits the offending "Collector." By the way, the Wilmington Home Weekly is one of the brighest literary papers on the STAR's exchange list, and is published at the very low price of 75 cents a year.

An "Ideal" Edition of Longfellow's Poems.

The expiration of copyright is at last bringing into really popular circulation the works of some of the most celebrated American authors, whose writings the high cost of monopoly has kept within the hands of a few. Alden, the Literary Revolution publisher, has recently brought out a number of the best books by Hawthorne, Prescott, Emerson, Poe, Cooper and others. He has now just published a very pretty edition of Longfellow's Poems so far as copyright has expired. It is in the form which he is making famous as the Ideal Edition—beautiful enough to be worthy of the name—the type being Long Primer, the printing and binding (cloth) in excellent taste. People who have been used to buying Longfellow might suppose the price of the handsome volume to be a dollar ar more—instead of which Alden asks only 25 cents for it! Postage, 5 cents extra, if by mail. Alden's last catalogue, 64 small quarto pages, which he sends free to anyone (his publications are not sold by Book-sellers, buy direct only), is a veritable literary wonder in its attractions. Address John B. Alden, Publisher, New York or Chicago.

Literary Note from The Century Co.

The sales of The Century Magazine have gone up over 80,000 copies in six weeks, since beginning the Life of Lincoln. A second edition of December will be issued on the 15th. A veteran New York publisher predicts that the permanent edition of the magazine will go beyond 300,000 before the completion of the Lincoln history. The January installment, which is said by the editors to be of most surpassing interest, occupies thirty pages of the magazine, and treats of Mr. Lincoln's settlement in Springfield; his practice of law in that city; the Harrison campaign; Lincoln's marriage; his friendship with the Speeds of Kentucky; the Shields duel; and the campaign of 1844. The illustrations are numerous, including portraits of Joshua Speed and wife, of Mrs. Lucy G. Speed, Milton Hay, President Harrison, General Shields, William H. Herndon (the law partner of Mr. Lincoln), and Mr. Lincoln himself, from the photograph presented by him to Mrs. Lucy G. Speed, in 1861. Pictures are given of the house where Lincoln was married, also the house where he lived after his marriage, etc., etc.

Choice New Music.

Among the new musical publications of the month, there are very many choice and acceptable pieces, both vocal and instrumental, and among them are the the following elegant editions, which have been carefully selected for special notice: "Les Volontaires," March, by Gobbaerts (40 cents); "An After Thought," beautiful song by Fallenius (30 cents); "Night Elopement," Galop, a piano duet by Pound (50 cents); "Privates who Fought in the Ranks," a capital song and chorus that will please the old Soldiers; it is by Bayrd (35); and "The Wheelman's Galop," piano piece by Spring (30); and "Plantation Echoes," a fantasie for piano, by Gilder (75), are also recommended. Any of these pieces sent to any address, on receipt of price, by the old and well-known house of O. Ditson & Co., Boston, Mass.

Sexton's Grand Fire Place Heaters.

RATCLIFFE, Oct. 14th, 1886.

MESSRS. NICHOLS & BROTHERS:—I received your letter, asking me to give you a candid opinion of the stoves you sold me last winter. I am glad to be able to inform you that I consider "The Sexton's Grand Fire Place Heaters" the very best fire-place stoves I have ever seen or used. The two you put up for me heated seven rooms delightfully, and as warm as any one would wish. They are easily managed, no gas escapes from them, and they are in every respect satisfactory. After having burned them hard from Nov. first to May 1, I find them in perfect condition, and need no repairs of and kind.

Very Respectfully Yours,
MRS. R. C. HOLLYDAY.

The Library Magazine.

John B. Alden, New York, publisher, advertised in the STAR, is the best magazine published in the country for the price. It contains no trash, all the articles are interesting and instructive; and are mostly copied from the leading English and American periodicals. Take it for 1887, and try it; we are sure you will like it.

Public Notice.

The Sickest Collector

Did not effect the large and magnificent stock of silverware for Christmas presents on the way to Shannahan & Wrightson's. But the single and double-barrel breech and muzzle-loading guns, pistols and ammunition are right there in stock, and can be bought cheap.

Personal.

Miss Edith Cormeen left here yesterday to visit Mrs. C. D. Reid, at Cold Spring, New York.

Mr. Edward M. Hambleton of the Easton High School, left here yesterday, to spend his Christmas vacation in Somerset.

Miss M. E. Wrightson has returned from Baltimore to resume her duties in the Easton High School on the 1st of January.

Mr. Arthur Goldsborough arrived here from New York on Friday to spend Christmas with his relative, Dr. J. M. H. Bateman.

Mr. Emory Stone, of New York, arrived here on Friday, to spend Christmas at the Easton hotel with his mother, brother and sister.

Rev. Dr. Jas. O. Barton, minister in charge of Trinity Cathedral, left here yesterday morning to visit his family at Princess Anne, Md.

Mr. Henry A. Bateman, of the Insurance bureau of the B. & O. railroad, arrived here from Baltimore on Friday, to spend Christmas with his father, Col. H. E. Bateman.

$100 Reward.

It has been asserted by other dealers that the candy I sold was impure, because it was below their price. I will give $100 reward for one pound out of the 2,500 pounds made and sold at my store on Dover street, during the holidays, that contains one ounce of adulteration; and I will pay one-half of the cost of analysis of any such impure pound of candy.

GOODEN,
Proprietor Dover st. Candy Depot.

Maryland State Farmers' Association.

The second annual meeting will be held in the city of Baltimore, on Wednesday, Jan. 12, 1887, beginning at 10.30 A. M.

By the Constitution, each agricultural society or regular organization of farmers in a county is authorized to elect one delegate to the Association.

Great Snow Storm.

While this is generally commented upon as being the most severe snap and heaviest snow storm ever known so early in the season, it is a conceded fact, that the finest stock of robes, blankets, horse covers, sleigh bells and skates ever shown in Easton can be found at Shannahan & Wrightson's.

Special Notice.

All persons indebted to the late firm of J. E. Shannahan, will please call and settle at once, as I am very anxious to square all individual accounts (to July 1st) as soon as possible, by so doing you will very greatly oblige yours &c.

4t J. E. SHANNAHAN.

Don't Forget It.

The early cold snap has caught many people without good stoves for a hard winter, so go at once to Shannahan & Wrightson, where there is a large stock of Cook Stoves, Ranges, and a full line of heaters now on hand at prices right down to hard pan figures.

THE GREAT SALISBURY FIRE,

October 17th, 1886.

To Messrs. FARREL & CO.,

No. 1.

BANK OF SALISBURY, MD.

"We found contents in as good order and condition as before the fire. Thanking you for such protection, we are,

"JOHN H. WHITE, Cashier."

No. 2.

R. R. JACKSON & CO.

"The safe stood a good test. We were heavily stocked with lumber (5,000,000 feet). We find the books and papers nicely preserved."

No. 3.

HUMPHREYS & TILGHMAN.

"The safe fell among our coal oil in the cellar. The cast iron wheels on it were melted. Insurance companies immediately ordered other books all preserved to our satisfaction."

No. 4.

F. C. & H. S. TODD.

"Our safe was for thirty hours lying in a perfect bed of fire. Our stove contained pile, varnishes, etc. The books were warped, but the writing all legible."

No. 5.

R. R. POWELL & CO.

"The safe was dug from the cellar thirty hours after the fire. We found contents in perfect condition."

No. 6.

C. R. RIDER, Postmaster.

"We have just been able to get out our safe more than three days after the fire. We find contents preserved in satisfactory condition."

Every Farrel & Herring's Safe preserved its contents, while some safes of other makers failed.

FARREL & CO.,

627 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.
